Rule 75—Substitute the following for rule 75 :—

"Where the property to be sold is a growing crop which can be sold to greater advantage in an unripe or unreaped state, it may be sold unreaped, and the purchaser shall be entitled to enter on the land to do all that is necessary for the purpose of tending and reaping it. "63C Whenever in any proceedings under the foregoing rules—
by the garnishee that the debt attached

"63D. After hearing such third person and any other person who may subsequently be ordered to appear, or in the case of such third or other person not appearing as ordered, the Court may pass such order as is provided in the foregoing rules, or make such other order as the Court shall think fit, upon such terms in all respects as may be just, interest, if any, of the garnishee in accordance with any order made under these rules shall be a valid discharge to him as against the judgment-debtor, and any other person ordered to appear under these rules for the amount paid or levied, although such order or the judgment may be set aside or reversed.

ACT NO. V OF 1908.*

RECEIVED THE G. G.'s ASSENT ON THE 21ST MARCH, 1908.

An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the procedure of the Courts of the Civil Judicature; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Interpretation of ...
 Code ... re present
 Act. ... amending
 ... observation

* For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see the Gazette of India, 1907, Pt. V, p. 179; for Report of Select Committee; see Ibid. 1908, Pt. V, p. 35 and for Proceedings in Council, see Ibid. 1907, Pt. VI, p. 135, Ibid. 1908, pp. 8, 12 and 212.

For portion of the Civil Procedure Code extended to the Presidency Small Cause Court, Calcutta, see Calcutta Gazette, 1910, Pt. I, p. 814, Schedule A to Rules of practice.

of Lord Chancellor, Lord Halsbury in Vagliano v. Bank of England, 60 L. J. Q. B. 145=64 L. T. 353=39 W. R. 657=(1891) A C 102 at p. 107, must be borne in mind. There he observed: "I am wholly unable to adopt the view that, where a statute is expressly said to codify the law, you are at liberty to go outside the Code, so created, because before the existence of that Code another law prevailed." In the same case at p 144, Lord Herschell also observed: "The proper course is in the first instance to examine the language of the statute and to ask, what is its natural meaning, uninfluenced by any considerations derived from the previous state of the law, and not to start with enquiry how the law previously stood and then assuming that it was probably intended to leave it unaltered, to see if the words of the enactment will bear an interpretation in conformity with this view. If a statute, intended to embody in a Code a particular branch of the law, is to be treated in this fashion, it appears to me that its utility will be almost destroyed and the very object with which it was enacted will be frustrated. The purpose of such a statute surely was that on any point specifically dealt with by it, the law should be ascertained by interpreting the language used instead of, as before, by roaming over

The Act has been extended by notification under ss 5 and 5A of the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874 (14 of 1874), to the following Scheduled Districts :—

- [illegible]

Under section 3 (3) ss. 38 to 42 and 156: declared in force in the Santhal Parganas and the rest of the Col. for the trial of suits referred to in section 10 of the Santhal Parganas Justice Regulation, 1873, (5 of 1893). Calcutta Gazette, 1909 Pt. I, p. 45 and the whole Code in the Angul District under s. 3 of the Angul Laws Regulation, 1913 (3 of 1913), B. & O. Code. Bal Code Sections 38, 39, 41 and 42. a vast number of authorities in order to discover what the law was, extracting it by a minute critical examination of the prior decisions, dependent upon a knowledge of the exact effect even of an obsolete proceeding such a demurrer to evidence. I am of course far from asserting that resort may never be had to the previous state of the law for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the provisions of the Code. If, for example, a provision be of doubtful import, such resort would be perfectly legitimate....." See also A. I. R. 1928 B. 35=30 Bom. L. R. 1; 23 C. 563=23 I. A. 18=6 M. L. J. 71; 14 A. 145; 22 B. 112; 29 C. 707=29 I. A. 196=6 C. W. N. 825.

In construing an Act of Parliament which is a consolidating Act and does not profess to amend or alter the provisions of the Acts, consolidated, prima facie the same effect ought to be given to its provisions as was given to those of the Act for which it was substituted. Mitchell v Simpson, 25 Q. B. D. 183. In Bedgett, Cooper v. Adams, (1894) 2 Ch. 557 at p. 561. Chitty J said: "I referred yesterday to the Lord Chancellor's observations in Bank of England v. Voglono (1891) A. C. 144. with reference to the Bills of Exchange Act, codifying the law, the proper rule of interpretation is to read the Act and to interpret its provisions without reference to previous decisions or to previous legislation, that being a prima facie rule only to which there would be reasonable exceptions. As the Lord Chancellor said: "I am of course far from asserting that resort may never be had to the previous state of the law for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the provisions of the Code." Then he gives some examples, which I need not cite at length. But I have here to deal, not with an Act of Parliament codifying the law, but with an Act to amend and to consolidate the law, and therefore it is I say those observations do not apply, and I think it is legitimate in the interpretation of the sections in this amending and consolidating Act to refer to the previous state of the law for the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the Legislature."

Construction Imposed by statutes—When a clause in an Act which has received a judicial interpretation is re-enacted in the same terms, the Legislature is deemed to have adopted that interpretation. Campbell, Ex parte In re, 5 L. R. Ch. 703=23 L. T. 289=18 W. R. 1056; Balmukund Dube, In the goods of A. I. R. 1930 All. 82=126 Ind. Cas. 357. The Legislature must be presumed to have known the interpretation put by the Courts and others on the terms of a statute and when a provision of an earlier statute is re-enacted in practically the same language in a later statute, it is legislative recognition of the correctness of the earlier interpretation. Porneshwar v. Emperor, 3 Pat. L. J. 537=19 Cr. L. J. 281=4 Pat. L. W. 152; Nogendra v. Peary, 21 C. L. J. 605=20 C. W. N. 312. "When construction placed upon the provisions of the Code has been reproduced by the Legislature is successive Codes."

that this constitutes a legislative affirmation

Ishan v. Safatull, J. 545=A. I. R. 1927 All. 369;
H. L. Cas. 480; Bartlow v. Zeal, 15 Q. B. D. 405; Avery v. Wood, (1891) 3 Ch. 118.

Retrospective Operation of Code—Every statute which takes away and impairs vested rights must not be presumed to have a retrospective operation, unless the language clearly supports a contrary construction. 36 C. L. J. 132; 47 C. 1108=24 C. W. N. 1011=58 Ind. Cas. 327. This rule is based on the maxim Novus Constitutio futuris formam imponere debet non prateritis (A new rule ought to be prospective, not retrospective, in its operation) Moon v. Durden 2 F. R. 118.

no vested right is mere procedure. A. I.

R. 1927 All. 657 ; see also 17 C. L. J. 316=17 C. W. N. 980 ; 30 C. W. N. 18. The general principle, indeed, seems to be that alterations in the procedure are always retrospective, unless there be some good reason against it. Per Lord Blackburn in Gardner v. Lucas, 3 App. Cas. 603 ; Kimbray v. Draper L. R. 3 Q. B. 160. But a new procedure would be presumably inapplicable, when its application would prejudice rights established under the old. Phoenix Bessemer Co., Ex p. 45 L. J. Ch. 11. A statute which affects only the procedure would apply to pending actions. Jaga Mohan v. Behari, 39 C. W. N. 1006. The general rule is well-established that an amendment of the Act as it existed at the time the Act as it existed at the time I. R. 1935 Bom. 257. But it can not be laid down that a litigant has a vested right to the continuance of the tribunal before which he originally seeks his relief. When an Act or Regulation giving a special jurisdiction is repealed, parties cannot claim as of right that that jurisdiction must continue under the new Act or Regulation. 1935 A. L. J. 18.

Preamble.—The preamble is undoubtedly a part of the Act. Salked v. Johnson, 2 Ex. 283. The meaning and effect of a preamble of a Code must be understood to overlie the whole Act, giving colour to and controlling its provisions, and by showing the intention of the Legislature supplying pro tanto the rule for interpretation of these provisions. 2 A. 74 (99).

Other Rules of Interpretation.—It is not allowable, says Vattel, to interpret what has no need of interpretation. (Law of N. S. 23). Absoluta sententia expositione no indiget (2 Inst. 533). The Legislature must be intended to mean what it has plainly expressed, and consequently there is no room for construction. Per Parke J in R. v. Banbury, A. & E. 142. So a Court is bound to construe a section in a statute according to the plain meaning of the language used, unless it finds, either in the section itself or in any part of the statute, anything that will either modify, or qualify or alter the statutory language even if the result of such construction leads to anomalies or be productive even by absurdity. 27 C. 11=3 C. W. N. 660. If the language admits of no doubt or secondary meaning, it is to be obeyed. 32 C. W. N. 1136=A. I. R. 1919 Cal. 141. Where there is a positive enactment of the Indian Legislature the proper course is to examine the language of statute and to ascertain its proper meaning, uninfluenced by any consideration derived from the previous state of the law or of the English law upon which it is founded. Code—The method of construction properly applicable to an Act divided into sections and rules, as the C. P. Code is, that the sections lay down general principles and the rules provide the means by which they can be applied, and they cannot be otherwise applied, the result is that the rules restrict the provisions contained in the sections 20 Ind. Cas 39=18 C. L. J 613. The body of the Code is fundamental and is unalterable except by the Legislature ; the rules are concerned with details and machinery and can be more readily altered. The body of the Code creates jurisdiction while the rules indicate the mode in which it is to be exercised. It follows that the body of the Code is expressed in more general terms but it has to be read in conjunction with the more particular provisions of the Rules 43 C. 148 = 13 Ind. Cas 129 ; see also 44 C. 929=21 C. W. N. 877=41 Ind. Cas. 523. Decree—Final decree means decree which settles all disputed questions between parties. A decree modified in a review must be considered as the final decree. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 323=131 Ind. Cas. 258. Decision finally determining rights of parties, not finally drawn up is still a decree. 26 N. L. R. 24=127 Ind. Cas. 887=Ind. Rul. (1930) Nag. 359. To be appealable an order under s. 47 must be of such a nature as to come within the word "decree" as defined by s. 2 (2) A. I. R. 1927 All. 208=99 Ind. Cas. 455. Where a Court, before deciding a case finally order the names of a certain defendants to be struck off from the record on the ground that the plaintiff made out no cause of action against them, such order is tantamount to a dismissal of the case against those defendants, and the plaintiff can treat the order as a decree. 8 Ind. Cas. 409. An order in a partition suit declaring the specific right of the parties and the property to be partitioned is a decree. 23 C. 279. The definition of decree is not intended to include an interlocutory decision in ordinary suit upon each and every point in controversy between the parties, even in those cases, where the decision upon any such question is embodied in a separate and distinct order passed during the pendency of the proceedings. An order cannot be regarded as a decree unless it is formally drawn up as such or at all events, unless it could be so drawn up. A 'preliminary decree' properly understood is passed only in those cases in which the Court has first to adjudicate upon the rights of the parties and has then to stay its hand for the time being until it is in a position to pass a final decree in the suit. 115 P. L. R. 1911; see also 82 P. R. 1911. "Decree" includes Revenue Court decree. A. I. R. 1925 All. 264=85 Ind. Cas. 660. Decision delivered in default of plaintiff is not a decree. 85 Ind. Cas. 393=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 485=28 Q. C. 124.

The question whether an adjudication is an order or decree to be tested not by general principles but by the expressions of the Code and these words are to be construed in their plain and obvious sense; only such orders of dismissal for default as are treated as such by the Code itself are excluded from the definition. 39 C. L. J. 399=51 C. 715=28 C. W. N. 795=83 Ind. Cas. 220. If an order rejecting the claim of a person to be the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff is to have the character of a decree it must conclusively determined the right of the parties to the suit. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 813=47 M. L. J. 370=1924 M. W. N. 763=20 Ind. Cas. 942.

This term must not be understood as relating solely to the merits of the case. It would cover any question relating to the character and status of the party and to other matters which are necessary for the determination of the suit. It does not include an order of institution of suit itself. T. 447=29 Ind. Cas. 393.

Mere use by Court of form for final decree for partition does not make it a final decree. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 206=13 N. L. J. 83=26 N. L. R. 166=122 Ind. Cas. 441. Where in a suit by a mortgagee for a final decree debarring the mortgagor from redeeming the mortgaged land the Court merely refuses to pass a final decree in terms of the preliminary decree, it is doubtful whether it is final order against which an appeal can lie. Decree holder.—It is not necessary that a decree-holder in a decree for the sale of immovable property should necessarily have been the plaintiff in the case. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 492=116 Ind. Cas. 212. Decree-holder does not include an attaching creditor. 80 Ind. Cas. 947=A. I. R. 1925 All. 123. Plaintiff got decree for specific performance of agreement to sell against defendant but did not want to execute the decree. Legal representatives.—A person who is entitled to the possession of the assets of the deceased becomes legal representative irrespective of whether he is actually in possession or not. For the purpose of the suit it is sufficient if he is a person on whom the estate would devolve. The question whether he is in actual possession or not can be determined in execution proceeding. 27 N. L. R. 247=A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 173=134 Ind. Cas. 862. A decree for mesne profits may be passed jointly and severally against all the trespassers who may have jointly kept the plaintiffs out of possession for any particular period, leaving them to have their respective rights adjusted in a separate suit for contribution; or the respective liabilities of such trespassers may be ascertained in the plaintiff's suit against them, and a decree on the basis of such several liabilities may be passed as against the respective trespassers in plaintiff's favour. 59 C. 859=55 C. Profits always means the difference between the amount realised and the expenses incurred in realising it and this rule applies even to cases of mesne profits. In India 10 per cent. is the customary allowance for mesne profits and it is unnecessary for defendant to adduce evidence on this. Secretary of State v. Saroj Kumar, 62 C. 499=62 I. A. 53=A. L. (2) "Revenue Court" in sub-section (1) means a Court having jurisdiction under any local law to entertain suits or other proceedings relating to the rent, revenue or profits of land used for agricultural purposes, but does not include a Civil Court having original jurisdiction under this Code to try such suits or proceedings as being suits or proceedings of a civil nature.

A District Munsiff's Court in executing a decree of the Madras Small Cause Court in respect of the movable property exercises its powers not as a Small Cause Court but as a Court of original jurisdiction, and the rules applicable to proceedings in execution of an original decree are applicable to the execution proceedings of the Small Cause decree so transferred to the original side of the Court. 90 Ind. Scope.—The Scope of the section is very vast, including even what are known as rent suits or suits cognizable by the Revenue Courts, but for the circumstances that such suits, though civil in their nature, are expressly excluded from the jurisdiction of Civil Courts, by dint of some Special Statutes 12 A. 409 (F. B). In suits relating purely to rituals or religious observances, the Civil Courts have no jurisdiction ; but the Courts are bound to enquire into the questions of religion or ritual, which are material for determining civil rights in dispute between the parties. 30 M. 15=16 M. A. 293 (F. B.)=1932 A. L. J. 437; 11 Rang. 125=A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 124. The right of conscience, i. e., the right of individual members of a community to hold certain religious beliefs and opinions, is of course a religious one and one that cannot be called in question or adjudicated upon in the Civil Court, and it is not covered by the explanation of s 9, C. P. Code. But the right to remain in the community or to exercise rights and privileges of the members of the community, is of course a civil one, and one that must be decided by the Civil Court when it is called in question. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 156=157 Ind. Cas. 302. Where a legal right exists and its infringement is alleged, a cause of action is disclosed and unless there is a bar to the entertainment of such a suit the ordinary Civil Courts are bound to entertain it. The words "expressly barred" in s 9 mean barred by any enactment for the time being in force. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 96=11 O. W. N. 1435=152 Ind. Cas. 861. Suits are of civil nature if they are suits between subject and subject dealing with civil rights. A suit for a declaration that the assessment of town tax by a Panchayat is illegal and ultra vires is not between subject and subject but between a subject and a branch of a Local Self Government and it does not deal with civil rights but it deals with a question to taxation, and as such is not a suit of civil nature and Civil Court has no jurisdiction in a suit of that nature. A. I. R. 1936 All. 117=1936 A. L. J. 33=159 Ind. Cas. 897.

No jurisdiction in caste question—A caste is a social combination, the members of which are entitled by birth, not by enrolment. Its rules consist partly of resolutions passed from time to time, but for the most part of usages handed down from generation to generation. The caste is not a religious body, though its usages, like all other Hindu usages, are based on religious feelings. In religious matters, strictly so called, the members of the caste are guided by their religious preceptors and their spiritual heads. In social matters they lay down their own laws. Caste is not a corporation or partnership. Of course a caste, regarded as a social organism, is very different from a club, but both institutions are unincorporated aggregates of individuals, associated together for purposes other than trade, and the legal consequences which flow from the position must apply to both bodies. 56 B. 242=34 Bom. L. R. 313=137 Ind. Cas. 461=A. I. R. 1932 B. 122=A. I. R. 1932 B. 342 (F. B.). A caste question is a question which relates to matters which affect internal autonomy of the caste and its social relations. Ibid. The Hindu caste is unique aggregation so wholly unknown to the English law that English decision concerning English Corporations and partnership tend rather to confusion than to guidance upon matters relating to caste. Where according to well-established principles certain questions have been removed from the jurisdiction of the Court, they can not be brought within the jurisdiction, on the plea that the Court has inherent jurisdiction to do what justice requires for the parties upon it. 11 Bom. L. R. 1014=34 B. 467=4 Ind. Cas. 108. The recognition by Courts of Hindu castes as distinct corporation with exclusive legal rights for certain purposes ought not to be extended to Christian communities. 39 M. 1059=30 M. L. 10. [S. 12.] No Court shall proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter in issue is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit stay of suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title where such suit is pending in the same or any other Court in British India having jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed, [or in any Court beyond the limits of British India established] or continued by the Governor-General in Council and having like jurisdiction, or before His Majesty in Council.

Explanation.—The pendency of a suit in a foreign Court does not preclude the Courts in British India from trying a suit founded on the same cause of action.

Amendment in Burma.—The words within brackets has been omitted in Burma by G. B. Order of 1937. In Burma substitute the words "British India" by "British Burma."—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope—The provisions of the section leave no discretion to the Courts in respect of the stay of suits when circumstances are such as to invoke the operation of the section. 36 C. W. N. 667=140 Ind. Cas. 135=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 751. One test of the applicability of this section to a particular case is whether on the final decision being reached in the previous suit such decision would operate as res judicata in the subsequent suit. Ibid. A suit must commence with a plaint. 22 M. 256. This section is inapplicable.

stantially in issue in a previously instituted in the same or any other Court in British the relief claimed. 110 Ind. Cas. 418;

A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 113=26 L. W. 241=103 Ind. Cas. 274. This section is not applicable where the parties are not the same but the question is the same. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321=68 Ind. Cas. 167; 15 L. W. 667; 61 Ind. Cas. 830. The three essential conditions that are necessary for bringing into operation s. 10 are : (1) that the matter in issue in the second suit is directly and substantially in issue in the previously instituted suit ; (2) that the parties in the two suits are the same, and (3) that the Court in which the first suit is instituted, is a Court of competent jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed in the subsequently instituted suit. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 887=60 C 1096. Under section 10 it is mandatory upon the Court not to proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter in issue is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit, between the same parties, in another Court having jurisdiction to grant relief. The mere addition of prayers for a declaration that certain interlocutory order in the first suit are illegal and for an injunction restraining defendant from proceeding with the first suit, cannot possibly change the character of the suit, which could otherwise be indetical for the purpose of section 10. In endeavouring to arrive at a correct decision as to whether the subsequent decision as to whether the subsequent suit is parallel to the previous suit, one must have regard to the position of affairs at the time when each of the suit was respectively instituted and further what would be the position of affairs when both the suits have been tried and finally decided. The real criterion ought to be whether, if the first suit had been determined and then the second one started, the matter in the second suit might be regarded as res judicata by reason of the decision in the first. Durga v. Kanti, 38 C W. N. 818=61 C. 670. It is hardly open to a party to blow hot and cold and ask the Court not to inquire into an application filed by such party until a previous suit in respect of the same subject-matter filed by him decided in another Court. A. I. R. 1934 Sind 38=149 Ind. Cas. 1169. When stay is asked in a criminal proceeding the principle of s. 10 may well be applied. Kalka v. Kishor, 151 Ind Cas. 897=A. L. R. 1934 All 454=1934 A. L. J. 342=A. I. R. 1934 All. 131. If two Courts have concurrent jurisdiction, the institution of proceedings by one party in one Court, cannot in law, prevent the other party from taking proceedings with respect to the same subject-matter in the other Court, and all that can be done in such a case is to stay proceedings in one of the Courts on the principle of s. 10, in order to avoid multiplicity of litigation. Eckholz v. Amar, 157 Ind Cas 796=A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 76=A. L. R. 1935 Lah. 260 ; see also A. I. R. 1933 Sind 255 The date of presentation of the plaint, and not the date of its admission is the date of institution for purposes of s. 10, C. P. Code. Hurendra Nath v. Dheerendra, 62 C. 1115. For application of s. 10, the entire matter in the subsequent suit must be in issue in the previous suit and it is not sufficient that there should be one matter in issue in common in both the suits. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 112=155 Ind. Cas. 1002=1935 M. W. N. 123=41 L. W. 449. As regards the application of this section when a partition proceeding is pending in Revenue Court vide 161 Ind. Section 10 does not make the trial of the latter suit without jurisdiction unless it is between parties under whom the parties in the earlier suit claim litigations under the same title. 31 Ind. Where same matter is in issue in suit in another Court and appeal in High Court between same parties, the High Court can order stay. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 692=95 Ind. Cas. 958.

Time for stay.—The Court has power, generally to stay such second suit at any stage at which it seems expedient so to do, and this even before the suit proceeds to "trial", in the strict sense of the term. However, it is always expedient to stay or arrest altogether the second suit at the earliest possible moment. Durga v. Kantli, 61 C. 670=38 C. W. N. 818.

Principle—The rule of res judicata is founded on ancient precedent and is dictated by wisdom which is for all time 43 L. A. 91=43 C. 694=20 C. W. N. 738 (744). "It hath been well said" declared Lord Coke, interest rei publicae ut sit finis litium otherwise great oppression might be done under colour and pretence of law," Pridde v Naffer, 6 Coke, 9A. Though the rule of the Code may be traced to English source, it embodies a doctrine in no way opposed to the spirit of the law as expounded by the Hindu commentators Vijnanesvara and Nilkantha, who include the plea of former judgment among those allowed by law, each citing for his purpose the fact of Kut—a word which denotes the plea; "If a person though defeated, at the first trial, is again brought before the court, he is not to be defeated formerly." This is called the rule by the Courts of variations of form, but by matter of substance within the limits allowed by law. 43 L. A. 91=43 C. 694=20 C. W. N. 738 (744).

The following rule was laid down by Sir William De Grey C. J in the Dutchess of Kingston's case, 20 How St Tr 355 (357). "As a general principle, a transaction between two parties, in a judicial proceeding, ought not to be binding upon a third; for it would be unjust to bind any person who could not be admitted to make a defence or to examine witnesses, or to appeal from a judgment he might think erroneous; and therefore the depositions of witnesses in another cause in proof of a fact the verdict of a jury in finding the fact, and the judgment of the Court upon the facts found, although evidence against the parties, and all claiming under them, are not, in general, to be used to the prejudice of strangers. From the variety of cases relating to judgments being given in evidence in civil suits, these two deductions seem to follow as generally true; first, that the judgment of a Court of concurrent jurisdiction directly upon this point, is a plea, a bar, or as evidence conclusive, between the same parties, upon the same matter, directly in question in another Court; secondly, that the judgment of a Court of exclusive jurisdiction, directly upon the point, is, in like manner, conclusive upon the same matter, between the same parties coming incidentally in question in another Court for a different purpose. But neither the judgment of a concurrent or exclusive jurisdiction is evidence of any matter incidentally cognizable, nor of any matter to be inferred by argument from the judgment." "It" said Lord Kenyon C. J. in Great Head v. Bramley, 7 T. R 456, "an action be brought and the merits of the question be discussed between the parties, and a final judgment obtained by either, the parties are concluded, and cannot canvass the same question again in another action, although perhaps some objection or argument might have been urged upon the first trial, which would have led to a different judgment." The same learned Judge said in Marriott v Hampton, 7 T. R 269: "If this action could be maintained I knew not what cause of action could ever be at rest. After recovering by process, of law there must be an end of litigation, otherwise there would be no security for any person." A party who has lost in one Court can not be permitted to aid causes of action or prayers for reliefs in another suit for the purpose of swelling the valuation of his suit and claim that the decision in the former suit does not operate as res judicata. But if it appears that his subsequent suit proceeded upon a cause of action which did not exist at the date of the previous suit, or if that cause of action existed it was one which he could not have availed of at that time, having regard to the nature of the suit as it then was, the fact that he had not instituted a suit embracing the entire cause of action with the result that his suit was of a higher value would justify him in claiming that the decision in the earlier suit was not operative as res judicata. If it is possible to treat the entire cause of action upon which the latter suit is founded as divisible and if in the earlier suit one of the component parts of the cause of action was relied upon, then the previous decision will stand as a bar to the extent of the matter involved in the earlier suit. A. I. R. 1935 Cal 792 It is a principle in every system of jurisprudence that there should be finality in litigation. A judgment not appealed from binds the parties and privies for all time by what appears upon its face; and if it can be shown that in the course of the action that resulted in the judgment a certain definite and material issue was raised by the parties and determined by the court, or by consent, it would be contrary to public policy to allow the same to be reopened.

Scope of the Section.—Section 11 is not applicable when the previous suit was not dismissed on merits, but had abated. 12 Lah. 275=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 79=131 Ind. Cas. 98. in a subsequent suit. 32 P. L. R. 815. This section does not in terms apply to subsequent proceedings in the same suit. Such proceedings are only a part of the original proceedings and it cannot be said that the matter was decided either specifically or by implication in a previous suit. The rule of res judicata has been applied to subsequent proceedings when the point raised in the subsequent proceedings were raised in the earlier proceedings and specifically decided. Application of the principle of res judicata to appeals—In Lushmi v. Bhullar, A. I. R. 1917 Lah. 289=8 Lah. 384=104 Ind. Cas. 849 (F. B.) Tekchand J. observed: "It must therefore be settled at the very outset whether s. 11 applies to appeals or whether its operation is limited only to suits as meaning proceedings in an action in Courts of the first instance as distinguished from proceedings in appellate Courts. After a careful examination of the section I have reached the conclusion that it applies to suits only and not to appeals. It is no doubt true that in the body of the Civil Procedure Code, as well as in other enactments, the word 'suit' is often used as including proceedings before the appellate Court, and also other proceedings of civil nature. But having regard to the phraseology used in s. 11, and more particularly to Expl. II, which, it might be noted, was for the first time added in 1908, the word 'Court' as used in this section can but mean the trial Court, and 'suit' signifies proceedings beginning with the plaint and ending with the decree in that Court. It seems to me that no other interpretation is possible. If the word 'suit' is to be taken as including 'appeal', the section becomes inconsistent with Expl. II.....If then s. 11 does not in terms apply to appeals, we have to fall back upon the general principles of the rule of res judicata and to see if there is anything in those principles which debars the appellate Court from hearing and deciding an issue under circumstances such as those described in the question. It is, however, necessary to bear in mind that in applying matter of substance within the limits allowed by law.' In England, the same rule was laid down by Butt M. R. In Re May (28 Ch. D. 516). When he said that the doctrine of res judicata was not a technical doctrine, but was very substantial one. So also in Roman Law, as administered by the Praetors, the 'exceptio res judicata' was among the 'equitable grounds' on which the defendant was allowed to render ineffectual an action ipso jure (see Bown's Legal Maxim, Ninth Edition, page 225). In India, some Judges have gone to the extent of laying down that in interpreting the sections of the Civil Procedure Code relating to res judicata, the fundamental principle of the rule embodied in it should not be ignored: [per Mahmood J. in Sila Ram v. Amir Begam, (8 A. 324) and per West J. in Bholabai v. Adusang (9 B. 75 at p. 81). What we have therefore, to do, is to ascertain the raison d'être of the doctrine and then to apply it to the facts of a particular case unfettered by any technicalities. It is the spirit of the law and not its letter which is to be the governing factor, the soul of the rule rather than its outward form.

"Let us see what are the fundamental principles of res judicata and how do they affect the present case. It has already been indicated that the foundation of the rule, as understood both by ancient and modern lawyers is that a question must be once fairly and finally tried by a competent Court and after this has been done all further litigation about it should be concluded for ever between the parties. The maxim is, as has been stated above that, no one shall be vexed twice over the same matter." This, to my mind, presupposes that the issue has been once fairly and finally tried in a former litigation, which was independent of the proceedings in which the same matter is again in dispute. The essence of the rule seems to me to be that the two proceedings should be so independent of each other that the trial of the same matter be deferred until the trial of it will be a travesty of justice to stifle the hearing of the appeal against such a judgment on the ground that the findings contained in it operate as res judicata. In such a case there can be no question of the successful party being 'vexed twice' over the same matter, nor does the hearing of the appeal in any way militate against any rule of public policy, which requires that there must be an end of the litigation. There is not only nothing here to attract the principles underlying the rule of res judicata,

There is no question of res judicata where the judgment has been delivered by a Court not competent to deliver it affecting the subject-matter of the suit. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 517. There is a distinction between the inherent want of jurisdiction in a Court and want of jurisdiction on grounds which have to be determined by the Court itself. The first makes the decree a nullity which can be ignored and need not be set aside. The second does not make the decree a nullity but only voidable; such a decree can be set aside by adopting the proper procedure, but cannot be collaterally impeached. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 835=67 A. Explanation V.—To support a plea of res judicata it is not enough that the parties to both the suits are the same and that the same matter is in issue. The matter must have been heard and finally decided in the previous suit. Where a declaration of title in a suit is claimed merely as a step towards the decree sought, namely, a decree for possession, and the suit with regard to the relief for possession is dismissed on the ground of limitation and no finding is given on the question of title, the mere fact that the relief as to declaration has not been granted will not, under Exp. The test of carrying on business is not the continuity or intermittency of the business but the fact of owning interest in the business and receiving profits. The expression "carrying on business" is used as distinct from personally working; it does not necessarily involve personal presence or personal effort. It only means having an interest in a business, at that place, a voice in what it is done, a share in the gain or loss, and some control, if not over the actual method of working, at any rate upon the existence of the business. 28 N. Leave of the Court.—Clause (b) provides that a suit may be instituted within the local limits of whose jurisdiction each of the defendants, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually carries on business, and secondly in the alternative, within the limits of whose jurisdiction any of the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit, carries on business, provided that in such a case either the leave of the Court is given or a defendant who does not carry on business acquiesces in the suit being brought. Cas. 314=20 O. C. 350. Section 24 (4) does not apply to cases transferred from Small Causes Court to Honorary Munsiff's Court. Decrees passed by latter Court are therefore appealable. 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 27; 54 Ind. Cas. 435. Section 16, Small Causes Courts Act is no bar to the exercise of powers of transfer of the District Judge under s. 24, C. P. Code, A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 901; see also 151 Ind. Cas. 385=A. I. R. 1934 All. 530. Where Small Cause Court finding question of title involved, sends a case to District Judge and the latter transfers the same to a Munsiff, the District Judge's order of transfer is under s. 23, Provincial Small Causes Courts Act and not under s. 24, C. P. Code. An appeal therefore, lay from the decision 64 Ind. Cas. 335; see also 11 Ind. Cas. 127=26 A. L. J. 772=50 A. 810=A. I. R. 1929 A. 50. The Small Cause Court does not cease to exist if at any time there should be no Judge to preside over it. A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 561=26 P. L. R. 308=88 Ind. Cas. 139. Where a suit instituted in the Court of Small Cause is transferred to the regular side, the Judge trying the suit has the same powers as the Small Cause Court possessed in the matter of awarding compensation under s. 35 A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 133=120 Ind. Cas. 412. Order of transfer passed under sub-clause (4) cannot invest Court not having Small Cause jurisdiction with such jurisdiction nor could such an order enable a Judge having Small Cause jurisdiction up to a particular limit to try suit exceeding that limit as a Small Cause suit. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 513=56 M. L. J. 649=29 L. W. 810=121 Ind. Cas. 481. Where a Small Cause suit is transferred to a Court which is not invested with any Small Cause jurisdiction, the latter Court is to be deemed for the purpose of the transferred suit to be a Court of Small Causes. 55 M. 960=1932 M. W. N. 763=36 L. W. 479=63 M. L. J. 689=139 Ind. Cas. 477=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 683=A. L. R. 1932 Mad. 1213; 135 Ind. Cas. 402=27 N. L. R. 307=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 49=A. L. R. 1932 Nag. 15, 1933 A. L. Section 24 (4) makes no reference to the Court to which a case is transferred from a Small Cause Court being invested with Small Cause powers upto any particular extent or indeed with Small Cause Court powers at all. The terms of the section appear rather to be intended to confer the powers of a Small Cause Court upon the trying Court for that particular case irrespective of the powers with which the Court is invested. Sub-section (4) gives the power to transfer a suit from a Small Cause Court to a regular Court irrespective of the Small Cause Court powers of the Court to which the suit is transferred, provided the suit to be transferred is within the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court to which the transfer is to be made. Per Baker J. in 56 B. 387=34 Bom. L. R. 931=139 Ind. Cas. 194=A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 486=A. L. R. 1932 Bom. 681. Sub-clause (4) does not deal with transfers to a Court already invested with Small Cause powers. The word "deemed" seems to indicate that it deals with transfers to a Court without such powers. Therefore where a suit is transferred to a Small Cause Court, there is nothing in the sub-section which would prevent the suit being transferred should be tried as Small Cause suit. 55 M. 960=1932 M. W. N. 763=36 L. W. 479=63 M. L. J. 689=139 Ind. Cas. 477=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 683=135 Ind. Cas. 402=27 N. L. R. 307=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 49=A. L. R. 1932 Nag. 15, 1933 A. L. J. 1196=A. I. R. 1933 All. 662=145 Ind. Cas. 701; A. I. R. 1935 All. 690=1935 A. L. J. 511=157 Ind. Cas. 210; A. I. R. 1935 All. 765; A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 42=31 N. L. R. 170; A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 883. Therefore, a Court of Small Causes which has been invested with Small Cause Court powers has been transferred from the District and there is no other officer possessing such power there would be no Court from which the District Court can under s. 24 transfer the case to an ordinary Civil Court. The contingency where no Court or officer invested with Small Cause Court powers exists is provided for in s. 35 of the Provincial Small Causes Courts Act. 54 A. 171=A. I. R. 1931 All. 574=136 Ind. Revision.—High Court in its general powers of superintendence can direct transfer of a case where District Judge has refused to exercise that power under s. 24. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 326—87 Ind. The High Court has jurisdiction to make an order of transfer under s. 24 and not being a 'judgment' either under the Code or under any other "express enactment" an order of transfer made under s. 24 is not subject to appeal. 25. [Ss. 20—21.] (1) Where any party to a suit, appeal or other proceeding pending in a High Court presided over by a single Judge objects to its being heard by him and the Judge is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for the objection, he shall make a report to the "Provincial Government,"* who may, by notification in the official Gazette* transfer such suit, appeal or proceeding to any other High Court.

(2) The law applicable to any suit, appeal or proceeding so transferred shall be the law which the Court in which the suit, appeal or proceeding was originally instituted ought to have applied to such case:

"Provided that no suit, appeal or proceeding shall be transferred to a High Court without the consent of the Provincial Government of the Province in which that High Court has its principal seat".†

Scope.—Where Governor-General in Council transfers a case to High Court on its original side, appeal lies to appellate side of the High Court. A. I. R. 1921 Mad. 687=(1922) M. W. N. 830.

SUMMONS AND DISCOVERY.

27. [S. 64.] Where a suit has been duly instituted, a summons may be issued to the defendant to appear and answer the claim and may be served in manner prescribed.

Scope.—A suit was instituted on the last day for presentation Act. The plaint was insufficiently stamped having been put in within the time fixed by the Court after on an application for review, the order of dismissal

Service of summons where defendant resides in another Province.

28. [S. 85.] (1) A summons may be sent for service in another Province to such Court and in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

(2) The Court to which summons is sent shall, upon receipt thereof, proceed as if it had been issued by such Court and shall then return the summons to the Court of issue together with the record (if any) of its proceedings with regard thereto.

Amendment in Burma.—This section has been omitted in Burma by Government of Burma (Adaptation of Laws) Order, 1937.

29. [S. 85OA.] Summonses issued by any Civil or Revenue Court situate beyond the limits of British India may be sent to the Courts in British India and served as if they had been issued by such Courts :

JUDGMENT AND DECREE.

33. [S. 198.] The Court, after the case has been heard, shall pronounce judgment, and on such judgment a decree shall follow.

COSTS.

Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, and to the provisions of any law for the time being in force, the costs of and incident to all suits shall be in the discretion of the Court, and the Court shall have full power to determine by whom or out of what property and to what extent such costs are to be paid, and to give all necessary directions for the purposes aforesaid. The fact that the Court has no jurisdiction to try the suit shall be no bar to the exercise of such powers.

(2) Where the Court directs that any costs shall not follow the event, the Court shall state its reasons in writing.

(3) The Court may give interest on costs at any rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and such interest shall be added to the costs and shall be recoverable as such.

Scope of the section.—The word "may" in this section does not mean that the Court which passed the decree is bound to execute the decree. It is a discretionary power. Clause (b).—Where the condition justifying transfer is that set out in s. 39, sub-section (b), the intention to execute against the judgment-debtor who satisfies that condition. To hold that a judgment-creditor may obtain an order for transfer on the ground that one judgment-debtor has no property within the local limits of the Court which passed the decree, and has property within the local jurisdiction of another Court, and may then execute the decree through such other Court not against that judgment debtor but against another judgment-debtor who does not fulfil that condition is absurd. It is not necessary in such a case to have a fresh application for execution before the Court where immovable property sought to be sold in execution is situate. Ibid. The Court has jurisdiction to execute its decree and at the same time send it to another Court to execute it simultaneously. And its order in executing such decree shall be subject to the same rules in respect of appeal as if the decree had been passed by itself.

Scope.—The expression "powers in executing such decree" in s. 42 means "powers in carrying out the purpose of executing such decree". According to s. 42, Civil Procedure Code the latter Court has generally the same powers as the former in the matter of execution of decrees and in the absence of any specific provision to the contrary it seems anomalous to hold that while the Court passing the decree is entitled to refuse to execute a decree which is a nullity, the Court to which the decree is transferred for execution cannot take notice of such an objection. A Court to which a decree is transferred for execution can entertain such an objection. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 117=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 702; 152 Ind. Cas. 135=35 P. L. R. 482=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 652. But it is only the Court which has passed the decree that is competent to grant a certificate of non-satisfaction to the decree-holder in another Court and the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution by means of a certificate of non-satisfaction is not competent to grant such a certificate. Section 42 does not empower the Court to which a decree is sent for execution to pass an order which has the effect of amending, altering, or varying the decree itself. An order for payment of a decree by instalments, which is made after the decree has been passed, undoubtedly has the effect of altering or varying the terms of the original decree, and consequently it is not within the competence of the transferee Court to make such an order. difficulty arose from the fact that under the British Act reciprocity could not be applied to judgments of "Superior Courts" and most of the British Indian Courts of unlimited civil jurisdiction would not have come within the meaning of the term "Superior Courts" as used in that Act. No amendment of the Indian Bill could have altered that position, and for this reason it was decided to drop the Bill. The position has now been altered by the passing of the foreign judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act, 1933, which provides for the extension of Part I thereof to His Majesty's Dominions outside the United Kingdom by an order in Council, and also leaves it to the order in Council to specify the Courts which shall be deemed as "Superior" within the meaning of the Act. The Government of India have ascertained that the Lord Chancellor has no objection to the Act being applied to all Indian Courts possessing unlimited original civil jurisdiction. This removes the obstacle which stood in the way of legislation in 1925, and the present Bill substantially embodies the provisions of the old Bill with some modifications mainly necessitated by the terms of the new English Act"—Statement of Objects and Reasons to Bill No. 10 of 1935.

(2) The Court to which a precept is sent shall proceed to attach the property in the manner prescribed in regard to the attachment of property in execution of a decree :

(3) Where a question arises as to whether any person is representative of a party, such question shall, for the purposes of this section, be determined by the Court.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed and a defendant against whom a suit has been dismissed, are parties to the suit.

Object of numbering section—The object of numbering separately sub-sections is to make several sub-sections independent of each other. 20 C. W. N. 679=32 Ind. Cas. 524.

Construction of S. 47.—Section 47 should be construed liberally and the decree-holder should get his relief as expeditiously as possible 15 Pat. 545=162 Ind. Cas. 830=17 Pat. L. T. 434=A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 289; see also 19 C. 683 (P. C.).

Object and scope of the section.—The intention of the Legislature appears to be to dispose, in a single litigation, of all questions in reference to the subject-matter of that litigation arising between the parties once properly brought before the Court. 17 B. 49. All objections to execution sales should be disposed of as speedily and as cheaply as possible 19 A. 613 (P. C.); see also 32 C. 1032; 9 C. W. N. 134; 27 C. 810; 4 C. W. N. 698. The question to be decided in an application under s. 173 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to set aside a sale is a question relating to the execution and satisfaction of the decree, as between the parties to the suit and falls under s. 47, C. P. Code. 60 C. L. J. 36.

Question of priority of heirs in execution proceedings can be determined in execution proceeding under s. 47 which bars a separate suit. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 298=59 B. 417=157 Ind. Cas. 658=37 Bom. L. This section does not confer upon a decree holder any right to proceed in execution against persons who are not judgment-debtors themselves. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 870=71 M. L. J. 385=1936 M. W. N. 1028. Disputes between rival decree-holders seeking to attach the simple property or claiming against each other in the distribution of the assets or disputes between joint decree holders inter se are not within the purview of s. 47. A. I. R. 1936 Pat. 303=162 Ind. Cas. 867.

Parties to suit.—Section 47 does not apply unless the question arises between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed or their representatives and relates to execution, satisfaction or discharge of the decree. A defendant who was not a necessary party would not be a party to the suit within the meaning of s. 47 if he is exonerated without his claim being adjudicated upon. A. I. An auction purchaser purchasing property at a sale in execution of a simple money decree against a judgment-debtor whose property has been ordered to be sold in a mortgage suit, is a representative of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of s. 47. 163 Ind. Where Agha Haider observed: "It is admitted that he could only appeal if the case come within s. 47 and under no other provision of law. Mr. S. L. Puri who represents the respondents, has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that in view of the fact that Khazana Mal was an auction purchaser in execution of mortgage decree, he must, on the authorities be deemed to be the representative of the judgment-debtors and therefore any question arising between him and the judgment-debtor cannot be said to be one between the parties to the suit or their legal representative within the meaning of s. 47, Civil Procedure Code, and therefore he had no locus standi to maintain an appeal as from a decree passed under the provisions of s. 47. He relies upon 26 All. 447 and 31 All. 82. He further relies upon 12 P. R. 1919 and 79 Ind. Cas. 57. These authorities undoubtedly support his contention and, if I may say so with respect I am in full agreement with the view of law laid down in these cases. As pointed out by the Court below the contest is between the judgment-debtor and Khazana Mal, his representative, and the auction sale in which Khazana Mal purchased the property was in a mortgage decree. Therefore 26 All. 447 fully applies. In fact the learned Judges have gone further in the subsequent Full Bench decision in 31 All. 82 Mr. Ratan Lal, who was followed by Mr. Meher Chand Mohajan has invited my attention to 19 Cal. 683 and 41 Mad. 403. He has also referred to 43 Mad. 107. The Privy Council ruling 19 C. 683 was referred to in 26 All. 447. The Madras view seems to lend support to the contention of Mr. Meher Chand Mohajan, but the volume of judicial opinion on the other side is overwhelming. Allahabad, Patna, Rangoon and Bombay are all against the contention of the learned Counsel for the appellant. There are two cases of the Lahore High Court, one in 12 P. R. 1919 and the other in A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 176, which seem to go even further and lay down that an auction purchaser is not even a party to the suit. In this state of authorities I hold that Kharana Mal had no locus standi and could not maintain the present appeal." An order passed on application under Order 21, rule 95, Civil Procedure Code by an auction purchaser, who is also a decree-holder, is an Order under s. 47, C. P. Code, and appealable as such. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 145.

Benamidar.—The word "representative" has a wide import, and includes not only heirs and executors, but also assignees, all legal representatives in the strict sense of the words that is, persons interested in saving the property being sold, and whose interest would be jeopardized if the sale were not set aside. A person, for whom the predecessor of the judgment-debtors was the benamidar and who is therefore, really interested in protecting the property is a "representative" of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of s. 244 (=s. 47) of the C. P. Code of 1882. 7 C. L. J. 299; see also A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 835=114 Ind. Cas. 495. But a benamidar is neither party nor representative of party under this section. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1081=51 M. L. There is no provision of appeal in the Code on an order passed under Order 21, rule 97. But if an order is passed under that rule in a dispute between the auction purchaser who is the decree-holder himself and a person who was a party to the suit, such an order falls under the provisions of s. 47 and is therefore appealable. A.
 I. R. 1934 Cal. 541=38 C. W. N. 497=150 Ind. Cas. 313. An objection that a sum paid in part satisfaction of a rent decree is not given credit falls within s. 47 and so can legitimately form subject matter of appeal. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 761. The proceedings for enforcement of an award under s. 47, C. P. Code and an appeal is competent for an order rejecting such application. The fact that an objection was raised that the award was given without jurisdiction does not preclude the applicability of s. 47. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 49=35 P. L. R. 635=151 Ind. Cas. 881. Section 145, Civil Procedure Code itself provides that any person who has become liable as surety and against whom a decree may be executed shall be deemed for the purpose of appeal to be a party within the meaning of s. 47. It follows that the surety has right of the decree-holder within the meaning of that section and the order allowing his right to execute is one which decides therefore a question relating to the execution of the decree as between transferee and the judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1934

 Lah. 328.

Where a decree is assigned and the assignee assigns it to another but the second assignee's application for permission to execute the decree and to recognize the assignment is offered by the first assignee and the application is dismissed, an appeal is competent from the order of dismissal as s. 47 applies. A. I. R. 1934 Mad.

An appeal by judgment-debtor from an order upholding the assignment from the decree-holder is not maintainable. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 609=37 P. L. R. 305=155 Ind. Cas. 974. It is not every order in execution which is a decree; it is only such orders as conclusively determine a question between the parties to the suit relating to the execution of the decree. So no appeal lies from an order by which the executing Court granted extension of time for payment of money. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 500.

Section 47 applies to execution proceedings of rent decree also and as such an appeal lies from an order passed on question relating to execution, in satisfaction of such a decree between the parties. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 227=16 Pat. L. T. 443=156 Ind. Cas. 881. Long after mortgage decree had been obtained, the mortgagor died and his sons were brought on the record as his legal representatives. of the decree and takes for granted that a valid decree subsists. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 103. In considering whether a Court must examine the substance of the order and should not be guided solely by the heading money decree was fully satisfied before execution s. 151, C. P. Code was made to inquire how the debtor: Held, reading the application as a whole, doubt that it related to matter touching the discharge or satisfaction of the decree and was therefore in reality and substance an application under s. 47 of the Code and therefore the order was appealable. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 725=161 Ind. Cas. 21. But an order is not appealable when it is made under s. 151, C. P. Code. 40 C. W. N. 89; see also A. I. R. 1936 Sind 166. In proceedings under Order 34, rule 5, the auction purchaser is not a necessary party. An order setting aside a sale on the ground that the property was sold without attachment, in appeal is competent against such an order. Where an order is one under appeal lies. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 18. rule 66, which overruled the objection of the judgment-debtor that only a part of the property was saleable is an order under s. 47 and as such an appeal lies against such an order. 1936 A. M. L. J. 13. During the sale in execution of a mortgage decree the judgment-debtor died. As the sale proceeds were insufficient his legal representative was brought on record, and decree under Order 34, rule 6 was obtained against the assets in his hands. He made no objection that the property sold was his personal property. The executing Court disallowed the objection, and directed him to bring a regular suit. In a suit for declaration that the person belonged to the local representative: Held the objection of the local representative could not be treated as under Order 21, rule 58, but one under s. 47. Therefore the order of dismissal of objection was appealable and a separate suit did not lie from the order dismissing objection. A. I. R. 1937 All. 97.

LIMIT OF TIME FOR EXECUTION.

48. [S. 230, 3rd and 4th paras] (1) Where an application to execute a decree not being a decree granting an injunction has been made, no order for the execution of the same decree shall be made upon any fresh application presented after the expiration of twelve years from—

(a) the date of the decree sought to be executed, or

(b) where the decree or any subsequent order directs any payment of money or the delivery of any property to be made at a certain date or at recurring periods, the date of the default in making the payment or delivery in respect of which the applicant seeks to execute the decree.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed—

(a) to preclude the Court from ordering the execution of a decree upon an application presented after the expiration of the said term of twelve years, where the judgment-debtor has, by fraud or force, prevented the execution of the decree at some time within twelve years immediately before the date of the application ; or

(b) to limit or otherwise affect the operation of Artical 180 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877.*†

period mentioned in s. 48 of the Code does not exempt a minor decree-holder from the operation of s. 230 which is enacted absolutely for the benefit of the decree-holder. It does not mean that the decree-holder shall not be harassed for ever and for every execution. R. 1928 Mad. 1154=113 Ind. Cas. 260. The paragraph means any application for the execution of the decree to the last application immediately preceding the date of the decree sought to be enforced, on which the sum decreed became payable. 15 A. 198=A. As the Code by s. 48 prohibits the Court from making any order upon an application presented after expiration of 12 years, the statutory obligation of the Court cannot be got rid of on account of any private contract to the contrary. It will be the duty of the Court to ignore the private agreement and to give effect to the statute. The agreement may give rise to a separate suit, but cannot estop the Court from enforcing the decree. 54 A. 573.

Clause (b) of Sub-section (1) —The wording of s. 48 (1) (b) is quite general and contains nothing to indicate that the subsequent order must be passed by the Court that passed the decree acting as such. Further more, Order 20, rule 11, applies only to decrees for payment of money, whereas s. 48 (1) (b) covers decrees for the delivery of property also. S. 48 is accordingly of a wider scope, and there is no reason to confine it to particular order passed under Order 20, rule 11. 54 A. 573=1932 A. L. J. 355=138 Ind. Cas. 583=A. I. Fresh application—Where an execution application is pending for a long time due to neglect of the decree-holder, it is not allowed to supplement the list of properties attached to the decree. A. I. Section 48 applies to a fresh application for execution after the expiration of 12 years from the date of the decree and does not apply where previous application for execution treated as rightly amended while it was pending though the amendment ordered after the expiry of the 12 years. But if amendment cannot be allowed and application for amendment was in substance a fresh application for the execution of the decree then it will be clearly barred under s. 48. Clause (a) of sub-section (2)—The expression "fraud" in this section should be construed in a broad sense, and a deliberate evasion of the process of the Court with intention to defeat the execution of the decree would amount to "fraud." If the judgment-debtor, by fraud or force, at some time prevented the execution it is not necessary for the decree-holder to show that the judgment-debtor had means to pay the decree.

... hat the fraud or stratagem of the judgment-debtor extended continuously for the whole period of 12 years following the date of the decree. It is sufficient to show that the judgment-debtor, on various occasions within the aforesaid period, dishonestly prevented the execution of the decree against him by frivolous devices. Such devices clearly constitute fraud within the meaning of s. 48 of C. P. Code. 14 O. C. 238; see also 9 A. L. J. 17; A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 597=120 Ind. Cas. 315. What is quite clearly contemplated, apart from the definition of the term fraud itself, is some action on the part of the judgment-debtor which prevents the decree-holder from taking out execution proceeding and thus allowing time to run against him or some action by the judgment-debtor which entices the decree-holder to hold his hand. Hence merely because the judgment debtor is taking advantage of the procedure allowed by law, however obstructive that may be, he cannot be said that he is preventing the decree-holder from executing his decree by fraud. A. I. R. 1935 Pat 380=16 Pat. L. T. 506=14 Pat. 816=156 Ind. Cas. 297. The mere raising of objections so as to prolong execution proceedings beyond the period of limitation cannot in all cases, be regarded as fraud for the purposes of clause (a) of sub-section (2) 161 Ind. 50. [S. 234.] (1) Where a judgment-debtor dies before the decree has been fully satisfied, the holder of the decree may apply to the Court which passed it to execute the same against the legal representative of the deceased.

(2) Where the decree is executed against such legal representative, he shall be liable only to the extent of the property of the deceased which has come to his hands and has not been duly disposed of; and, for the purpose of ascertaining such liability, the Court executing the decree may, of its own motion or on the application of the decree-holder, compel such legal representative to produce such accounts as it thinks fit.

Scope—The language of s. 50, C. P. Code is permissive. But this does not mean that recourse to the section may not be obligatory. PROCEDURE IN EXECUTION.

51. [New.] Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, order execution of the decree—

- (a) by delivery of any property specifically decreed ;
- (b) by attachment and sale or by sale without attachment of any property ;
- (c) by arrest and detention in prison ;
- (d) by appointing a receiver ; or
- (e) in such other manner as the nature of the relief granted may require :

“Provided that where the decree is for the payment of money execution by detention in prison shall not be ordered unless, after giving the judgment-debtor an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison, the Court, for reasons recorded in writing, is satisfied—

(a) that the judgment-debtor, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the execution of the decree,—

(i) is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(ii) has, after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, dishonestly transferred, concealed, or removed any part of his property, or committed any other act of bad faith in relation to his property, or

(b) that the judgment-debtor has or has had since the date of the decree, the means to pay the amount of the decree or some substantial part thereof and refuses or neglects or has refused or neglected to pay the same, or

(c) that the decree is for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in a fiduciary capacity to account.

Explanation.—In the calculation of the means of judgment-debtor for the purposes of clause (b) there shall be left out of account any property which, by or under any law or custom having the force law for the time being in force, is exempt from attachment in execution of the decree.”

Scope.—An application under s. 51 may be inferred from an act of the Court. 52 Ind. Cas. 355. Compromise decree granting allowances to parties to a suit and also to a stranger. Object of the newly added proviso.—This proviso is the outcome of the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Labour in India to the effect that in the case of industrial workers in respect of wages less than Rs. 100 a month arrest and imprisonment for debt should be abolished except where the debtor has been proved to be both able and unwilling to pay. This section seeks to amend the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, so as to protect honest debtors of all classes, and not the industrial workers only, from detention in civil prison and to confine such detention to debtors proved to be recalcitrant or fraudulent. It also provides inter alia that no order for execution by detention in prison shall be issued unless the debtor has been given an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison and the Court is satisfied for reasons recorded in writing that (i) the debtor is likely to leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or has after the institution of the suit fraudulently disposed of his property and (ii) that he is able to pay the amount of the decree otherwise than from the protected assets. This section applies to all judgment-debtors.—Statement of objects and Reasons to Act XXI of 1936.

52. [S. 52.] (1) Where a decree is passed against a party as the legal representative of a deceased person, and the decree is for the payment of money out of the property of the deceased, it may be executed by the attachment and sale of any such property.

(2) Where no such property remains in the possession of the judgment-debtor and he fails to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as is proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the judgment-debtor to the extent of the property in respect of which he has failed so to satisfy the Court in the same manner as if the decree had been against him personally.

Sub-section (1).—A person holding a decree against the assets of a deceased person can obtain satisfaction by attachment and sale of only such property as is shown to have formed part of the assets of the deceased. Object of the newly added proviso—This proviso is the outcome of the recommendation of the Royal Commission On Labour in India to the effect that in the case of industrial workers in respect of wages less than Rs. 100 a month arrest and imprisonment for debt should be abolished except where the debtor has been proved to be both able and unwilling to pay. This section seeks to amend the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, so as to protect honest debtors of all classes, and not the industrial workers only, from detention in civil prison and to confine such detention to debtors proved to be recalcitrant or fraudulent. It also provides inter alia that no order for execution by detention in prison shall be issued unless the debtor has been given an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison and the Court is satisfied for reasons recorded in writing that (i) the debtor is likely to leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or has after the institution of the suit fraudulently disposed of his property and (ii) that he is able to pay the amount of the decree otherwise than from the protected assets. This section applies to all judgment-debtors—Statement of objects and Reasons to Act XXI of 1936.

Clauses (h) and (i)—These two clauses were substituted by Act IX of 1937 in order to give effect to the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Labour. The following Statement of Objects and Reasons were appended to L. A. Bill 11 of 1935 which after some modifications was placed on the statute Book as Act IX of 1937. The framer of the Bill observes: "The Royal Commission on Labour drew attention to the indebtedness prevailing among certain classes of workers, and expressed the view that this was due mainly for the credit enjoyed by them and the facilities afforded to creditors by the law relating to the attachment of salaries. With a view to reducing credit, the Commission recommended that wages and salaries of workmen receiving less than Rs. 300 a month should be entirely exempted from attachment. Enquiries made by Government of India in consultation with the Local Government, afford justification for action on the lines suggested by the Commission and in particulars reveal a serious State of indebtedness among certain classes of Government employees. The Government of India therefore propose to amend section 60 of the Civil Procedure Code to provide—

(1) the salaries, not exceeding Rs. 100 a month, of all workers should be totally exempt from attachment;

(2) that the pay of servants of Government Railway Companies and local authorities getting more than Rs. 100 a month should be exempt to the extent of the first Rs. 100 and one half of the remainder, and

(3) that which the attachable portion of the pay of servants of Government, Railway Companies and local authorities should remain as at present liable to continuous attachment the period of attachment should be restricted as follows viz, that after a debtor's pay has been attached for a total period of two years (in one or more periods) no further attachment should be possible in favour of the same decree or in favour of any other decrees until twelve months have elapsed.

"The Bill seeks to give effect to these proposals. It also takes away the privileged position of Co-operative Societies under the proviso to sub-clause (iii) under clause (2) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 60 of the Code as in the opinion of the Government of India it is unnecessary to continue that privilege.

"Under (existing) sub-clause (A) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 60 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, leave allowances if less than salary are exempt from attachment, but under sub-clause (2) leave allowances, if equal to salary on duty, are liable to attachment. Since the introduction of time-scales of pay in the services, this has created an anomalous position for if an officer drawing less than his salary on duty, is exempt from attachment, while an officer drawing more than his salary on duty, is liable to attachment. It is accordingly proposed to place leave allowances and salary on duty in exactly the same position as regards attachment. At the same time the Bill gives to the Governor-General in Council power to exempt certain allowances from attachment, the object being to enable him to exempt certain compensatory allowances granted for specific purpose."

There is a distinction between an attachment made before judgment and one made after decree. If after attachment a decree is passed it is not necessary for the plaintiff to re-attach this property in execution, but he can immediately apply for sale. Transfers by the defendant after the attachment will be void against the plaintiff's claims enforceable under the attachment. If the suit is dismissed by the Court, or if any decree is passed in plaintiff's favour is reversed on appeal or annulled on review the attachment does not create a charge in the property. A. L. R. 1934 All 1069.

Explanation—If a party comes and says that he is entitled to rateable distribution under s. 73, before he can ask the Court to apply the provisions of the Explanation to s. 64 to his case, he has to prove that there are assets which have come into the hands of the Court. It is necessary that the decree-holder who seeks to enforce his decree should also get an attachment at his own instance. A. I. R. 1934 All. 1069. The combined effect of s. 64, C. P. Code and the explanation which has been added thereto is to extend the protection of that section to the claimants for rateable distribution against private alienations of property after attachment, just as much as to the decree-holder at whose instance the attachment is made. 1936 O. the title to the mortgaged property vests in the property is sold in execution of the decree on the mortgage. A. L. R. 1933 Oudh 619. The title of the auction-purchaser is derived from the sale and not from the sale certificate. It accrues on the sale becoming absolute but takes effect from the date of sale itself. The sale certificate is merely evidence of title of the auction-purchaser and not the title-deed in the sense that the title is conveyed or created by it. The word "sale certificate" itself denotes that it is only a certificate by the Court that the auction-purchaser had purchased the property. 136 Ind. Cas. 49=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 20; 9 O. W. 66. [S. 317.] (1) No suit shall be maintained against any person claiming title under a purchase certified by the Court in such manner as may be prescribed on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims.

(2) Nothing in this section shall bar a suit to obtain a declaration that the name of any purchaser certified as aforesaid was inserted in the certificate fraudulently or without the consent of the real purchaser, or interfere with the right of a third person to proceed against that property, though ostensibly sold to the certified purchaser, on the ground that it is liable to satisfy a claim of such third person against the real owner.

Scope—Section 66 raises an irrebuttable presumption in favour of the auction-purchaser but there is nothing to prevent the latter from creating a trust in favour of the person who supplied the purchase money. Such a course is not possible after the passing of the Trust Act, which requires a registered instrument for creation of trust. The Collector has no authority to suggest satisfaction of the decree in part by transfer of certain debts from the judgment-debtors to the decree-holder, or that mortgagee's rights should similarly be transferred to the decree-holder. Trust and Trustee—The words "trust" and "trustee" as used in s. 92 have not been used in any technical sense of the terms as used in English law or in the technical sense in which word "wakf" is used in the Mahomedan law. The words have been used in the ordinary sense. "Trust" in the most enlarged sense in which that term is used in English jurisprudence may be defined to be one equitable right, title or interest in the property real or personal, distinct from the legal ownership thereof; and "trustee" is a person holding the legal title of property under an express or implied agreement to apply it and the income arising from it to the use and for the benefit of another person. Under the English conception of the term, trust conveys the idea of two estates and two parties. Had the word "trust" been used in the Code in the technical sense of the English jurisprudence the section would have been inapplicable either to wakfs of the Mahomedan law or to *debutter*s of the Hindu law. But it has been held in long series of decisions that this section does apply to Mahomedan wakfs and to Hindu *debutter*s where there is no conception of two estates and two ownerships. What is required for the purposes of section 92 is to find whether or not there is property burdened with obligations for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature. It will apply in all cases, whether wakf or not where there is a clear indication that there is an obligation annexed to the property in favour of religious or charitable objects of a public nature. 11 P. 288=12 P. The condition precedent to the proper institution of a suit under s. 92 is the obtaining of the sanction of the Advocate-General and no other condition for the maintainability of a suit is to be found in the Code. The amendment of the law embodied in the present s. 92 has obviated the necessity for a representative suit. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1070=1925 M. W. N. 505; see also A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 280=50 M. L. J. 42=22 L. W. 701=92 Ind. Cas. 823. Objection as to sanction cannot be waived, for the object of sanction is that trustees should not be sued unless there is prima facie case against real trustee. Addition of Parties.—Where suit is brought within sanction, subsequent amendment by addition of new parties without obtaining fresh sanction does not invalidate suit. A. I. R. 1923 Sind 35=16 S. L. The effect of the section is that no suit relating to public religious or charitable trust, outside the Presidency-town may be brought without the previous sanction of the Local Government whether by the Collector or by any other officer so that the fact that the Legal Remembrancer is in the United Provinces invested as a rule with the duties elsewhere discharged by the Advocate-General is no reason why for the purpose of a particular suit the Local Government may not appoint the Collector or any other officer to prosecute it. Compensation for obtaining arrest, attachment or injunction on insufficient grounds. 95. [Ss. 491, 497] (1) Where, in any suit in which an arrest or attachment has been effected or a temporary injunction granted under the last preceding section,—

(a) it appears to the Court that such arrest attachment or injunction was applied for on insufficient grounds,— the Court may order the applicant to pay to the Court that there shall be paid by its order such amount, not exceeding reasonable compensation to the defendant him:

Provided that a Court shall not award, under this section, an amount exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction.

(2) An order determining any such application shall bar any suit for compensation in respect of such arrest, attachment or injunction.

APPEALS FROM APPELLATE DECREES.

100. [S. 584.] (1) Save where otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from every decree passed in appeal by any Court subordinate to a High Court, on any of the following grounds, namely:—

- (a) the decision being contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law;
- (b) the decision having failed to determine some material issue of law or usage having the force of law;

(c) a substantial error or defect in the procedure provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits.

(2) An appeal may lie under this section from an appellate decree passed ex parte.

Scope of the section.—A second appeal lies to the High Court. In the first appeal the appellate Court can interfere with the erroneous finding of fact by the lower Court. Second appeal cannot change finding of fact. A. I. R. 1929 All. 885 = (1930) A. L. J. 340 = 118 Ind. Cas. 715. Lower Court should carefully consider the entire material on record for giving finding of fact. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 12 = 123 Ind. Cas. 573. Finding of fact must be supported by evidence and not based on surmise. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 50 = 2 P. L. T. 225 = 60 Ind. Cas. 308. When second appeal decided only on question of fact, that decision should be set aside. A. I. R. 1921 Lah. 341 = 4 Lah. L. J. 464; see also 43 A. B. 515 = 19 A. L. J. 499 = 63 Ind. Cas. 221. A second appeal is only competent on the grounds mentioned in this section. 16 C. 753 = 16 I. A. 125. A fresh legal point can be raised. A. I. R. 1925 All. 783 = 47 A. 932 = 23 A. L. J. 856 = 88 Ind. Cas. 1013. A plea of res judicata not raised in Memorandum of Appeal was allowed in second appeal. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 560 = 5 Lah. L. J. 163 = 74 Ind. Cas. 577. New facts indicating prima facie ground of claim can be made a ground of appeal. A. I. R. 1921 All. 176 = 45 A. 59. This section appears to supply a reasonable interpretation of the expression "illegality" and "with material irregularity" occurring in s. 115. Clauses (a) and (b) embody what s. 115 refers to in the illegality, that is to say, to cases where the Court below has in the exercise of its jurisdiction, come to a decision which is contrary to some specified law or usage having the force of law or failed to determine some material issue of law or usage. The clause (c) indicates the meaning of "material irregularity" which means some material irregularity in procedure which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision on the merits. 8 A. 111 (F. B.) = A. W. N. 1886, 28. The question as to the competency of an inferior Court can be allowed to be raised before the before the inferior Court. 25 C. 146 = 2 C. law can be disturbed on second appeal. 1 = 127 Ind. Cas. 591. Court will decide documentary evidence and not their evidentiary value. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 727 = 92 Ind. Cas. 104. Court in second appeal cannot reverse finding of lower appellate Court on authority not quoted before it. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 737 = 126 Ind. Cas. 433. Where the decision is arbitrary the appellate Court can come to independent decision. A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 127 = 65 Ind. Cas. 454. But the fact that upon the evidence, the High Court would have come to a different conclusion is no ground for second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 192 = 50 Ind. Cas. 209; see also 31 C. W. N. 32 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 1 = 99 Ind. Cas. 189; 101 Ind. Cas. 695 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 524; 57 Ind. Cas. 561 = A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 61 = 5 Pat. L. J. 410 = 1 P. L. T. 702.

Appeal to the High Court under s. 142 (3) Calcutta Municipal Act, is not a second appeal under s. 100, C. P. Code and hence is not restricted to only question of law. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 450 = 47 C. L. J. 315 = 32 C. W. N. 378 = 109 Ind. Cas. 618; see also A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 802 = 46 C. L. J. 760 = 31 C. W. N. 1040 = 55 C. 228 = 103 Ind. Cas. 533. Trial Court's finding cannot be set aside without considering all important material. A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 993 = 85 Ind. Cas. 540. Finding of trial Court accepted on grounds of appeal cannot be examined in appeal though counsel was careless in drafting the grounds. 21 P. W. R. 1921 = 59 Ind. Cas. 689. Clause (a).—Under s 104 (1) (a) no appeal lies when the arbitration is not superseded under Schedule II, cl. 8 of the Code. Where the lower Court in superseding an arbitration, has adopted procedure not prescribed by the law and there is no other available remedy, the Chief Court is competent to interfere in exercise of its revisional powers 251 P. Clause (b).—The parties to a suit agree to refer their disputes relating to the properties in suit to the arbitration of two persons; and a consent of Judge's order was obtained. The two arbitrators differed on a question of law arising in the arbitration. The two arbitrators each expressed his opinion on the question and referred it for opinion to the High Court in the form of a special case under C. P. Clause (c).—The provision in cl. (c) of sub-section (1) of section 104 of the Code that an appeal shall lie from an order modifying or correcting an award, does not confer an unrestricted right of appeal; and when order has been made modifying an award, the validity of the whole award cannot be called in question in an appeal preferred against that order, but the appeal is allowed against the order only in so far as it modified the award 15 Ind. Where a certificate has been given under section 205 (1) of the Government of India Act, 1935, the three last preceding sections shall apply in relation to appeals to the Federal Court as they apply in relation to appeals to His Majesty in Council, and accordingly references to His Majesty shall be construed as references to the Federal Court:

Provided that—

(a) so much of the said sections as delimits the cases in which an appeal will lie shall be construed as delimiting the cases in which an appeal will lie without the leave of the Federal Court otherwise than on the ground that a substantial question of law as to the interpretation of the said Act, or any order in Council made thereunder, has been wrongly decided;

Application in Burma—This section which has been inserted by G. I Order is not applicable in British Burma.

Section 205 (1)—An appeal shall lie to the Federal Court from any judgment, decree or final order of a High Court in British India, if the High Court certifies that the case involves a substantial question of law as to the interpretation of this Act or any order in Council made thereunder, and it shall be the duty of every High Court in British India to consider in every case whether or not any such question is involved and of its own motion to give or to withhold a certificate accordingly.

REFERENCE, REVIEW AND REVISION.

113. [S. 617.] Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, any Court may state a case and refer the same for the opinion of the High Court, and the High Court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

* Inserted by G. I Order.

Scope—The High Court can entertain a reference under this section where there is a suit or appeal before the Court making the reference, in which the decree is final. 16 C. P. L. R. 17; see also 7 A. 815=A. W.N. 1885, 245. A Court is not competent to make a reference to the High Court under this section in a case in which the decree of the Court would not be final. 5 Ind. There is no analogy between a reference and an appeal. An appeal is made by an aggrieved party where as a reference is made not by a party but by a Court. The decision of the subject-matter of appeal is by the Court entertaining the appeal whereas the decision of the matter about which a reference is made is not necessarily by the Court deciding the reference. 1932 A. Review.

114. [S. 622.] Subject as aforesaid, any person considering himself aggrieved—

(a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed by this Code, but from which no appeal has been preferred,

(b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed by this Code, or

(c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, may apply for a review of judgment to the Court which passed the decree or made the order, and the Court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

A review proceeding commences ordinarily with an ex parte application. The Court then may either reject the application at once or may grant a rule calling on the other side to show cause why the review should not be granted. In the second stage the rule may either be admitted or discharged, and the hearing of this rule may involve to some extent an investigation into the merits. If the rule is discharged then the case ends. If on the other hand, the rule is made absolute, then the third stage is reached; the case is reheard on the merits and may result in a repetition of the former decree or in some variation of it. Though in one aspect, the result is the same whether the rule is discharged or on the re-hearing the original decree be repeated in law, there is a material difference; for in the latter case the whole matter has to be re-heard, whereas in the former it is only the merits which are re-heard. 115. [S. 622.] The High Court may call for the record of any case which has been decided by any Court subordinate to such High Court and in which no appeal lies thereto and if such subordinate Court appears—

- (a) to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or
- (b) to have failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or
- (c) to have acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity, the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

Amendment in Burma—For “such High Court” substitute “the High Court”—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope—“The 115th section of the Civil Procedure Code enables the High Court, in a case in which no appeal lies to call for the record of any case if the Court by which the case was decided was a Court of a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or if it failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or if it acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity, and further enables to pass such order in the case as the Court may think fit. It will be observed that the section does not require the High Court to be satisfied that the lower Court has exercised its jurisdiction irregularly, or non-exercised it, or that its exercise of jurisdiction is not directed against the party concerned. It is sufficient if the High Court is satisfied that the lower Court has exercised its jurisdiction in a manner which is not directed against the party concerned. Per Lord Macnaghten in *Attorney-General v. It cannot, in their Lordships' view, be confined to a litigation in which there is a plaintiff who seeks to obtain particular relief in damages or otherwise against a defendant who is before the Court. It must, they think, include an ex parte application, such as that made in this case praying that persons in the position of trustees or officials should perform their trust or discharge their official duties." Per Lord Atkin's in Balakrishna v. Biswanath Paramanick, 1 C. W. N. 67. But we must guard against the possible assumption that the Court may, in a matter like this, in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction assume appellate powers. One aspect of the fundamental distinction between the exercise of appellate and revisional powers was explained in the case of Shivanath v. Jooma Kaskinath, 7 B. 341. A Court in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction investigates the facts and if necessary substitute its own appreciation of the evidence for that of the primary Court. But when the Court as a Court of revision looks into the evidence, it does so with a view to determine whether the subordinate Court has assumed jurisdiction which it did not possess, or declined a jurisdiction which it did possess or has in the exercise of its jurisdiction acted illegally or with material irregularity. If this distinction were overlooked, the superior Court might, in the name of revisional jurisdiction, exercise appellate powers."

Clause (a)—Exercise of jurisdiction not vested.—“The particular events which justify interference are, first, where the Court has exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law; secondly, where the Court has failed to exercise a jurisdiction which is vested in it by law, and thirdly, where the Court has acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity.” Per Jenkins C. J. in Shew Prosad v. Ramchandur, 41 C. 323=23 Ind. Cas. 977 (79). “There is no doubt that there is some variance of opinion as to the meaning of the term ‘jurisdiction’ in s. 115. According to one view the term ‘jurisdiction’ is here used in ordinary sense, that is a jurisdiction local, pecuniary, personal or with reference to the subject-matter of the suit. According to another view, the term may mean the legal authority of a Court to do certain things namely, to make a particular order in a case over which it has jurisdiction in the sense stated. According to my own view the former construction is the preferable one.” Per Woodroff J. in ibid. But in Hur Prosad v. Jufor Ali, 7 A. 345, Mahmood J. observed, “The term jurisdiction as used by their Lordships of the Privy Council in Amir Husain Khan v. Shew Baksh Singh, 11 C. 6=11 I. A. 237, in its broad legal sense may be taken to mean the power of administering justice according to the means which the law has provided, and subject to the limitations imposed by that law upon the judicial authority.” The High Court can set aside the order of the lower appellate Court for erroneously

Clause (c)—Exercise of jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity.—Exercise of jurisdiction in a proper manner bars a revision. 19 A. L. J. 47=60 Ind. Cas. 899; see also A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 984=112 Ind. Cas. 710; A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 38. This clause cannot be invoked "when the question of jurisdiction is not involved" or at least a question of procedure, for example, proceeding in the absence of a necessary party to the suit. It must be something independent of the decision itself an irregularity or illegality in the manner of arriving at it, not in the conclusion reached. A good working test is whether if the decision had been the other way, would the illegality still be there? If not, the flaw must lie in the decision, and not in the manner in which it is reached. Consequently, if it would not be revisable, the test would not work in every case. But where it does, it could be decisive. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 157=164 Ind. Cas. 848. Clause (c) has a distinct meaning from that of the other two clauses; it does not relate merely to irregularities in procedure, it has been advisedly left in indefinite language in order to empower the High Court to interfere and correct gross and palpable errors of subordinate Courts in the ends of justice. 38 C. Where in a mortgage suit, judgment contains two contradictory directions as regards decree and decree is drawn in accordance with earlier and operative part of the judgment, no application under s. 152 for the amendment of the decree lies. There is also no revision against an order rejecting such an application. The proper course for the decree-holder is to renew that application under Order XXXIV, rule 6. A. I. The word "personal appearance" in s. 132, C. P. Code means "a personal attendance." Courts have no power to insist on the attendance of pardanashin women in Court whether under provisions of s. 132, or Order 5, rule 3 or Order 10, rule 4. The exemption from personal appearance is a right which no Court has power to refuse and applies to parties as well as to witnesses. The words "personal appearance" in s. 132 cannot be interpreted so as to compel pardanashins to attend Court by wearing a veil or durka with their faces covered so as not to be visible to public gaze. If the Court has reason to believe that a pardanashin, while being examined on commission was guilty of malpractices, such as being tutored by a person behind the purdah, the Court may exclude her evidence, but cannot make that a ground for calling on her to attend the Court. (2) The names and residences of the persons so exempted shall, from time to time, be forwarded to the High Court by the "Provincial Government" and a list of such persons shall be kept in such Court, and a list of such persons as reside within the local limits of the jurisdiction of each Court subordinate to the High Court shall be kept in such subordinate Court.

(3) Where any person so exempted claims the privilege of such exemption, and it is consequently necessary to examine him by commission, he shall pay the costs of that commission, unless the party requiring his evidence pays such costs.

Local Amendments in Burma.—In Burma for the words "Provincial Government" wherever they occur substitute "Governor" as well as for the words "such Government" substitute "Governor"; for "official Gazette" substitute "Gazette."

(3) Nothing in sub-section (2) shall enable a judgment-debtor to claim exemption from arrest under an order for immediate execution or where such judgment-debtor attends to show cause why he should not be committed to prison in execution of a decree.

Amendment in Burma.—In Burma, in sub-section (2) omit "mukhtars, revenue-agents."—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

In order to obtain exemption under this section the party must satisfy the Court ordinarily, by statements made on affidavit that his attendance in the Court or tribunal is bona fide in relation to the matter pending before that Court or tribunal; secondly, that the Court or tribunal which he attends has jurisdiction in the matter pending before it or the party believes in good faith that it has such jurisdiction; and that he should be exempt from arrest during such period as is reasonable, which the matter is pending, or outside its jurisdiction. What period is reasonable is a question of fact to be determined by the Court in each case and no hard and fast rule can be laid down as to the extent or duration of the privilege. Further the exemption is forfeited if in going to or in returning from the Court there is unnecessary or excessive deviation sufficient in the opinion of the Court to forfeit the privilege. This section has been amended Burma by G. B. Order and s. 135 is in force in British Burma in the following form :—

Exemption of members of Legislative bodies from arrest and detention under civil process.

136. [S. 643.] (1) Where an application is made that any person shall be arrested or that any property shall be attached under any provision of this Code not relating to the execution of decrees, and such person resides or such property is situate outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court to which the application is made, the Court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant of arrest or make an order of attachment, and send to the District Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such person or property resides or is situate a copy of the warrant or order, together with the probable amount of the costs of the arrest or attachment.

(2) The District Court shall, on receipt of such copy and amount, cause the arrest or attachment to be made by its own officers, or by a Court subordinate to itself, and shall inform the Court which issued or made such warrant or order of the arrest or attachment.

(3) The Court making an arrest under this section shall send the person arrested to the Court by which the warrant of arrest was issued, unless he shows cause to the satisfaction of the former Court why he should not be sent to the latter Court, or unless he furnishes sufficient security for his appearance before the latter Court or for satisfying any decree that may be passed against him by that Court in either of which cases the Court making the arrest shall release him.

(4) Where a person to be arrested or movable property to be attached under this section is within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or at Madras or at Bombay* the copy of the warrant of arrest or of the order of attachment, and the probable amount of the costs of the arrest or attachment, shall be sent to the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta, Madras, or "Bombay"*, as the case may be, and that Court, on receipt of the copy and amount, shall proceed as if it were the District Court.

Amendment in Burma.—In sub-section (4) for "the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or at Madras or at Bombay" substitute "the High Court" and for "Calcutta, Madras or Bombay" substitute "Rangoon" and omit "as the case may be".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Scope.—This section does not authorise the Court to attach any property, which is not authorised to attach by any other sections of the Code where such an order may be made, for execution beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction. S. M. 20. This section merely prescribes the procedure to be adopted when property outside the jurisdiction of the Court is to be attached under any provision of the Code. It does not prescribe the circumstances under which attachment before judgment may be ordered if property situate outside the jurisdiction of the Court. 1 L. B. R. 310; see also 4 C. 823. This section authorises the Court to attach property before judgment, where the property is situate outside the jurisdiction. 7 C. W. N. 216. Whether High Court Judge on original side can direct District Judge within appellate jurisdiction to execute warrant of arrest for contempt is doubtful. Proper course is to direct to issue injunction and arrest might be ordered for breach of same bringing case within pale of section 136. A. I. R. 1908 Cal. 452=55 C. 777=32 C. W. N. 114=1007 Ind. (2) The "Provincial Government" * may declare what shall be the language of any such Court and in what character applications to and proceedings in such Courts shall be written.

(3) Where this Code requires or allows anything other than the recording of evidence to be done in writing in any such Court, such writing may be in English; but if any party or his pleader is unacquainted with English a translation into the language of the Court shall, at his request, be supplied to him; and the Court shall make such order as it thinks fit in respect of the payment of the costs of such translation.

Amendment in Burma.—For "a High Court" read "the High Court" and for "Provincial Government" read "Governor".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

138. [S. 185 A.] (1) The [High Court] may by notification in the "official Gazette" * direct with respect, to any Judge specified in the notification, or falling under a description set forth therein, that evidence in cases in which an appeal is allowed shall be taken down by him in the English language and in manner prescribed.

(2) Where a Judge is prevented by any sufficient reason from complying with a direction under sub-section (1), he shall record the reason and cause the evidence to be taken down in writing from his dictation in open Court.

139. [S. 197.] In the case of any affidavit under this Code—

(a) any Court or Magistrate, or

(b) any officer or other person whom a High Court may appoint in this behalf, or

(c) any officer appointed by any other Court which the "Provincial Government" * has generally or specially empowered in this behalf, may administer the oath to the deponent.

Amendment in Burma.—For "Provincial Government" read "Governor".—Vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Notes.—Order IX, rule 5, C. P. Code, is only an enabling provision enacted for a special purpose only. A plaintiff filed in support of proof of a service of process on the defendant an affidavit was sworn on the Bar Library by the identifier before a pleader who is also an Honorary Magistrate. The Munsiff refused to accept the affidavit, and directed the plaintiff to have an affidavit sworn before the officer of the Court appointed for that purpose. Held, that the Munsiff was right in refusing to accept the affidavit, nor section 139 of the Code contemplates that at the time when an Honorary Magistrate administers the oath, he shall be acting in his official capacity as a Magistrate, and that the provisions of s. 57, clause (7) of the Evidence Act, as to the Court's taking judicial notice of that signature of an Honorary Magistrate, should be interpreted in the same way. 5 Ind. (2) No suit shall be instituted for the purpose of obtaining any restitution or other relief which could be obtained by application under sub-section (1).

Principle.—A claim under s. 144 is governed by the same principles that apply to a claim for money had and received. Where pursuant to a decree or order of the Court one party has been compelled to pay money or transfer property in invitum to another party it would be unconscionable upon the reversal of the decree or order that the party who had received the money or property through the wrongful act of the Court should be held entitled to retain such money or property as against the party who had wrongfully been ordered to pay it and who was claiming restitution. 10 Rang. 480=A. Scope of the section.—The party seeking restitution under s. 144 must show that there was a decree in consequence of which some party to the record had obtained a benefit to the detriment of the principle underlying s. 144 is to give to litigants the fullest benefit of a final decree in a litigation and restore to a party on the final determination of his rights what, if any, has in the meanwhile been lost to him or taken away from him by his opponent on the strength of a decree or order which has been subsequently varied or reversed by the superior Court. Before restitution can be made under this section, the applicant must be satisfied: (1) that the applicant must be according to law: (2) that he has either something by reason of the decree or order reversed: (3) that on the final pronouncement of his rights he is entitled to the benefit of restitution. The section does not in terms say that the applicant for restitution must be a party to the proceeding which has resulted in the original decree being reversed or varied; nor does it state that the final decree should provide for a right in him to apply for restitution. All that is necessary is that the final decree should provide for a right in him to apply for restitution. All that is necessary is that the final decree must be of such a nature that it would be inequitable to allow his opponent to retain what he has obtained from the former on the strength of a decree which ultimately is held to be question is whether the applicant was a party to it, and, if so, whether the final decision can be said to be his contention made in the suit and declaring his right. See also A. I. It is the party who is entitled to restitution who can apply to the Court and claim the help of the Court in the matter, it is for his benefit that the provision has been introduced. The restitution must be such as will put the parties in the position which they would have occupied but for the wrong decree. The party who is to be assisted by Court must be put into the position which he could have occupied but for the wrong decree. It is no answer to that provision to say that it cannot be given effect to because the other party happened to gain no benefit by the wrong decree or order which has been made. 55 M. 1025=63 M. L. Section 144 is meant to apply ordinarily to the class of cases where a person having obtained a decree executes it and recovers money or property from the judgment-debtor and then the decree is reversed which necessitates restitution of the property or money which the judgment-debtor had to part with at the instance of the Court on the ground that this is no longer in force. 11 P. 553=140 Ind. "Court of first instance" confines the applicability to the cases where the variation or reversal has been made or is in consequence of an order made by a superior Court. Scope.—The right of not touch the right existing Co. v. Irving, (1905) A. C. see also 54 L. A. 421=47 pending rights of appeal Mad 126=13 L. W. 37=(1. execution sale took place and the application is set aside on the ground of fraud was made before the new Code of Civil Procedure came into operation does not make the order passed on the application after the new Code came into force subject to a second appeal under the provisions of the old Code. 17 C. W. N 524; 17 C. W. N. 525n. Section 154 of the Code shows that the legislature in enacting it considered that it might and would interfere with rights and the argument that such a view would cause hardship, as previously existing rights would be imperilled, overlooks the provision which prescribed that the Code, although passed in March, 1908, should not come into force until January, 1909, and thus afforded opportunity to all persons having rights under the old Code to enforce them before the new Code came into operation 17 C. W. N. 622. Section 154 means that nothing shall prejudicially affect any present right of appeal. It can have no bearing on the powers of an appellate Court in dealing with appeals before it. 9 Ind. Cas. 815; see also 9 M. L. T. 259=21 M. L. J. 631=9 Ind. Cas. 937; 8 Ind. Cas. 8=7 A. L. J. 1070; 15 Ind. Cas. 725=84 P. W. R. 1912; 16 C. W. N. 1015.

155. [New.] The enactments mentioned in the Fourth Schedule are hereby amended to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof.

156. [Repeals.] Repealed by s 3 and Schedule II of the Second Repealing and Amending Act, 1914 (XVII of 1914.)

157. [S. 3, second sentence.] Notifications published, declarations and rules made, places appointed, agreements filed, scales prescribed, forms framed, appointments made and powers conferred under Act VIII of 1859 or under any Code of Civil Procedure or any Act amending the same or under any other enactment hereby repealed shall, so far as they are consistent with this Code, have the same force and effect as if they had been respectively published, made, appointed, filed, prescribed, framed and conferred under this Code and by the authority empowered thereby in such behalf.

Scope.—Section 157, C. P. Code, is an enabling and not a repealing section. The words "so far as they are inconsistent with this Code" which occur in this section do not implicitly repeal rules framed under s 263, C P Code of 1882. 24 M. L. J. 637=20 Ind. Cas. 775 (F. B.) The term "rules made" means rules made by the proper authority having jurisdiction. Rules under the old Code which were then ultra vires are not valid because they could be made under the new Code 29 M. L. J. 663=31 Ind. Cas. 924.

158. [S. 3, second para.] In every enactment or notification passed or issued before the commencement of this Code in which reference is made to or to any Chapter or section of Act VIII of 1859 or any Code of Civil Procedure or any Act amending the same or any other enactment hereby repealed, such reference shall, so far as may be practicable, be taken to be made to this Code or to its corresponding Part, Order, section or rule.

Scope—Alterations in procedure are always retrospective unless there lie some good reasons against it. 7 Ind. Cas. 11. In the absence of provisions to the contrary the expired or the repealed Act is considered to have never been in existence except as to matters and transactions past and closed. Sustees v. Ellison, 9 B. & C. 752. Churchill v. Crease, 5 Bing. 177. But a repeal does not affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred under any enactment so repealed. Lewis v. Hughes (1916), 1 K. B. 813 C. A.

Court may give judgment for or against one or more of joint parties.

4. [Ss. 26, 28] Judgment may be given without any amendment—

(a) for such one or more of the plaintiffs as may be found to be entitled to relief, for such relief as he or they may be entitled to ;

(b) against such one or more of the defendants as may be found to be liable, according to their respective liabilities.

Defendant need not be interested in all the relief claimed.

5. [R. S. C. O. 16. r. 5.] It shall not be necessary that every defendant shall be interested as to all the relief claimed in any suit against him.

Scope—Defendants liable in the alternative may be joined. (1896) 2 Q. B. 464 ; (1903) 2 K. B. 533 ; (1867) 2 Ex. D. P. 305 ; (1918) 87 L. J. Ch. 335.

6. [S. 29.] The plaintiff may, at his option, join as parties to the same suit all or any of the persons severally, or jointly and severally, liable on any one contract, including parties to bills of exchange, hundis and promissory-notes.

Scope—This rule is confined to suits on contracts. 18 Ind. Cas. 181. Contractual liability may be several, joint or joint and several. In a suit for negotiable instrument the holder is not bound to sue all the parties liable to him. 1 A. 392; 3 C. 541. Where several persons are jointly and severally liable for a single liability, all of them are not necessary parties to a suit against some of them only and they may not be added even as "proper" parties when suit can be decided without them and no multiplicity of suit would arise. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 94.

7. [R. S. C. O. 16 r 7.] Where the plaintiff is in doubt as to the person from whom he is entitled to obtain redress, he may join two or more defendants in order that the question as to which of the defendants is liable, and to what extent, may be determined as between all parties.

Scope—Defendants who are liable in the alternative may in some cases be joined. In this respect there is no distinction between actions arising from breach of contract or torts. Bullock v. London (1907), 1 K. B. 271. This rule applies where the plaintiff is in doubt as to the liability of the person to be sued. Claims in contract against two defendants jointly or in the alternative separately can be joined. Bullock v. London General Omnibus Co., (1907) 1 K. B. 271. 8. [S. 30, S. 32, fourth para] (1) Where there are numerous persons having the same interest in one suit, one or more of such persons may, with the permission of the Court, sue or be sued, or may defend, in such suit, on behalf of or for the benefit of all persons so interested. But the Court shall in such case give, at the plaintiff's expense, notice of the institution of the suit to all such persons, either by personal service or, where from the number of persons or any other cause such service is not reasonably practicable, by public advertisement, as the Court in each case may direct.

(2) Any person on whose behalf or for whose benefit a suit is instituted or defended under sub-rule (1) may apply to the Court to be made a party to such suit.

Scope.—This rule is enacted to avoid multiplicity of suits. A. I. R. 1929 Mad 44 = 27 L. W. 212 = 107 Ind Cas 789. This rule is a rule of convenience founded on the old sub-judice rule.

When a particular individual is affected by any act which amounts to a public nuisance, suit by him individually to remove such nuisance is not maintainable unless he suffers special damage. The proper remedy is to bring a representative suit. 62 C. 692=39 C. W. N. 590=61 C. L. J. 182. In the above case Nasim Ali J. observed "The next contention of the learned advocate is that in any view of the case the road being public roads plaintiff is entitled to bring suits to remove the obstructions, even if the special damage pleaded by him is not established. The obvious answer to his argument is that in that case he would be hit by section 91 of the Civil Procedure Code as the acts committed by the defendants amounts to public nuisance. The learned advocate for the appellant, relying on the decisions in the case of Mauzhar Hasan v. Mohammad Zanan, (52 I. A. 61=29 C. W. N. 486) and Mandakini Devi v. Basanti Kumari Devi (60 C. 1003), argued that the plaintiff was entitled to sue for the removal of the obstruction in these suits in their present forms. In the first case in which Shiah prayed for a declaration of their right to go in procession in Madam on a public road and for perpetual injunction against the sunnis interfering with them, Lord Dunedin observed that special damage other than the obstruction of the procession was not needed. The facts of the second case show that the plaintiff in that suit was put to much inconvenience as no large articles could be brought into her house along the public road which was the only means of entering into her house on account of the narrowing down of the passage by the defendant by the erection of the wall and privy. In view of these facts Jack J., relying on the said observation of Lord Dunedin in Mauzur Hasan's case (52 I. A. 61=29 C. W. N. 486) held that no special damage was required further than the plaintiff's inability to carry large articles into her house owing to obstructions. The plaintiff in the present suit being one of the members of the public, is equally affected by the obstruction with the other members of the public. He has suffered no special damage. His claim is not in respect of a wrong to him individually. He is one of the numerous persons affected by the obstruction and therefore having the same interest in the matter. Consequently the proper course for him was to bring a representative suit in conformity with the provisions of Order 1, r. 8 of the C. P. Code. See Batiran v. Sibram (25 C. W. N. 95), and Kenaravelu v. Rama swami (37 C. W. N. 853 P. C.=56 M. 657).

Scope of sub-rule (1).—A sub-rule (1) is taken from rule 2, order 16 of the Supreme Court Practice. This sub-rule deals with the substitution or addition of plaintiffs after action is brought. To bring a case within the four corners of this sub-rule it must be shown (1) that the action was commenced in the name of the original plaintiff by mistake and (2) that the substitution or addition is necessary for the determination of the real matter in dispute. Joinder of plaintiffs under Order 1, rule 10, is subject to provisions under Order 1, rule 1. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 834=53 M. L. J. 269=1927 M. W. N. 903=105 Ind. Cas. 114. Where a suit brought in

A person can be added or substituted as plaintiff without the consent of the existing plaintiff, and before he can be so added or substituted it must be shown that the action was commenced in the name of the original plaintiff by mistake and that the substitution or addition is necessary for the determination of real matter in dispute. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 340=45 C. L. J. 146=101 Ind. Cas. 527; see also 12 C. L. J. 537=8 Ind. Cas. 87; 30 M. 419; 9 Ind. Cas. 254. Mistake may either be of fact or law. 66 Ind. Cas. 873; A. I. 2. [S. 43.] (1) Every suit shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action ; but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court.

(2) Where a plaintiff omits to sue in respect of, or intentionally relinquishes, any portion of his claim, he shall not afterwards sue in respect of the portion so omitted or relinquished.

Relinquishment of part of claim.

(3) A person entitled to more than one relief in respect of the same cause of action may sue for all or any of such reliefs; but if he omits, except with the leave of the Court, to sue for all such reliefs, he shall not afterwards sue for any relief so omitted.

Omission to sue for one of several reliefs.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this rule an obligation and a collateral security for its performance and successive claims arising under the same obligation shall be deemed respectively to constitute but one cause of action.

Illustration.

A lets a house to B at a yearly rent of Rs. 1,200. The rent for the whole of the years 1905, 1906 and 1907 is due and unpaid. A sues B in 1908, only for the rent due for 1906. A shall not afterwards sue B for the rent due for 1905 or 1907.

Principle.—The real principle underlying cases under this rule is that if the several items which make up the claim are of the same nature and form part of the same course of dealing, so as to pass under the same description and form part of one transaction, they must be considered as one cause of action and must be joined in one suit, though they may have arisen out of several contracts. But claims which are diverse in character, which do not answer the same description and which would require a different class of evidence to support them, may be made subject of different suits, though they may arise out of the same transaction. 12 C. 339. This rule is directed against two evils, viz., the splitting of claims and the splitting of remedies in respect of one cause of action, and is founded upon the maxim that no one shall be vexed twice for one and the same cause. In order that this section may apply, not merely must both suits arise out of the same cause of action, but they must be between the same parties under whom they or any of them claim. 6 Ind. Cas. 226=7 A. L. J. 627; see also 19A 329 (F. B.); A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 539=8 Lah. L. J. 381=22 P. L. R. 630=97 Ind. Cas. 396; 56 Ind. Cas. 966=2 U. P. L. R. 108. The rule is intended to deal with the vice of splitting a cause of action. The object is doubtless to prevent the multiplicity of suits. 1931 A. L. J. 797=A. I. R. (1931) P. C. 229=35 C. W. This rule only purports to bar suits for claim omitted from former suits and arising from the transaction under which the claim was made in the former suit and splitting up of the reliefs in respect of the same cause of action. It does not require that where several causes of action arise from one transaction, the plaintiff should sue for all of them in one suit. The rule is directed to securing the exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action, and not to the inclusion in one and the same action, different causes of action, even though they arise from the same transaction. Suit for partition—The cause of action in a partition suit in a joint-family property must be regarded as exhaustive of the whole property available for division, so far as its existence is known at the date of the plaint. (2) Where causes of action are united, the jurisdiction of the Court as regards the suit shall depend on the amount or value of the aggregate subject-matters at the date of instituting the suit.

Scope—Order 1, rule 1, lays down rules as regards joinder of plaintiffs and order 1, rule 3 that of defendants. This rule lays down rules as regards joinder of causes of action. This rule is to be read subject to rules 4 and 5 of the order. This rule applies to cases where there are only one plaintiff, and one defendant and several causes of action, and also to cases where the plaintiffs and defendants, though consisting of two or more individuals, may be considered as united with reference to all the causes of action.

of each and all of such causes of action. This statement of the Court is important having regard to old Code and that of rule 3, Order II of causes of action against several defendants is the same. As stated in the judgment it lays down that the meaning therefore in this rule, is that all the respect of "each and all" of the cause the defendants in the same suit. (S-- Beyfus) The result of the authorities seems to me to be that the plaintiff may in one action unite several causes of action against several defendants, provided that all such defendants are 'jointly liable in respect of each and all of such causes of action' and that the condition precedent to the plaintiff being allowed to join several causes of action against several defendants, is that such defendants must all have a joint interest in the main question raised by the litigation and that cause of action joined in one suit against several defendants must be causes of action in which the defendants are all jointly interested." Under these rules read together different causes of action against different defendants also can be joined.

30 Ind. Cas. 970. When the suit is framed cannot claim against stranger to the trust in or any other relief. 30 Rang. 342=140 The cause of action for a personal decree upon a promissory-note is incompatible with, and could not be joined to a cause of action upon the mortgage; for the relief in respect of the claim based on a promissory-note is a personal decree against the promissors, whereas the decree in a mortgage suit does not impose any personal obligation upon the mortgagor to pay the mortgage debt. A. L. R. 1935 Rang. 315. The mere fact of misjoinder of parties or causes of action is not sufficient to entitle the defendant to have the proceedings set aside or action dismissed. When the merits of the case have been satisfactorily disposed of in spite of the complication of the proceedings, no effect can be given to the objection of misjoinder. When a multiplicity of parties or causes of action have been joined, there is no absolute right to have them struck out; it is discretionary with the Court to do so if it thinks right. The Court may refuse to permit the joinder of numerous parties and numerous causes of action in one suit even when such joinder does not strictly offend against the rules 41 W. N. 418 (P. C.).

Only certain claims to be joined for recovery of immovable property. 4. [S. 44.] No cause of action shall, unless with the leave of the Court, be joined with a suit for the recovery of immovable property except—

(a) claims for mesne profits or arrears of rent in respect of the property claimed or any part thereof;

(b) claims for damages for breach of any contract under which the property or any part thereof is held; and

(c) claims in which the relief sought is based on the same cause of action:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall be deemed to prevent any party in a suit for foreclosure or redemption from asking to be put into possession of the mortgaged property.

Scope.—This section is intended for the benefit of the defendant and as such waived by him is competent 8 C. L. J. 196. "Section" 44 (=this rule) of the Code of Civil Procedure forbids the joinder with a suit for the recovery of immovable property, or obtain a declaration of title to such property of any claim other than the claims specified in the section." 24 A. 553 (555). A suit for sale or foreclosure in respect of a mortgage is not a suit for the recovery of immovable property. 25 A. 229=A. W. N. 1909, 19. There is nothing irregular in seeking to recover in one suit immovable and movable property if the cause of action is the same in respect of both. 31 C. 262 (P. C.)=31 I. A. 10=8 C. W. N. 146=14 M. 5. [S. 44.] No claim by or against an executor, administrator or heir, as Claims by or against executor, administrator or heir. such, shall be joined with claims by or against him personally, unless the last mentioned claims are alleged to arise with reference to the estate in respect of which the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued as executor, administrator or heir, or are such as he was entitled to, or liable for, jointly with the deceased person whom he represents.

Scope.—Where the executor or administrator has been dealing with assets or making contracts in the course of the administration properly and fairly in his character of executor or administrator and then it becomes a question whether, the contracts being personally entered into by him, he should be sued in his character of legal personal representative or in his personal character. *Padnick v. 6. [S. 45.] Where it appears to the Court that any causes of action joined in one suit cannot be conveniently tried or disposed of together, the Court may order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient.

Scope—This rule is applicable where the joinder has been properly made and the suit is properly constituted but cannot be conveniently tried. 27 M. 80. In a fit case the Court may order a separate trial 8 B. 617; 8 M. 175; 14 A. 531; 6 Ind. Cas. 577. Issues on cause of action misjoined but noticed at a last stage should not be struck out but tried separately, if embarrassing. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 764=113 Ind. Cas. 865; see also 20 W. R. 482; 19 C. ORDER III.

Recognized Agents and Pleadings.

1. [S. 36] Any appearance, application or act in or to any Court, required or authorized by law to be made or done by a party in such Court, may, except where otherwise expressly provided by any law for the time being in force, be made or done by the party in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader [appearing, applying or acting, as the case may be]* on his behalf :

Provided that any such appearance shall, if the Court so directs, be made by the party in person.

Notes.—This rule is extended to the High Court Order 3 rule 1, has not the Court to file an appeal Bom. L. R. 987. The language of Order 3, rule 1, C. P. He can very often find some one living with her or in the neighbourhood, male or female who can take the summons to her. ORDER VI.

Pleadings generally.

Pleading.

1. [New.]. "Pleading" shall mean plaint or written statement.

Pleading.—No definition of the pleading is given in the Act. But according to s. 100 of the Supreme Court of Judicature Act of 1873 pleading "shall include any petition or summons, and also shall include the statements in writing of the claim or demand of any plaintiff and of the defence of any defendant thereto; and of the reply of the plaintiff to any counter claim of a defendant." A writ of summons is not a pleading. Murray v. Stephenson (1887) 19 Q. B. D. 60; Wallis v. Jackson, (1883) 23 Ch. D. 204; but a special endorsement on the writ of summons may be considered a pleading for some purposes. Anlaby v. Practorius, (1888) 20 Q. B. D. 764 C. A. Roberts v. Plants (1895) 1 Q. B. 597. Party must make all necessary assertions to carry the reliefs and prove them in an alternative case. A. I. R. 1931 Cal 25=57 C. 795=129 Ind. Cas. 355. Documents satisfying substantially the requirements of Order VI and Order VII is a plaint. 17 S. L. R. 223=85 Ind. Cas. 893. It is for the Court to find and examine all pleas of law applicable to the facts of a particular case. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 206=107 Ind. Cas. 513.

2. [R. S. C. O. 19, r. 4.] Every pleading shall contain and contain only, a statement in a concise form of the material facts on which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence, as the case may be, but not the evidence by which they are to be proved, and shall, when necessary, be divided into paragraphs, numbered consecutively. Dates, sums and numbers shall be expressed in figures.

Scope.—The law of pleadings may be tersely summarised in four words. "Plead facts not law." It is the duty of the parties to state only the facts on which they rely their claim. It is for the Court to declare the law arising out of those facts. 143 Ind. Cas. 713=A. I. R. 1933 Sind 103; see also 137 Ind. Cas. 33=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 23=27 N. L. R. 327=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 70; A. 3. [R. C. O. 19, r. 5.] The forms in Appendix A when applicable, and where they are not applicable forms of the like character, as nearly as may be, shall be used for all pleadings.

4. [R. S. C. O. 19, r. 6.] In all cases in which the party pleading relies on any misrepresentation, fraud, breach of trust, wilful default or undue influence, and in all other cases in which particulars may be necessary beyond such as are exemplified in the forms aforesaid, particulars (with dates and items if necessary) shall be stated in the pleading.

Scope.—The object of particulars is to enable the party asking for them to know what case he has to meet at the trial, and so to save unnecessary expense and avoid allowing parties to be taken by surprise. Spedding v. Fitzpatrick, 33 Ch. D. 413 C. A. Whenever either party imputes fraud, negligence or misconduct to his opponent the facts must be stated with special particularity. Vide Halsbury's Lel. XXII, p. 454. "Under the contract law of India, as well as by ordinary principles, coercion, undue influence, fraud and misrepresentation, are all separate and separable categories in law. It is true that they may overlap or may be combined. There is a well known rule of pleading expressed in the frequently quoted language of Lord Selborne that—'With regard to fraud if there be any principle which is perfectly well settled, is that general allegations, however strong may be the words in which they are stated are insufficient even to amount to an averment of fraud of which any Court ought to take notice.' The law of India is in no way different from the law of England in this respect. See Shankar Prasad v. The State of Bihar, 19 C. W. N. 745 P. C. Object and Scope.—Rule 2 provides that the material facts must be pleaded, but not the evidence by which they are to be proved. So also in the case of malice, fraudulent intention, knowledge or other condition of the mind of any person, the circumstances from which the same inferred is not to be stated. Mistake and bona fide belief and good faith cannot be presumed but must be distinctly alleged in the pleadings. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 110=33 L. W. 78=130 Ind. Cas. 506. In an action for malicious prosecution, malice must be alleged and proved. Mitchell v. Jenkins, (1833) 5 B. & Ad. 588; Hick v. Faulkner, (1881) 8 Q. B. D. 167. The rule is the same as regards fraud or fraudulent intention. Davy v. Garrett, (1878) 7 Ch. D. 489. Facts constituting fraud must be given in detail. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 181=2 P. L. T. 401=61 Ind. Where knowledge or abuse of it is material, it should be stated expressly. Vide Griffiths v. London Dock, (1884) 13 Q. B. D. 259; Osborne v. Chocqual, (1896) 2 Q. B. 109.

11. [R. S. C. Scope.—Where notice is a part of the cause of action, it should be pleaded specifically. To exercise the power of re-sale by vendor giving of notice is condition precedent. Plaintiff therefore pleads and proves notice. A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 162=28 Ind. Cas. 1026; see also s. 80 supra; where notice should also be proved before the suit is decreed.

12. [R. S. C. Such authority may be established by other means besides the signature. 16. [R. S. C. O. 19, r. 27.] The Court may at any stage of the proceedings order to be struck out or amended any matter in any pleading which may be unnecessary or scandalous or which may tend to prejudice, embarrass or delay the fair trial of the suit.

Order of the defendants' written statement to be struck out as being unnecessary and scandalous is not a judgment. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 64=49 M. L. J. 632=(1925) M. W. N. 75=91 Ind. Cas. 666.

Scandalous—Allegations made in a pleading for the mere purpose of abusing or prejudicing the opposite party and any indecent or offensive matters are scandalous. Christie v. Christie, L. R. 8 Ch. 497; Coyle v. Cumming, 40 L. T. 455; Yearly Practice, p. 278. "It is well settled as pointed out in a work of high authority (Daniell on Chancery Practice, Vol. I, p. 336) that scandalous matter should be avoided in pleadings and any proceedings before the Court may be objected to for scandal and the scandalous matter ordered to be expunged. The Court may take action on its own motion or upon the application of the aggrieved party. But the question still remains what is the test to be applied to determine whether a matter is scandalous. There can be no doubt that allegations of dishonesty are scandalous, but they cannot be treated as such if they are relevant to the issue, for in the words of Lord Justice Cotton in Fisher v. Owen, (8 Ch. D. 645 at p. 653) 'nothing can be scandalous which is relevant', or as put by Lord Justice Brett in Millington v. Lorrington (6 Q. B. D. 196), the mere fact that these paragraphs stated a scandalous fact does not make them scandalous. The sole question is as Lord Chancellor Selwyn said in Christie v. Christie, (L. R. 8 Ch. App. 493), whether the matter is admissible in evidence to show the truth of any material with reference to relief prayed." 14 C

Tend to prejudice and embarrass, etc.—"The rule that the Court is not to dictate to the parties how they should frame their case is one that ought always to be preserved sacred. But the rule is of course subject to the modification and limitation that the parties must not offend against the rules of pleading which have been laid down by the law, and if a party introduces a pleading which is unnecessary, and trial of the action, it becomes a pleading L. J. in Knowles v. Roberts, 38 Ch. D. 263 whether a pleading is embarrassing. ere a plaint is verbose, extremely long and does not allege clearly any fact which would show that the Judge had jurisdiction to hear the case at all the whole document should be struck out. 114 Ind. Cas. 906=1939 A. L. J. 495 Matter in pleading embarrassing fair trial of suit can be struck out by Court at any stage of the proceeding. 20 O. C. 192=4 O. L. J. 499=41 Ind. Cas. 903 Suit should be dismissed for inconsistent and embarrassing allegations in course of suit and not when occurring in plaint only. 2 Pat. L. W. 226=42 Ind. Cas. 620.

17. [R. S. C. O. 28. r. 1.] The Court may at any stage of the proceedings, allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings in such manner and on such terms as may be just, and all such amendments shall be made as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties.

Principle.—"It is a well established principle that the object of Courts is to decide the rights of the parties and not to punish them for mistakes they make in the conduct of their cases by deciding otherwise than in accordance with their right. I know of no kind of error or mistake which if not fraudulent or intended to over-reach, a Court ought not to correct, if it can be done without injustice to the other party. The Courts do not exist for the sake of discipline, but for the sake of deciding matters in controversy and for the sake of doing justice as a matter of favour or grace. It seems a party has framed his case in a case is a matter of right". Per Bowen L. J. D. 705 (C. A.); see also Shot Machinery v. [unintelligible] for amendment should be allowed unless the Court is satisfied that the party applying is acting mala fide or that his blunder has done some injury to his opponent which cannot be compensated for by costs or otherwise. Tildesley v. Harper, 10 Ch. D. 393; Steward v. North Metropolitan Tramways 16 Q. B. D. 178 180; Australian Steam Navigation v. Smith, 14 App. Cas. 318, 320; In Re Trusfort, 53 L. T. 498, 500. So the rule is that however negligent or careless the first omission may have been, and however late the proposed amendment, the amendment should be allowed, if it can be made without injustice to the other side. And there is no injustice if the other side can be compensated by costs.

Clarafede v. Commercial Union, (1883) 32 W. R. 262, 263. So amendment can be allowed at any stage of the proceedings provided it is necessary for determination of real question in issue and there is no question of prejudice, the object being to administer justice and not to punish for mistakes. The main point in considering whether leave should be granted to any party to amend his pleading is whether in the words of Order 6, rule 17, the amendment is necessary for the purpose of determining the real controversy between the parties. Scope.—Order VI, rule 17 of the Civil Procedure Code only provides that the Court may allow an amendment and that the party to whom the permission is given is not to be bound by the time limited for amendment. The time allowed for amendment is extended by the Court. Therefore where a plaintiff fails to amend his plaint when directed to do so, the Court has no power, merely on this account, to dismiss the suit. 60 Ind. Cas. 376; see also 19 Ind. Cas. 472=169 P. ORDER VII.

Plaint.

Particulars to be contained in plaint.

1. [S. 50, para 1.] The plaint shall contain the following particulars:—

(a) the name of the Court in which the suit is brought;

- (b) the name, description and place of residence of the plaintiff;
- (c) the name, description and place of residence of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained;
- (d) where the plaintiff or the defendant is a minor or a person of unsound mind, a statement to that effect;
- (e) the facts constituting the cause of action and when it arose;
- (f) the facts showing that the Court has jurisdiction;
- (g) the relief which the plaintiff claims;
- (h) where the plaintiff has allowed a set-off or relinquished a portion of his claim, the amount so allowed or relinquished; and
- (i) a statement of the value of the subject-matter of the suit for the purposes of jurisdiction and of Court-fees, so far as the case admits.

Plaint must contain more than a private memorial tendered to cause of action; the exhibition of an action Order VI, and Order VII makes a document L. R. 223=85 Ind. Cas. 893 (22 M. 494 foll.)

Formerly "plaint" meant in the Superior Court of England, the cause for which the plaintiff complained against the defendant and for which he obtained the King's writ—Byrne's Law Dictionary. It is absolutely essential that the pleading, not to be embarrassing to the defendants, should state those facts which will put the defendants on their guard and tell them what they will have to meet when the case comes on for trial. This the plaintiff is bound to do though he need not set out the evidence whereby he proposes to prove the facts which give him the title. Williams v. Wilcor, 8 A. & E 33; Gantrel v. Egerton, L. R. 2 C. P. 371; 20 C. W. N. 310=22 C. L. J. 254. A plaintiff may in certain circumstances rely upon several different rights alternately though they may be inconsistent. 34 C. 51=11 C. W. N. 26=4 C. General or other relief.—The intent and purpose of Order 7, rule 7, is to take the place of practice previously followed by Courts. 13 Lah. L. T. 31. A prayer for a general relief is no longer necessary under the new Code. Where facts pleaded and found proved show that the plaintiff is entitled to a particular relief the Court can grant him such relief though it is not specifically pleaded. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 92=26 N. Where the plaint sets out facts in issue that are material the plaintiff is entitled to relief which those facts will sustain under the general prayer but he cannot desert specific relief prayed and under the general prayer ask specific relief on another description unless the facts and circumstances mentioned in the plaint will, consistently with the rules of the Court maintain that relief. 8. [R. S. C. O. 20. r. 7.] Where the plaintiff seeks relief in respect of several distinct claims or causes of action founded upon separate and distinct grounds, they shall be stated as far as may be separately and distinctly.

Notes.—Where the plaintiff claims property by ownership as successor to a person in the mohant-ship of a temple and in his reply to the defendant's written statement pleads, that he is entitled, even if not to the ownership, to the management of the property, the first claim cannot include the second and plaintiff has two distinct claims, founded on separate and distinct grounds and the case falls under Order VII, rule 8. (2) Where the plaintiff sues, or the defendant or any of the defendants is sued in a representative capacity, such statements shall show in what capacity is sued.

(3) The Court, of its own motion, or at the instance of the Court, amend such statements so as to make them correspond with the plaint.

(4) The chief ministerial officer of the Court shall sign such list and copies of statements if, on examination, he finds them to be correct.

Suit instituted.—A suit is instituted when the plaint is filed and not when it is ordered to be registered. 34 C. L. J. 465=66 Ind. Cas. 923.

Documents.—There is distinction between documents sued upon and documents relied upon by the plaintiff. 24 C. W. N. 302=56 Ind. Cas. 457. There is no provision of law which necessitates or even empowers the Court to return a plaint on the ground that the plaintiff has not filed a list of documents on which he relies. 10 O. L. *10. [S. 57.] (1) The plaint shall, at any stage of the suit, be returned to the plaintiff, if he is not entitled to it, should have been instituted.

* This section has been applied to suits for the recovery of rent under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1928 (Ben. Act VI of 1908).

(2) On returning a plaint the Judge shall endorse thereon the date of its presentation and return, the name of the party presenting it, and a brief statement of the reasons for returning it.

Scope—"When a suit is instituted in a Court which has no jurisdiction to try it then the Court must return the plaint to the plaintiff for presentation to the Court having jurisdiction. The provisions are wide enough to cover all cases where the Court is unable to entertain the suit for want of jurisdiction, whatever may be the nature of the objection to the jurisdiction. I am unable to construe this provision to be limited to cases where the Court is incompetent to try the suit by reason of the nature of the subject-matter and not on account of the value thereof being beyond the jurisdiction or even the subject-matter thereof being beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the Court, as for instance, merely to a case where a suit which should have been instituted in a Revenue Court is instituted in a Civil Court or vice versa." Per Jural J. in A. I. R. 1930 Lah 394=127 Ind. Cas. 908; see also A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 234; A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 233. A Court not having jurisdiction to try a suit can neither transfer its jurisdiction temporarily to an arbitrator nor send the suit to the District Judge for transfer to the proper Court. The only course for the Court is to return the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. The only exception to the rule is where a preliminary decree for accounts has been passed by a Court not having jurisdiction to pass a final decree on the examination of accounts. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 195=125 Ind. Cas. 334. In a suit for partition if it is found at the time of the final decree that the suit is undervalued, the Court cannot if the value of the property exceeds the pecuniary limits of the Court, declare preliminary decree a nullity and return the plaint for presentation to competent Court. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 147=125 Ind. Cas. 104; see also A. I. R. 1929 Lah 248=117 Ind. Cas. 369. This rule applies where suit as ordinarily framed is wrongly instituted in that Court, but does not apply while it is found at the trial whether as the result of admissions made by the parties or evidence led by them, that the relief which the plaintiff is really entitled to is different from that claimed in the suit and that that relief is not cognisable by that Court. In the latter case the Court cannot decline jurisdiction but should proceed with the trial or pass such decree as the circumstances permit. It may in certain fit cases grant permission for the withdrawal of the suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. A. I. R. 1930 Sind 252=25 S. L. R. 68=130 Ind. Cas. 554. A plaint may be returned for proper presentation even at the instance of the plaintiff filing it in wrong Court. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 722=118 Ind. Cas. 139. Court cannot return a plaint on the ground that the plaintiff has not mentioned therein the list of the documents on which he relies. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 480=122 Ind. Cas. 488. Where the first suit is instituted in a Court without jurisdiction, and a second suit in a Court of proper jurisdiction, the second suit cannot be regarded as a continuation of the first, even though the subject-matter and the parties to the suits are identical. Although Order 7, rule 10, does not apply to a chartered High Court, it can by virtue of its inherent powers direct the return of a plaint for presentation to proper Court on dismissing a suit for want of jurisdiction. 12 Rang. 432=A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 342. For passing an order returning plaint to be presented to proper Court, it is not necessary that the Court so returning and the Court to which the plaint is ordered to be presented should be exercising the same kind of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 234=149 Ind. Cas. 106. Rejection or return of plaint by Court is not justified merely because the suit is tenable by some other Court. 1936 A. M. L. J. 67. A Court returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court cannot fix a time for such presentation. Ibid. Order 7, rule 10, says the plaint should be returned and the word "plaint" must refer to the plaint which is the basis of the suit at the time it is returned. If a Court has jurisdiction, it is impossible for it to act under Order 7, r. 10, for the Court itself, if it has jurisdiction is the Court in which the suit should be instituted. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 310=158 Ind. Cas. 613. Where a Court originally had jurisdiction to try the suit but discovers at the time of passing a decree that it is incompetent to pass the decree because of the pecuniary valuation, Order VII, rule 10, does not apply. Court in which the suit is instituted cannot return the plaint for presentation to the proper Court on the ground that it would be more advantageous to the defendant to have the suit tried in that Court. The plaint can be returned only on the ground for want of jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1917 Cal. 87=97 Ind. Cas. 979. Where a Judge holds a case set out in the plaint to be untrue in fact, he ought to dismiss the suit on the merits and not return the plaint under Order VII, rule 10. ORDER VIII.

Written Statement and Set off.

1. [S. 110.] The defendant may, and, if so required by the Court, shall, at or before the first hearing or within such time as the Court may permit, present a written statement of his defence.

N. B.—For local amendments in Lahore Oudh and Peshwar.—Vide infra.

Scope.—Ordinarily written statements should be submitted before the first hearing of the suit. 5 W. R. Act X, 39; 4 B. 576. But the Court may extend time for filing the same. 4 B. 576. A written statement filed at or before the first hearing requires no stamp-duty. 12 C. L. R. 367; 5 B. 400. Where the Court calls for a written statement after the first hearing, it is also exempt from stamp-duty. 5 B. 400. In Small Causes Court suits written statement is not necessary in the absence of specific notice in the summons. But, should such a statement be found necessary, time should be granted without burdening the defendant with adjournment costs. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 171=4 Luck. 529=7 O. W. N. 894=121 Ind. Cas. 894.

A. L. J. 181=A. I. R. 1931 All 333.

2. [R. S. C. O. 19, r. 15.] The defendant must raise by his pleading all matters which show the suit not to be maintainable, or that the transaction is either void or voidable in point of law, and all such grounds of defence as, if not raised, would be likely to take the opposite party by surprise, or would raise issues of fact not arising out of the plaint, as for instance, fraud, limitation, release, payment, performance or facts showing illegality.

Scope.—In written statements, it is necessary to plead facts only and not points of law. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 511=32 Bom. L. R. 1178=128 Ind. Cas. 609; see also A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 578=76 Ind. Cas. 603. Defendants having admitted execution of documents but failing to plead fraud or undue influence and no issue thereon was raised, Court cannot come to the finding that the contents were unknown to the defendants. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 154=1922 Pat. 184=37 Ind. Cas. 980. Unless suit is barred prima facie, appellate Court cannot enter into the enquiry as regards bar by limitation; plea of limitation under special law must be pleaded specifically. 28 C. L. J. 216=46 Ind. Cas. 787; see also 69 Ind. Cas. 194; 34 C. L. J. 205=66 Ind. Cas. 287; 32 C. L. J. 236=60 Ind. Cas. 280. There is a defence of confusion and avoidance when the basis of the claim is admitted but is sought to be set aside on the ground of fraud, release, limitation, etc. 54 Ind. Cas. 131. Plea as regards want of legal necessity in a mortgage suit by the manager of a joint Hindu family cannot in an appeal be raised for the first time. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 356=3 P. L. T. 367=1 Pat. 612=67 Ind. Cas. 790.

3. [R. S. C. O. 19, r. 17.] It shall not be sufficient for a defendant in his written statement to deny generally the grounds alleged by the plaintiff, but the defendant must deal specifically with each allegation of fact of which he does not admit the truth, except damages.

Scope.—Order VIII, rule 5, should be considered along with rule 3. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 950=22 L. W. 26=85 Ind. Cas. 900. In a mortgage suit defendant putting plaintiff to proof of mortgage-deed means requiring him to prove that it was duly executed. 6 O. L. J. 600=54 Ind. Cas. 107.

against B, the latter cannot set-off the debt against the price, for C fills two different characters one as the vendor to B, in which he sues B, and the other as representative to A.

(c) A sues B on a bill of exchange. B alleges that A has wrongfully neglected to insure B's goods and is liable to him in compensation which he claims to set-off. The amount not being ascertained cannot be set-off.

(d) A sues B on a bill of exchange for Rs. 500. B holds a judgment against A for Rs. 1,000. The two claims being both definite pecuniary demands may be set-off.

(e) A sues B for compensation on account of trespass. B holds a promissory-note for Rs. 1,000 from A and claims to set off that amount against any sum that A may recover in the suit. B may do so, for as soon A recovers, both sums are definite pecuniary demands.

(f) A and B sue C for Rs. 1,000. C cannot set off a debt due to him by A alone.

(g) A sues B and C for Rs. 1,000. B cannot set off a debt due to him alone by A.

(h) A owes the partnership firm of B and C Rs. 1,000, B dies, leaving C surviving. A sues C for a debt of Rs. 1,500 due in his separate character. C may set off the debt of Rs. 1,000.

N. B.—For local amendment in Patna.—Vide infra.

Scope of the Section.—A set-off under order 8, rule 6, may be pleaded by a defendant, although the claim of the plaintiff is denied. Set-off is not merely a defence to the plaintiff's claim, and a decree may be granted to the defendant the suit must be decreed as the two transactions are separate. But if the defendant stamps his counter claim properly the two cases can be tried together in one suit. But the finding of the stamp paper in the Appellate Court will not validate the counter claim in the trial Court, the defendant's remedy is only to file a separate regular suit on his counter-claim. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 116=156 Ind. Cas. 425.

Equitable Set-off—This rule deals with legal set-off only and does not apply to equitable set-off. 65 P. W. R. 1917=62 P. R. 1917=39 Ind. Cas. 508. An equitable will be found to exist not only in the cases of mutual debts and credits, but also where cross-demands arise out of one and the same transaction, or are so connected in their nature and circumstances as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover independently of the provisions of C. P. Code and no Court-fees need be charged. A. I. R. 1930 All. 875=128 Ind. Cas. 763. The principle underlying the equitable set-off is that even if it is not ascertained sum, it must arise out of the same transaction so as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover and the defendant be driven to a separate suit. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 808=125 Ind. Cas. 444; see also A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 301=92 Ind. Cas. 787; 90 Ind. Cas. 465=49 M. L. J. 14=(1925) M. W. N. 228=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 830. account. Such set-off is not governed by Order 8, rule 6. A. I. R. 1931 Cal 358=35 C. W. N. 17=132 Ind. Cas. 195. A legal set-off requires a Court-fee because it is a claim that might be established by a separate suit in which a Court-fee would have to be paid. But there is no such fee required in the case of an equitable set-off which is for an amount that may be equitably deducted from the claim of the plaintiff, where a Court-fee has been paid on the gross amount. An equitable set-off may however only be claimed by the defendant for a claim arising out of the same transaction as the plaintiff's claim. A. I. R. 1931 All. 115=1934 A. L. J. 421. A person cannot have a share in an estate by way of inheritance even though the debt be time-the same transaction or when there is on each side knowledge of and confidence in one debt discharging the other. 40 C. W. N. 75.

In a suit for recovery of money.—Every suit in which the final decree is for money is a suit for recovery of money. 10 A. 587. It is doubtful whether a mere suit for account is a suit for recovery of money. 13 I. A. 48 (56)=13 C. 124. A suit for enforcement of mortgage security is not a suit for recovery of money. 8 C. W. N. 174. Set-off cannot be claimed in a suit for damages for breach of contract. 2 L. B. R. 186. Even in a money suit set-off cannot be allowed unless the sum is ascertained and legally recoverable. 1 P. L. R. 615=2 P. L. J. 451=40 Ind. Cas. 150; see also 38 Ind. Cas. 203; 1936 A. M. L. J. 60. 1931 Cal 23=129 Ind. Cas. 420=57 C. 855. A suit on a promissory-note accompanied by deposit of title-deeds is a claim for recovery of money as the words "suits for recovery of money" do not necessarily mean a suit for money pure and simple. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 13. Set-off under rule 6 has wider meaning than English set-off, but not as wide as counter claim. A. I. R. 1934 All. 543. A set-off under Order 8, rule 6, may be pleaded by a defendant, although claim of the plaintiff is denied. Set-off is not merely a defence to the plaintiff's claim, and a decree may be granted to the defendant although the suit of the plaintiff is dismissed. Ibid. Court must treat defendant's claim under Order 8, rule 6, as plaint and grant decree under Order 20, rule 19 (1). Ibid. Where a plaintiff sues several defendants, alleging a joint debt, a defendant, who denies the joint debt may plead a set-off due to him alone. The illustration (g) to this rule does not prohibit this. There is nothing in the wording of this rule to show that such a set-off could not be pleaded. Ibid.

Ascertained sum.—Ascertained sum does not mean sum admitted by the plaintiff. The term is simply contradictory of unliquidated damages, that is the sum of money of which the amount is known. It excludes both unliquidated damages as well as mesne.

Set-off claimed under the basis of damages to be ascertained after the protracted enquiry cannot be allowed as such. A. I. R. 1929 All. 52=111 Ind. Cas. 790. Party can set off the costs awarded to him by one order in the same suit as against those awarded to another party by a subsequent order in the same suit. 2 P. L. W. 62=39 Ind. Cas. 888. Sums specified are not necessarily ascertained, so that they may be legally recoverable within the meaning of Order VIII, rule 6. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 225=21 S. L. R. 385. In a money suit set-off cannot be allowed unless the sum is ascertained and legally recoverable. 40 Ind. Cas. 350=2 P. L. J. 451=(1917) Pat 279; 38 Ind. Cas. 203.

Counter Claim.—Distinction between set-off and counter-claim is that set-off is for ascertained sum or it must arise out of the same transaction as the plaintiff's claim. Counter-claim need not arise out of the same transaction. Set-off is ground of defence and it should be pleaded in the written statement. Counter claim is not any defence to the plaintiff's claim, it is good ground of independent action against the plaintiff. If the statute of limitation is pleaded in defence of set-off, the plaintiff in order to establish his plea, must prove that the set-off was barred when the plaintiff commenced his action. In the case, however, of counter-claim it is enough for the plaintiff to prove that the counter claim was barred when it was pleaded. A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 113=24 Bom. L. R. 998=77 Ind. Cas. 943, see also 66 Ind. Cas. 209=48 C. 817=25 C. W. N. 800=A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 67; 67 Ind. Cas. 326=24 Bom. L. R. 328=47 B. 182=A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 24; A. I. R. 1934 All. 427; A. I. R. 1923 P. There is a different terminus ad quem for the case of a mere set-off and the case of counter demand. In the former case the amount claimed must be legally recoverable by him on the date of the suit, while in the latter it must be legally recoverable by him on the date of his written statement. A. I. R. 1934 All. 427=1934 A. L. J. 286=150 Ind. Cas. 105. Counter claim if properly stamped may be tried as a cross-suit. A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 346=2 Rang. 276=82 Ind. Cas. 721. Counter claim must be within time at the date the defendant files his pleadings. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 445=89 Ind. Cas. 371. A set-off under Order 8, rule 6, is wider than a set-off at English law but it is not as wide as a counter-claim. When the provisions now embodied in Order 8, rule 6, were framed by the legislature the word counter-claim was not introduced, but some of the attributes of counter claim were given to a set-off and some of the attributes of set-off at English law were modified. A set-off under Order 8, rule 6, is not as wide as a counter claim, as the suit of the plaintiff must be for recovery of money and the set-off of the defendant must be of any ascertained sum of money legally recoverable by him from the plaintiff. A. I. R. 1934 All. 543=1934 A. L. J. 393=150 Ind. Cas. 433. No provision is made by C. P. Code, Order 8 for counter-claim in money suits though it provides for set-off. 80 Ind. Cas. 192. Claim to share of profits realised by manager of the tenancy land, cannot be a set-off in a suit for contribution of rent between the plaintiffs and the defendant but can be allowed as a counter-claim. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 155=8 N. L. J. 205=92 Ind. Cas. 74. Ordinarily a defendant is not allowed to set up a counter-claim in answer to the claim of the plaintiff but the Court may grant equitable relief to the defendant in an appropriate case and enable the defendant to claim compensation for loss occasioned by the act of the plaintiff. 59 C. 833. Where defendant makes a counter-claim to the plaintiff's suit and the Court decides to hear two together but the plaintiff withdraws his suit with liberty to bring a fresh one, the counter-claim can be continued as a plaint and proceeded on merits. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 160.

Not exceeding the pecuniary jurisdiction—The whole of the sum claimed as set-off should be within the jurisdiction of the Court. A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 22=2 Rang. 349=84 Ind. Cas. 956; 84 Ind. The amount of the set-off must be within the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court in which the plaintiff's suit is brought. It is immaterial whether the defendant has cognizance of the Court. A set-off may be pleaded even though it exceeds the jurisdiction of the Court such that if it is made the defendant's liability will exceed the jurisdiction of the Court within its jurisdiction. But a set-off cannot be pleaded by way of defence to an action, even if it would have no territorial jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the set-off, if a suit was filed in respect of such subject matter. In this respect there is a distinction between set-off and counter-claim. In one case both are available but in the other only a set-off is available. (See further, supra.)

Sub-section (2)—The Provisions of Order 8, rule 6, and Order 20, rule 19(1), read together, show that the Court must treat the claim of the defendant exactly as if the defendant had filed a plaint and the Court must pass a decree in favour of the defendant, if his claim is established, even though the claim of the plaintiff against the defendant is dismissed. A. I. R. 1934 All. 543—1934 A. L. J. 393; A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 160—152 Ind. Cas 552. Where there has been an order for costs against the defendant and costs have been taxed and the precise amount of the taxed costs has been paid into Court, the defendant is not entitled to a set-off claimed by him against the plaintiff in answer to the plaintiff's attorney's claim to exercise his right of lien. 40 C. W. N. 458.

7. [R. S. C. O. 20, r. 7.] Where the defendant relies upon several distinct grounds of defence or set-off founded upon separate and distinct facts, they shall be stated, as far as may be, separately and distinctly.

8. [New.] Any ground of defence which has arisen after the institution of the suit or the presentation of a written statement claiming a set-off may be raised by the defendant or plaintiff, as the case may be, in its written statement.

9. [S. 112.] No pleading subsequent to the written statement of a defendant other than by way of defence to a set-off shall be presented except by the leave of the Court and upon such terms as the Court thinks fit, but the Court may at any time require a written statement or additional written statement from any of the parties and fix a time for presenting the same.

Setting aside Decrees Ex parte.

13. [S. 108.] In any case in which a decree is passed ex parte against a defendant, he may apply to the Court by which the decree was passed for an order to set it aside; and if he satisfies the Court that the summons was not duly served, or that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing, the Court shall make an order setting aside the decree as against him upon such terms as to costs, payment into Court or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit :

Provided that where the decree is of such a nature that it cannot be set aside as against such defendant only it may be set aside as against all or any of the other defendants also.

Sufficient cause.—Under this rule it is necessary that the Court should find that the defendants were prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing. A. I. R. 1935 All. 565=1935 A. L. J. 377. There is sufficient ground for showing latitude to the defendant where the defendant is actually present but could not appear on account of counsel's fault. 18 R. An application under Order 9, rule 13, was filed on ground of defendant's illness. Affidavits were filed in support by certificates of medical practitioners. There was a counter affidavit filed on behalf of the plaintiff showing to the negative that the defendants were not ill. Held that in the absence of any clear motive for the defendants to have deliberately absented themselves from the Court on the day fixed for hearing of the case, the Court should hold that the defendants made out a sufficient cause for their non-appearance on the day fixed for hearing of the case. ORDER XI.

Discovery and Inspection.

1. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 1.] In any suit the plaintiff or defendant by leave of the Court may deliver interrogatories in writing for the examination of the opposite parties or any one or more of such parties, and such interrogatories when delivered shall have a note at the foot thereof stating which of such interrogatories each of such person is required to answer: Provided that no party shall deliver more than one set of interrogatories to the same party without an order for that purpose: Provided also that interrogatories which do not relate to any matters in question in the suit shall be deemed irrelevant, notwithstanding that they might be admissible on the oral cross-examination of a witness.

Scope.—Interrogatories cannot be delivered without the leave of the Court, for the examination of the opposite parties. The words "opposite parties" mean parties between whom there is some right to adjust in the suit. Shaw v. Smith, 18 Q. B. D. 193 (1908, 200); Molloy v. Kilby, 15 Ch. D. 162. It may include co-defendants, if there be some dispute between them. Birchall v. Birch, (1913) 2 Ch. 375. Where plaintiff and some of the defendants have the same interest in the suit and plaintiff is really fighting the case on their behalf as well as for himself avoid surprise at the trial. Lyon v. Tweddell, 13 Ch. D. 375. The facts which will prove a party's case can be put in interrogatories. Hooton v. Dalby, (1907) 2 K. B. 18 (21). In a suit on promissory-note, where the plea is want of consideration, application by defendant without letting in evidence to issue interrogatories to the plaintiff is not allowed. Carroll v. Carroll, A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 298. So also evidence cannot be allowed. 142 Ind. 151. But interrogatories to discover those facts are permissible Osram 129 (C. A.). Facts which destroy other party's case may be put in the interrogatories. Plymouth Mutual v. Traders' Association, (1906) 1 K. B. 403 (417). An interrogatory may deal with any fact the existence or non-existence of which is relevant to the existence or non-existence of the facts directly in issue. Marriot v. Chamberlain, 17 Q. B. D. 154 (162); Nash v. Layton, (1911) 2 Ch. 71 (76, 83); Kennedy v. Dodson, (1895) 1 Ch. 334. "The legitimate use, and the only legitimate use of interrogatories is to obtain from the party interrogated admissions of facts while it is necessary for the party interrogator to prove in order to establish his case; and if the party interrogated goes further and seeks by his interrogatories to get from the other party matters while it is not incumbent on him to prove, although such matters may indirectly assist his case, the interrogatories ought not to be admitted." Per A. L. Smith J. in Kennedy v. Dodson, (1895) 1 Ch. 331 (341); but see Heaton v. Dalby, (1907) 2 K. B. at p. 21.

Order XI is not liable to be set aside on a writ of prohibition and a Court on submission of 30=23 C. L. J. 480=43 Ind. Cas. 227; Order XI of the present Civil Procedure is the same as Order XXXI of the Rules 15. 765 An interrogatory must not be 254

By and to what person.—Discovery by way of interrogatories may be allowed to a plaintiff from a co plaintiff, or to a defendant from a co-defendant, in cases in the action within the meaning of this rule and therefore cannot be compelled to answer interrogatories. 11 Q. B. D. 251.

Power of High Court.—Where lower Court declines to re-issue interrogatories, the High Court can interfere under s. 107, Government of India Act of 1919 A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 28

2. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 2] On an application for leave to deliver interrogatories, the particular interrogatories proposed to be submitted shall be submitted to the Court.

In deciding upon such application, the Court shall take into account any offer, which may be made by the party sought to be interrogated to deliver particulars, or to make admissions, or to produce documents relating to the matters in question, or any of them, and leave shall be given as to such only of the interrogatories submitted as the Court shall consider necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

Scope.—Under rule 2, the Judge has not any power to settle interrogatories, but he can decide what should be administered. The dicta in English cases with regard to the more extensive powers of Courts in matters of probate, seem to imply that the strictest relevancy in the interrogatories may not be required, but the Courts certainly be obliged to exclude anything offensive or improper in the same way as in any other case. 43 C 300=23 C. L. J. 480=34 Ind. Cas. 227. Interrogatories should be disallowed when they aim at discovering the nature of the opponent's evidence to ascertain the documents on which the defendant has based the particulars of the documents. 36 Ind. Cas. 227. The Court allows an interrogatory does not amount to a discovery. The party interrogated is at liberty to answer or not. rule 6. Peck v. Ray, (1894) 3 Ch. 282 (C. A.) Service on pleader of the party interrogated is good. Re Mulcastar, 47 L. J. Ch. 609; Little v. Roberts, 30 L. T. 367. The proper time for allowing interrogatories is after the defence is put in, although the Court is competent to allow interrogatories at an earlier stage. Mercier v. Cotton, 1 Q. B. D. 442; In re, A. Debtor, (1910) 2 K. B. p. 63; Beal v. Pilling, 38 L. T. 486. A party may deliver interrogatories in order to ascertain the nature of the opponent's case or to support his own case, in order to narrow the points in issue or to avoid proving facts which are admitted. But the procedure of delivering interrogatories in order to prove the contents of documents which have been held inadmissible in evidence is entirely misconceived. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 181=17 N. L. J. 63=151 Ind. Cas. 104.

3. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 3] In adjusting the costs of the suit inquiry shall at the instance of any party be made into the propriety of exhibiting such interrogatories, and if it is the opinion of the taxing officer or of the Court, either with or without an application for inquiry, that such interrogatories have been exhibited unreasonably, vexatiously, or at improper length, the costs occasioned by the said interrogatories and the answers thereto shall be paid in any event by the party in fault.

4. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 4.] Interrogatories shall be in Form No. 2 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

5. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 5] Where any party to a suit is a corporation or a body of persons, whether incorporated or not, empowered by law to sue or be sued, whether in its own name or in the name of any officer or other person, any opposite party may apply for an order allowing him to deliver interrogatories to any member or officer of such corporation or body, and an order may be made accordingly.

Scope.—In the case of corporation, the Court is to decide what member or officer is most likely to be competent to answer the interrogatories. Berkely v. Standard, (1879) 13 Ch. D. 97. Ordinarily the Secretary of the Corporation is the fit person to be interrogated. In re, Alexandra Palace Co., (1880) 16 Ch. D. 58. The answer to the interrogatories need not be based on the personal knowledge of the member of the corporation but may be based on information. South Work Water Co. v. Quick, 3 Q. B. D. 315 (321); Welsback Incandescent v. New Sunlight, (1900) 2 Ch. 1. If the Court is satisfied that a proper officer is named the leave will be granted as of course. In re, Alexandra Palace Co. 50. L. J. Ch. 7=16 Ch. D. 58. An ordinary member of a company ought not to be examined on interrogatories unless the Judge is satisfied that there is no officer of the company capable of making the discovery, and that the member proposed to be examined has the required information. Berkeley v. Standard Investment Co., 13 Ch. D. 97. Where in an action against a company an application is made under this rule for leave to deliver interrogatories to a member of the company, no ice of the application must be served upon the member. Chaddock v. British South Africa, (1896) 2 Q. B. 153.

6. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 6] Any objection to answering any interrogatory on the ground that it is scandalous or irrelevant or not exhibited bona fide for the purpose of the suit, or that the matters inquired into are not sufficiently material at that stage, or on any other ground, may be taken in the affidavit in answer.

Scope.—The mere issue of interrogatories does not debar the party interrogated to make objection under this rule. Peck v. Ray (1894), 3 Ch. 282. In answer the party interrogated may state that objects to answer the particular interrogatory or interrogatories but must put in the grounds of his objection. Church v. Perry, 36 L. T. 513, Smith v. Brig, 36 L. T. 471. The Court should adjudicate an objection as to the relevancy of interrogatories. 46 Ind. Cas. 660.

Scandalous.—An objection on the ground that interrogatory or information sought is scandalous. But nothing can be scandalous which is relevant. Fisher v. Owen, 8 Ch. D. 645 (653); Kemble v. Hope, 10 T. L. R. 254. A thing is scandalous, the mere purpose of which is to be abuse or prejudice the opposite party or which is indecent or offensive. Christie v. Christie, 8 Ch. 499; Coyle v. Cumming, 40 L. T. 455. A person is also not bound to answer an interrogatory if the answer tends to criminate him. Lee v. Read, 5 Beav. 381; Lamb v. Monster, 10 Q. B. D. 110.

cred. Parker v. Wells, & Herschell in Kennedy this description, unless ought to be rigorously husen v. Labouchere, 3 660.

Bona fide—Interrogatories may become oppressive and may be used for improper purposes. In such a case the Court has discretion to disallow them on the merits of the case. Heaton v. Gidney, (1910) 1 K. B. at p. 758. So a party may object to interrogatories which are not put bona fide for the purpose of the suit. Allhusen v. Labouchere, 3 Q. B. D. 654 (664); Edmondson v. Brick & Co., (1905) 2 K. B. 523, 526.

Not sufficiently material.—Vide Parker v. Wells, 18 Ch. D. 477 (483).

7. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 7.] Any interrogatories may be set aside on the ground that they have been exhibited unreasonably or vexatiously, or struck out on the ground that they are prolix, oppressive, unnecessary or scandalous; and any application for this purpose may be made within seven days after service of the interrogatories.

Scope.—This rule deals with two cases, first, where interrogatories are exhibited which are in themselves unobjectionable, but which, by reason of the circumstances of the case, it would be unreasonable or vexatious to call upon the party interrogated to answer; secondly, where interrogatories are in themselves objectionable by reason of being prolix, oppressive, unnecessary or scandalous. In the first case, all or any of the interrogatories may be set aside by Judge's order; in the second case, all or any may be struck out. Oppenheim v. Sheffield, 62 L. J. Q. B. 167=(1893) 1 Q. B. 5. Where interrogatories are unreasonably prolix, it is the duty of the Court to strike them out under this rule. Grumbrecht v. Parry, 32 W. R. 558. If the Judge thinks that interrogatories as a whole, or enblock, are vexatious or unreasonable, he may strike out the whole of them without sifting the mass for the purpose of saving those questions which may be reasonable and fit. And he may, if he thinks proper, allow the parties whose interrogatories have been struck out to apply to the Court to set aside the order. Birton, 32 W. R. 558.
prolix, oppressive

13. A party who applies to strike interrogatories must, unless they are altogether an abuse of the practice of the Court, specify those to which he objects. Allhusen v. Labouchere, 3 Q. B. D. 654=47 L. J. Ch. 819.

8. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 8.] Interrogatories shall be answered by affidavit to be filed within ten days, or within such other time as the Court may allow.

Scope.—The defendants cannot refuse to answer on the ground that they have got no personal knowledge, of the matter interrogated. Pavitt v. North Metropolitan, 48 L. T. 730. A party to a cause is not excused from answering interrogatories relevant to the question in issue on the ground that they are as to matters which are not within such party's own knowledge, but are only within the knowledge of his agents or servants, if derived in the ordinary course of their employment; and he

9. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 9.] An affidavit in answer to interrogatories shall be in Form No. 3 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

10. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 10.] No exceptions shall be taken to any affidavit in answer, but the sufficiency or otherwise of any such affidavit objected to as insufficient shall be determined by the Court.

Scope.—The Court, with reference to any part of the interrogatories, is regulated by the sufficiency or insufficiency of the answer, and not by the fact that which he has no excuse for.

further answer. Lyell v. Kennedy, 53 L. J. 937. An embarrassing answer to interrogatories may be dealt with as insufficient. Ibid; see also Lyell v. Kennedy, 33 W. R. 44.

11. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 11, S. 127.] Where any person interrogated omits to answer, or answers insufficiently, the party Order to answer or answer further. interrogating may apply to the Court for an order requiring him to answer, or to answer further, as the case may be. And an order may be made requiring him to answer or answer further, either by affidavit or by viva voce examination, as the Court may direct.

Scope.—The terms of Order XI, rule 11, contemplates two orders being made. First an order for the answer to the interrogatories or for the discovery or inspection of the documents within a specified time; and secondly upon the failure to comply with such an order a further order dismissing the suit. An order dismissing the suit should not be made unless the Court is satisfied that the plaintiff is

Ind. Cas. 104. The order of the lower Court under Order 11, rule 11, asking to make sufficient answers amounts to a case decided and if there has been a material irregularity in allowing interrogatories which are not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs it is necessary to intervene to prevent injustice being done. Ibid. 12. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 12, S. 129.] Any party may, without filing any affidavit, apply to the Court for an order directing any other party to any suit to make discovery on oath of the documents which are or have been in his possession or power, relating to any matter in question therein. On the hearing of such application the Court may either refuse or adjourn the same, if satisfied that such discovery is not necessary, or not necessary at that stage of the suit, or make such order, either generally or limited to certain classes of documents, as may, in its discretion, be thought fit: Provided that discovery shall not be ordered when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

Scope.—The words "any party" and "any other party" contemplate opposite party. 134 Ind. Cas. 935=58C. 1091=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 72. In administration suit defendants inter se are not opposite parties without issues between them. 134 Ind. Cas. 935=58C. 1091=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 72. Who can be compelled to make discovery.—Where the agent of a principal resident abroad brings an action in his own name, and on a contract made with him as agent the defendant is entitled to discovery to the same extent as if the principal were a party to the action, and to have the action stayed till such discovery is made. *Willis v. The Court has a discretion in ordering discovery, and there is no absolute rule that a defendant should not be ordered to make an affidavit of documents before the delivery of defence. *Edelstone v. 13. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 13; S. 129, second para.] The affidavit to be made by a party against whom such order as is mentioned in the last preceding rule has been made, shall specify which (if any) of the documents therein mentioned he objects to produce, and it shall be in Form No. 5 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

14. [R. S. C. O. 31, r. 14; S. 130.] It shall be lawful for the Court, at any time during the pendency of any suit, to order the production by any party thereto, upon oath, of such of the documents in his possession or power, relating to any matter in question in such suit, as the Court shall think right; and the Court may deal with such documents, when produced, in such manner as shall appear just.

2. [R. S. C. O. 32, r. 2; S. 128.] Either party may call upon the other party to admit any document, saving all just exceptions; and in case of refusal or neglect to admit, after such notice, the costs of proving any such document shall be paid by the party so neglecting or refusing, whatever the result of the suit may be, unless the Court otherwise directs, and no costs of proving any document shall be allowed unless such notice is given, except where the omission to give the notice is, in the opinion of the Court, a saving of expense.

Court may send for papers from its own records or from other Courts.

(2) Every application made under this rule shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be supported by an affidavit showing how the record is material to the suit in which the application is made, and that the applicant cannot without unreasonable delay or expense obtain a duly authenticated copy of the record or of such portion thereof as the applicant requires, or that the production of the original is necessary for the purposes of justice.

(3) Nothing contained in this rule shall be deemed to enable the Court to use in evidence any document which under the law of evidence would be inadmissible in this suit.

1. [S. 146.] (1) Issues arise when material proposition of fact or law is affirmed by the one party and denied by the other.
Framing of issues.

(2) Material propositions are those propositions of law or fact which a plaintiff must allege in order to show a right to sue or a defendant must allege in order to constitute his defence.

(3) Each material proposition affirmed by one party and denied by the other shall form the subject of a distinct issue.

(4) Issues are of two kinds : (a) issues of fact, (b) issues of law.

(5) At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall, after reading the plaint and the written statements, if any, and after such examination of the parties as may appear necessary, ascertain upon what material propositions of fact or of law the parties are at variance, and shall thereupon proceed to frame and record the issues on which the right decision of the case appears to depend.

(6) Nothing in this rule requires the Court to frame and record issues where the defendant at the first hearing of the suit makes no defence.

7. [S. 142A.] (1) Every document which has been admitted in evidence, or a copy thereof where a copy has been substituted for the original under rule 5, shall form part of the record of the suit.

Court may order any document to be impounded.

9. [S. 144.] (1) Any person, whether a party to the suit or not, desirous of receiving back any document produced by him in the suit and placed on the record shall, unless the document is impounded under rule 8, be entitled to receive back the same,—

Where the parties have adduced evidence on a question and discussed it before the Court which decides it as if there was an issue about it, the decree need not be set aside on appeal merely on the ground that no such issue was framed. A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 384=28 Bom. L. R. 743=96 Ind. Cas. 827. Under Order 14, rule 1, issues arise only when a material proposition of fact or law is affirmed by one party and denied by the other. Such affirmation or denial must be contained in the pleadings as defined in Order 6, rule 1. Where there is no written statement the only issues would be that arising out of the plaint which allegations are put in issue when not admitted. A. I. R. 1936 Nag. 177. The Court while striking issue regarding limitation should first ascertain what article the parties consider to be applicable to the suit as framed. If the application of a particular article raises a question of fact, an issue should be struck on those facts; and if the facts are not in dispute, it may be possible to decide the question on purely legal arguments in the initial stages of the case without putting the parties to the expense of the trial. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 982.

Clause (5).—The words "first hearing of the suit" in Order 13, rule 1, are obviously different from the words "the first hearing of the suit" under Order 14, rule 1, clause 5, because parties have not to produce their documents till issues are framed. "First hearing" would clearly extend at least up to the period of the "first hearing" of the suit referred to in Order 13, rule 1. Hence it cannot be said that the powers conferred by Order 14, rule 1(5) only extend to the first discussion of issues and not to any subsequent ones which intervene between 'the first hearing of the suit' as meant by Order 14, rule 1, clause 5 and the first hearing as meant by Order 13, rule (1). A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 261.

2. [S. 146, sixth para.] Where issues both of law and of fact arise in the same suit, and the Court is of opinion that the case or any part thereof may be disposed of on the issues of law only, it shall try those issues first, and for that purpose may, if it thinks fit, postpone the settlement of the issues of fact until after the issue of law have been determined.

N. B.—For local amendment in Madras.—Vide infra.

Scope—This rule gives Court power, where issues of fact and of law arise in same suit, to postpone settlement of issues of fact until after issues of law have been determined, if Court is of opinion that case or any part of it may be disposed of on issue of law at first. There is no such power to separate issues of fact. A plaintiff is entitled to a trial of the issues of fact which he raised and the Court has no authority to refuse to try these issues if the suit is properly framed. A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 674=7 P. L. T. 82=1925 Pat. 294=89 Ind. Cas. 814; see also A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 467=6 P. L. T. 729=2 P. L. R. 303=85 Ind. Cas. 29. Where number of issues are framed, and Court tries some of them first postponing the trial of others, order is not proper. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 323=2 P. L. T. 154=65 Ind. Cas. 528 (20 C. L. order for hearing on certain preliminary issues perverse or such as is likely to cause injury, when those issues would any how be actually tried. The Court can post a case for trial on preliminary issues of law even though the issue of law and fact had been settled long before. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 321=15 M. L. W. 667=1922 M. W. N. 521=68 Ind. In deciding the question as to whether the Court should grant or refuse a prayer to try a preliminary issue on a point of law, some harmony is to be observed between the general principle that it is undesirable to try cases piece-meal and the specific and wholesome provisions of Order 14, rule 2, which is for the purpose of preventing the injustice of a party being able to force his opponent to go at great length into evidence when the single decision on a point of law might render the investigation of the facts unnecessary. 5. [S. 149.] (1) The Court may at any time before passing a decree amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as it thinks fit, and all such amendments or additional issues as may be necessary for determining the matters in controversy between the parties shall be so made or framed.

(2) The Court may, also, at any time before passing a decree, strike out any issues that appear to it to be wrongly framed or introduced.

Scope.—Trial Judge is competent to frame a special issue after taking evidence and hearing arguments. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 514=2 Pat. 52=4 Pat. L. T. 239=63 Ind. Cas. 383. Cas. 230.

6. [S. 150.] Where the parties to a suit are agreed as to the question of fact or of law to be decided between them, they may state the same in the form of an issue, and enter into an agreement in writing that, upon the finding of the Court in the affirmative or the negative of such issue,—

(a) a sum of money specified in the agreement or to be ascertained by the Court, or in such manner as the Court may direct, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them, or that one of them be declared entitled to some right or subject to some liability specified in the agreement;

(b) some property specified in the agreement and in dispute in the suit shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them, or as that other may direct; or

(c) one or more of the parties shall do or abstain from doing some particular act specified in the agreement and relating to the matter in dispute.

Scope.—In an ordinary suit, the duty of settling the issues between the parties for trial is placed upon the Court. This rule simply enables the parties themselves, by mutual agreement to settle the issues that are to be tried, but this rule does not place the Court on a higher footing as to finality in respect of proceedings held for the trial of these issues. (a) that the agreement was duly executed by the parties,

(b) that they have a substantial interest in the decision of such question as aforesaid, and

(c) that the same is fit to be tried and decided, it shall proceed to record and try the issue and state its finding or decision

Provided that, where the summons has been issued for the settlement of issues only, the parties or their pleaders are present and none of them objects.

4. [S. 162] (1) Where it appears to the Court or to such officer as it appoints in this behalf that the sum paid into Court is not sufficient to cover such expenses or reasonable remuneration, the Court may direct such further sum to be paid to the person summoned as appears to be necessary on that account, and, in case of default in payment, may order such sum to be levied by attachment and sale of the movable property of the party obtaining the summons; or the Court may discharge the person summoned, without requiring him to give evidence; or may both order such levy and discharge such person as aforesaid.

(2) Where it is necessary to detain the person summoned for a longer period than one day, the Court may, from time to time, order the party at whose instance he was summoned to pay into Court such sum as is sufficient to defray the expenses of his detention for such further period, and, in default of such deposit being made, may order such sum to be levied by attachment and sale of the movable property of such party; or the Court may discharge the person summoned without requiring him to give evidence; or may both order such levy and discharge such person as aforesaid.

5. [S. 163] Every summons for the attendance of a person to give evidence or to produce a document shall specify the time and place at which he is required to attend, and also whether his attendance is required for the purpose of giving evidence or to produce a document, or for both purposes; and any particular document, which the person summoned is called on to produce, shall be described in the summons with reasonable accuracy.

6. [S. 164.] Any person may be summoned to produce a document, without being summoned to give evidence; and any person summoned merely to produce a document shall be deemed to have complied with the summons if he causes such document to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same.

8. [S. 166.] Every summons under this Order shall be served as nearly as may be in the same manner as a summons to a defendant, and the rules in order V as to proof of service shall apply in the case of all summonses served under this rule.

9. [S. 167.] Service shall in all cases be made a sufficient time before the time specified in the summons for the attendance of the person summoned, to allow him a reasonable time for preparation and for travelling to the place at which his attendance is required.

10. [S. 168.] (1) Where a person to whom a summons has been issued either to attend to give evidence or to produce a document, fails to attend or to produce the document in compliance with such summons, non-service of the summons.

(2) Where the Court sees reasons to believe that such evidence or production is material, and that such person has, without lawful excuse, failed to attend or to produce the document in compliance with such summons or has intentionally avoided service, it may issue a proclamation requiring him to attend to give evidence or to produce to be named therein; and a copy of such proclamation shall be affixed to some outer-door or other conspicuous part of the house in which he ordinarily resides.

(3) In lieu of or at the time of issuing such proclamation, or at any time afterwards, the Court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant, either with or without bail, for the arrest of such person, and may make an order for the attachment of his property to such amount as it thinks fit, not exceeding the amount of the costs of attachment and of any fine which may be imposed under rule 12:

Provided that no Court of Small Causes shall make an order for the attachment of immovable property.

Scope.—The Court can issue proclamation only on being satisfied that the evidence of the witness or the production of the document is material and that he has failed without lawful excuse to attend or produce the document. Section 32 vests the Court with power to impose fine for failing to comply with a summons. The jurisdiction to impose fine can only be exercised in the manner laid down by Order XVI. A. I. R. 1929 A. 850=(1929) A. L. J. 1216=121 Ind. Cas. 97. Certain witnesses of the plaintiff who are duly served did not appear on the date of hearing and after the Court offered to issue warrants for them, the Court declined to put in process-fee for warrants but offered to bring the witnesses with him on the next date: Held that the Court was not legally in error in not allowing the plaintiff to bring his own witnesses. 101 Ind. 11. [S. 169.] Where, at any time after the attachment of his property, - such person appears and satisfies the Court,—

(a) that he did not, without lawful excuse, fail to comply with the summons or intentionally avoid service, and,

(b) where he has failed to attend at the time and place named in a proclamation issued under the last preceding rule, that he had no notice of such proclamation in time to attend, the Court shall direct that the property be released from attachment, and shall make such order as to the costs of the attachment as it thinks fit.

Scope.—Order XVI, rule 11, applies to a case where the person satisfied the Court that he has not intentionally failed to carry out the order. Rule 12 applies to the alternative case of a person failing to satisfy the Court whether he appears in order to offer an explanation or not. In either case whether the facts are those contemplated in rule 11 or rule 12 the Court can only proceed after attachment of the property. 31 C. L. J. 363=55 Ind. Cas. 425.

12. [S. 170.] The Court may, where such person does not appear, or appears but fails so to satisfy the Court, impose upon him such fine not exceeding five hundred rupees as it thinks fit, having regard to his condition in life and all the circumstances of the case, and may order his property, or any part thereof, to be attached and sold or, if already attached under rule 10 to be sold for the purpose of satisfying all costs of such attachment, together with the amount of the said fine, if any :

Provided that, if the person whose attendance is required pays into Court the costs and fine aforesaid, the Court shall order the property to be released from attachment.

Scope.—An order under rule 12 can only be made if proclamation has been issued or a warrant for arrest issued or an order for attachment is passed. If neither of these conditions are satisfied the Court has no jurisdiction to impose under rule 12. A. I. R. 1929 All. 850=(1929) A. L. J. 1216=123 Ind. Cas. 97. Where the witness or a party is present and the Court directs him by word of mouth to produce a document, and there cannot be the slightest mistake as to the witness or the party having received information of such direction and fails to produce the document he can be fined without going through the cumbrous procedure of issuing summons, followed by proclamation and attachment of his property to make him understand Court's discretion. 13. [New.] The provisions with regard to the attachment and sale of property in the execution of a decree shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to any attachment and sale under this Order as if the person whose property is so attached was a judgment-debtor.

14. [S 171.] Subject to the provisions of this Code as to attendance and appearance and to any law for the time being in force, where the Court at any time thinks it necessary to examine any person other than a party to the suit and not called as a witness by a party to the suit, the Court may, of its own motion, cause such person to be summoned as a witness to give evidence, or to produce any document in his possession, on a day to be appointed, and may examine him as a witness or require him to produce, such document.

Scope.—Where lawyer present all through, he should not be examined as Court witness. 145 Ind. Cas. 1=14 P. L. T. (Sup) 1=12 Pat. 359=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 306. Where a Court desires to have the evidence of a particular witness, whom the defendant does not desire to call, the Court is not justified in insisting on the defendant paying the amount necessary to secure the attendance of the witness, and, on defendant's refusal to do so, declining to issue summons for the attendance of his witnesses. In such a case the correct procedure is to take action under Order 16, rule 14. 159 P. L. R. 1911 ; see also L. B. R. (1893-1900), 658 ; 2 Ind. Cas. 347=5 L. B. R. 1.

15. [S. 172.] Subject as last aforesaid, whoever is summoned to appear and give evidence in a suit shall attend at the time and place named in the summons for that purpose, and whoever is summoned to produce a document shall either attend to produce it, or cause it to be produced, at such time and place.

Scope.—Where a summons was issued calling upon the chief officer of the production of certain entries from his records, where the chief officer caused a search to be made that there was no provision, under which the in the party who caused the summons to be issued. A witness is bound to produce documents duly specified when summoned by Court, but he is not bound to produce documents not duly specified. He might apply for the specification of the documents. 5 S. L. R. 44.

16. [S. 173.] (1) A person so summoned and attending shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, attend at each hearing until the suit has been disposed of.

(2) On the application of either party and the payment through the Court of all necessary expenses (if any), the Court may require any person so summoned and attending to furnish security to attend at the next or any other hearing or until the suit is disposed of and, in default of his furnishing such security, may order him to be detained in the civil prison.

Notes.—Where a Court adjourns a case but omits to bind the witness to be present at the adjourned date, and the witness does not, in consequence, attend the Court should give the parties a reasonable opportunity to summon their witness and to enforce his attendance and to grant another adjournment for the purpose. 16 Ind. Cas. 986.

17. [Ss. 174-175.] The provisions of rules 10 to 13 shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to any person who having attended in compliance with a summons departs, without lawful excuse, in contravention of rule 16.

Scope.—Where a witness went out of the Court's jurisdiction to give evidence, and failed to do so, the Court may order him to be examined on commission. 57=27 Cr. L. J. 1241.

18. [Ss. 174, fifth para.] Where any person arrested under a warrant is brought before the Court in custody and cannot, owing to the absence of the parties or any of them, give the evidence or produce the document which he has been summoned to give or produce, the Court may require him to give reasonable bail or other security for his appearance at such time and place as it thinks fit, and, on such bail or security being given may release him, and, in default of his giving such bail or security, may order him to be detained in the civil prison.

19. [S. 176.] No one shall be ordered to attend in person to give evidence unless he resides—

(a) within the local limits of the Court's ordinary original jurisdiction, or
(b) without such limits but at a place less than fifty or (where there is railway or steamer communication or other established public conveyance for five-sixths of the distance between the place where he resides and the place where the Court is situate) less than two hundred miles from the Court-house.

Scope.—This rule does not apply to a case where a party to a suit desires to give evidence of his own motion in his own favour. A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 42=35 C. L. J. 78=68 Ind. Cas. 9; see also A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 427=27 C. W. N. 100=100 Ind. Cas. 100. The rule applies to a party who is not under the control of the Court. 200 miles a commission is not sufficient. 321=44 M. L. J. 202=17 L. T. 530. R. 1932 Nag. 135.

20. [S. 177.] Where any party to a suit present in Court refuses, without lawful excuse, when required by the Court, to give evidence or to produce any document then and there in his possession or power, the Court may pronounce judgment against him or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit.

Scope.—Under the Code of Civil Procedure, a defendant who, bona fide and for a substantial reason requires the evidence of the plaintiff to be taken, ought not in ordinary circumstances to have a decree against him until that evidence has been given. 24 W. R. 72. Where a document is produced but refused to be exhibited, the Court cannot dismiss the suit. 28 C. L. J. 24=46 Ind. Cas. 879.

21. [S. 178.] Where any party to a suit is required to give evidence or to produce a document, the provisions as to witnesses shall apply to him so far as they are applicable.

N. B.—For local amendments and insertion of new rules in Allahabad and Calcutta.—Vide infra.

Scope—It is one of the artifices of a weak and somewhat piliary kind of advocacy for each litigant to cause his opponent to be summoned as a witness with the design that each party shall be bound to produce the opponent so summoned as a witness, and thus give the counsel for each litigant the opportunity of cross-examining his own client. It is a practice which all judicial tribunals ought to set themselves to render as abortive as it is objectionable. 1 Ind. Cas. 123=13 C. W. N. 320=5 M. L. T. 58=9 C. L. J. 172=13 C. W. This rule applies only to the case where a party to a suit has been called to give evidence by other party. The Court has no power under the C. P. Code to order the travelling expenses of a party who has given evidence in support of his own case. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 244=68 M. L. J. 203=1935 M. W. N. 113=41 L. W. 244.

ORDER XVII.

Adjournments.

1. [S. 156.] (1) The Court may, if sufficient cause is shown, at any stage of the suit grant time to the parties or to any of them, and may from time to time adjourn the hearing of the suit.

Court may grant time and adjourn hearing.

(2) In every such case the Court shall fix a day for the further hearing of the suit, and may make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the costs occasioned by the adjournment :

Costs of adjournment.

Provided that when the hearing of evidence has once begun, the hearing of the suit shall be continued from day to day until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined, unless the Court finds the adjournment of the hearing beyond the following day to be necessary for reasons to be recorded.

N. B.—For local amendments in Allahabad and Lahore.—Vide infra

Scope.—The granting of adjournment is optional with the Court. 24 Ind. Cas. 206; see also 10 Ind. Cas. 748. Discretion of the trial Court should not ordinarily be interfered with in appeal. Court may notwithstanding such default, proceed to decide the case forthwith. It is obvious that the scope of rule 2 is quite distinct from that of rule 3. Rule 3

default; the words "notwithstanding such default" clearly imply that the Court is to proceed with the disposal of the suit in spite of the default, upon such materials as are before it. Rule 2, on the other hand speaks of the disposal of the suit, and undoubtedly includes cases in which there might not be any materials before the Court to enable it to pronounce a decision on the merits. It is clear that the contingency contemplated in rule 2 may happen in a case which falls within the letter of rule 3. It may well happen, for instance, that a plaintiff to whom time has been granted to produce evidence, not only fails to do so, but also fails to appear. In such a case, if there are no materials on the record, the appropriate procedure to follow would be that laid down in rule 2, but if there are materials on the record, the Court ought to proceed under rule 3. 34 C. 235 (237, 238), see also 41 C. 956=18 C.W.N. 775. The proper way of construing rule 3 is, that where no default occurring under rule 2, default occurs under rule 3. Court should proceed under the latter provision and dispose of a case on merits; but if the default consists in non-appearance, it is rule 2, which deals with such a case specifically that in terms applies. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 625=70 M. L. J. 688=1936 M. W. N. 589=43 L. W. 738=1936 M. W. N. 589; see also A. I. R. 1936 All. 670=1936 A. L. J. 902. In order to attract the provisions of Order 17, r. 3 of the Civil Procedure Code, two conditions must co-exist. First, the application for adjournment must be at the instance of the party to suit applying for the production of evidence and secondly, there must be some materials on record on which the Court can proceed to pass judgment. When these two conditions are not satisfied, the proper course is to pass an order under rule 2 of Order 17. 39 C. W. N. 859; see also A. I. R. 1935 All. 210=1935 A. L. J. 209=156 Ind. Cas. 456; A. I. R. 1935 All. 210=1935 A. L. J. 290; A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 123. Order IX, rule 6, provides for hearing of the suit on the day fixed in the summons for the defendant's appearance, whereas Order XVII, rule 2, does for hearing of the suit at some later stage. In either case what is contemplated in these two rules is the procedure on the first day on which the hearing of suit, as distinguished from interlocutory proceedings takes place. Order XVII, rule 3, does not apply to a case of default in appearance but a case, in which a party who has appeared and has been given time to do some act in further prosecution of his case has failed to do so within the time allowed. In such a case the Court may proceed with the suit and the decision is not ex parte. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 485=1 Pat. 188=69 Ind. Cas. 837; 57 Ind. Cas. 748. Order 2 cannot be distinguished from Order IX, which provides the procedure to be followed in cases falling under Order XVII, r. 2. Order XVII, r. 3, is quite different and the remedy of the party in that case is by way of appeal. Rule 2 of Order XVII applies only when one of the parties or both parties are absent. Where both parties were present but the suit was dismissed for default, the fact that a formal order and not a decree was prepared by the Court, cannot be final of the question whether or not the decision of Court was one under rule 3 of Order XVII A. ORDER XVIII.

Hearing of the Suit and Examination of Witnesses.

1. [S. 179, Expl.] The plaintiff has the right to begin unless the defendant admits the facts alleged by the plaintiff and contends that either in point of law or on some additional facts alleged by the defendant the plaintiff is not entitled to any part of the relief which he seeks, in which case the defendant has the right to begin.

Scope—Where in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights by husband, the wife admitted marriage but pleaded coercion and non-consent, the defendant had the right to begin. 23 Ind. Cas. 242=7 Bur. L. T. 129. The general rule is that the party on whom the burden of proof lies should begin. Taylor on Evidence § 379. Generally a plaintiff has the right to begin in a civil case. 7 C. L. R. 274. In a claim for mesne profits by the successful appellant against the other party who had taken possession in execution of decree of trial Court the person claiming it in the position of a plaintiff and he should begin. A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 145=47 M. 800=48 M. L. J. 89=92 Ind. Cas. 792. If on the issue or issues of facts, the burden of proof is on the defendant, he has the right to begin. 40 C. W. N. 865.

2. [S. 179, first para, S. 180, first and second paras.] (1) On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or on any other day to which the hearing is adjourned, the party having the right to begin shall state his case and produce his evidence in support of the issues which he is bound to prove.

(2) The other party shall then state his case and produce his evidence (if any) and may then address the Court generally on the whole case.

(3) The party beginning may then reply generally on the whole case.

N B—For local amendments in Calcutta, Madras and Rangoon.—Vide infra.

Scope—Day on which issues are framed is not meant by or included in "day fixed for hearing of suit." A. I. R. 1925 All. 98=82 Ind. Cas. 73. Party cannot introduce new pleadings without leave of Court, at the time of stating the case under O. XVIII, r. 2, but has only the right to state his case as already put forward. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 615=103 Ind. Cas. 501. Where parties were not ready on day to which case was adjourned for argument, but was permitted to put in written argument and subsequently the Judge's predecessor came in and after local inspection delivered judgment. Held parties had sufficient opportunity to argue and judgment was not vitiated. A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 107=4 Lah. 364.

3. [S. 180, third para.] Where there are several issues, the burden of proving some of which lies on the other party, the party beginning may, at his option, either produce his evidence on those issues or reserve it by way of answer to the evidence produced by the other party; and, in the latter case, the party beginning may produce evidence on those issues after the other party has produced all his evidence, and the other party may then reply specially on the evidence so produced by the party beginning; but the party beginning will then be entitled to reply generally on the whole case.

6. [S. 183.] Where the evidence is taken down in a language different from that in which it is given, and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the evidence as taken down in writing shall be interpreted to him in the language in which it is given.

N. B.—For local amendment in Rangoon.—Vide infra.

Scope.—Where evidence by witness given in urdu and recorded by Judge in English and not interpreted to him, this rule is not applicable. 132 Ind. Cas. 270=8 O. W. N. 685=A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 385.

7. [New.] Evidence taken down under section 138 shall be in the form prescribed by rule 5 and shall be read over and signed and, as occasion may require, interpreted and corrected as if it were evidence taken down under that rule.

8. [S. 184.] Where the evidence is not taken down in writing by the Judge, he shall be bound, as the examination of each witness proceeds, to make a memorandum of the substance of what each witness deposes and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge and shall form part of the record.

N. B.—For local amendment in Rangoon.—Vide infra.

9 [S. 185.] Where English is not the language of the Court, but all the parties to the suit who appear in person, and the pleaders of such as appear by pleaders, do not object to have such evidence as is given in English taken down in English, the Judge may so take it down.

10. [S. 186.] The Court may, of its own motion or on the application of any party or his pleader, take down any particular question and answer, or any objection to any question, if there appears to be any special reason for so doing.

11. [S. 187.] Where any question put to a witness is objected to by a party or his pleader, and the Court allows the same to be put, the Judge shall take down the question, the answer, the objection and the name of the person making it, together with the decision of the Court thereon.

Notes.—Court may rule out as irrelevant any particular answer after it is given but cannot say beforehand that all evidence yet to be taken is going to be irrelevant and cannot refuse to record it on the ground that it believed it to be biased. A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 58=68 Ind. Cas. 272.

12. [S. 188.] The Court may record such remarks as it thinks material respecting the demeanour of any witness while witnesses are under examination.

Notes.—Court's power as regards demeanour, vide A. I. R. 1922 All. 107=44 A. 401=66 Ind. Cas. 1005

13. [S. 189.] In cases in which an appeal is not allowed, it shall not be necessary to take down the evidence of the witnesses in writing at length; but the Judge, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall make a memorandum of the substance of what he deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge and shall form part of the record.

Notes.—Memorandum of substance of evidence and not short extract should be taken. 9 C. W. N. 418; 9 C. W. N. 420; 30 Ind. Cas. 634=2 L. W. 803=(1915) M. W. N. 768.

Cas. 740. Order 20, rule 10, Civil Procedure Code, does not say that a person who is entitled to the delivery of specific movables must in all cases sue for such delivery and not for their value or damages, for in many cases the movables themselves would be of no use to him after conversion or detention. Nor does the rule say that the Court must invariably decree the articles claimed and not their value only. The Court is bound to pass a decree for the articles in the first instance and in the alternative only for their value. 61 C 711=A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 39. Where a decree is in the form contemplated by this rule and there is no question of determination in value of the articles decreed to be recovered, the decree-holder is not entitled to execute the money, part of the decree before applying for delivery of the articles; it is in the defendant's election whether he would deliver the chattels or pay the assessed value on them. Ibid.

Whether an adjustment has been made as contemplated by rule 2 is not a question of law only but a mixed question of law and fact and in such case the question is to be determined from the intention of the parties. There is no reason why the position of an assignee decree-holder under Order 21, rule 16, seeking to execute his decree should in any way be inferior to the position of an original decree-holder in regard to the provisions contained in sub-clause (3). A. I. R. 1934 Sind 205. The provisions of Order 21, rule 2 (3), are highly technical in that they preclude, on the execution side, proof of a payment or adjustment which has not been certified or recorded according to sub-rules (1) and (2). These provisions must therefore, be construed very strictly. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 230. Until the name of the transferee of a decree is formally substituted in place of the original decree-holder, the decree-holder referred to in Order 21, rule 2 (1), is the only person in whose favour the decree is passed and whose name stands on the face of the decree in the record of the Court. Transferee of the decree is not a decree-holder unless he is recognized by the Court. Where therefore an adjustment embodied in an agreement is made by the judgment-debtors with the transferee of a decree when he is not brought on the record as the decree-holder in place of the original decree-holder, Order 21, rule 2 (2), does not impose upon the judgment-debtors, the duty of having the adjustment recorded as certified and adjustment can be successfully

(2) This rule shall be deemed to apply where either party is an assignee of one of the decrees and as well in respect of judgment-debts due by the original assignor as in respect of judgment-debts due by the assignee himself.

(3) This rule shall be deemed to apply unless—

(b) the sums due under the decrees are definite.

rule 29, embraces every kind of suits which is maintainable. There is no limitation in the rule. Once it is conceded that a suit is maintainable, the procedure laid down in rule 29 is at once attracted. The object of the rule is that, should a plaintiff in a pending suit succeed therein, then there can be an adjustment of the decree or claim by that plaintiff against the decree obtained against him in the other suit in the same Court without it being necessary for the successful plaintiff in the pending suit to take out execution proceedings. Execution in the other suit is stayed so that the rights of the party can be adjusted. In cases where it is likely that the decree-holder in the other suit may take steps which might deprive the plaintiff in the pending suit of the fruits of any decree which he obtains, an order staying the execution in the other suit should be made. The rule is not an imperative one ; and the Court has a discretion either to grant the relief asked for, namely, stay the execution of the decree or to refuse it. This rule is also applicable where plaintiff has brought a suit against another who is an assignee decree-holder of a decree obtained against the plaintiff. A. I. R. 1936 Mad. 102=70 M. L. J. 120=1936 M. W. N. 349=43 L. W. 493=160 Ind. Cas. 563.

Mode of Execution.

30. [S 254.] Every decree for the payment of money, including a decree for the payment of money as the alternative to some other relief, may be executed by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment and sale of his property or by both.

No doubt cases may occur in which simultaneous execution by two or more methods might be reasonable and possible; but where there is already sufficient security for the realization of the decretal amount and the procedure of the decree-holder savours rather of harassment than a genuine desire to realize the decretal amount the Court may in its discretion refuse the relief against the person of the judgment-debtor. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 21=160 Ind. Cas. 685.

(5) Where a decree for the specific performance of a contract or for an injunction has not been obeyed, the Court may, in lieu of or in addition to all or any of the processes aforesaid, direct that the act required to be done may be done so far as practicable by the decree-holder or some other person appointed by the Court, at the cost of the judgment-debtor, and upon the act being done the expenses incurred may be ascertained in such manner as the Court may direct and may be recovered as if they were included in the decree.

Illustration.

A, a person of little substance, erects a building which renders uninhabitable a family mansion belonging to B. A, in spite of his detention in prison and the attachment of his property declines to obey a decree obtained against him by B and directing him to remove the building. The Court is of opinion that no sum realizable by the sale of A's property would adequately compensate B for the depreciation in the value of his mansion. B may apply to the Court to remove the building and may recover the cost of such removal from A in the execution proceedings.

I. R. 1934 Lah. 560. In a suit for recovery of money due on settled accounts, an application was filed for appointing of Receiver and for an order directing the defendant to produce certain account books not connected with the suit, in order that the plaintiff, if he gets a decree, may be in a better position to realise his decree-debt. The Court ordered the production, but the defendant refused, whereupon the Court passed an order compelling him to produce them failing which a complaint was to be laid for disobedience of Court's order: Held that Order 39, rule 1 (b), did not apply and that even if it applied it was overridden by the special provisions viz. Order 21, rule 41, which comes into effect only after the passing of the decree, and that the order should be set aside. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 199=57 M. 635=66 M. L. J. 498.

42. [S. 255.] Where a decree directs an inquiry as to rent or mesne profits or any other matter, the property of the judgment-debtor may, before the amount due from him has been ascertained, be attached, as in the case of an ordinary decree for the payment of money.

Scope—This rule does not apply to a preliminary decree passed in a suit for partnership account. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 178=93 Ind. Cas. 305; see also A. I. R. 1929 Mad 641=52 M. 561=57 M. L. J. 254. The words "any

43. [S. 260.] Where the property to be attached is movable property other than agricultural produce, in the possession of the judgment-debtor, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the attaching officer shall keep the property in his own custody or in the custody of one of his subordinates, and shall be responsible for the due custody thereof:

Provided that, when the property seized is subject to speedy and natural decay, or when the expense of keeping it in custody is likely to exceed its value, the attaching officer may sell it at once.

Notes.—An attachment not made in accordance with this rule is not valid. A.I.R. 1935 Rang. 186=156 Ind. Cas. 697; see also 29 S. L. R. 192. An attachment which is not in accordance with the provisions of this rule, would no doubt not operate to transfer possession of the property to the Court. But the presumption of law is that anything which is done by the officer of the Court is properly done until the contrary is shown. A. I. R. 1936 All. 364=1936 A. L. J. 283=162 Ind. Cas. 653.

45. [New.] (1) Where agricultural produce is attached, the Court shall make such arrangements for the custody thereof as it may deem sufficient and, for the purpose of enabling the Court to make such arrangements, every application for the attachment of a growing crop shall specify the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

(2) Subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Court in this behalf either in the order of attachment or in any subsequent order, the judgment-debtor may tend, cut, gather and store the produce and do any other act necessary for maturing or preserving it; and if the judgment-debtor fails to do all or any of such acts, the decree-holder may, with the permission of the Court and subject to the like conditions, do all or any of them either by himself or by any person appointed by him in this behalf, and the costs incurred by the decree-holder shall be recoverable from the judgment-debtor as if they were included in, or formed part of the decree.

(3) Agricultural produce attached as a growing crop shall not be deemed to have ceased to be under attachment or to require re-attachment merely because it has been severed from the soil.

(4) Where an order for the attachment of a growing crop has been made at a considerable time before the crop is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered, the Court may, in its order for such time as it thinks fit, make an order prohibiting the removal of the crop until such time as the Court may, in its order of attachment, direct. The Court may, in its order of attachment, direct that the crop shall not be stored for a period of time less than twenty days before the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

Investigation of Claims and Objections.

58. [S 278] (1) Where any claim is preferred to, or any objection is made to the attachment of, any property attached in execution of a decree on the ground that such property is not liable to such attachment, the Court shall proceed to investigate the claim or objection with the like power as regards the examination of the claimant or objector, and in all other respects, as if he was a party to the suit :

Provided that no such investigation shall be made where the Court considers that the claim or objection was designedly or unnecessarily delayed.

(2) Where the property to which the claim or objection applies has been advertised for sale, the Court ordering the sale may postpone it pending the investigation of the claim or objection.

Rule 63 lays down that where a claim or an objection is preferred under the preceding rules of Order 21, the party against whom the claim is made must file a suit to establish "the right which he claims in the property in dispute." These words do not mean that the plaintiff must file a suit to establish his property in dispute. All that he is required to do is to file a suit to establish his claim to the property in dispute. A. I. R. 1930 Lan. 324=17 L. N. 660. In a suit under this rule by the alienees from a judgment-debtor, whose properties have been attached by the decree-holder as properties belonging to the judgment-debtor it is not sufficient for the alienees to prove the deed of transfer. The burden of proving that the transfer was for consideration and was in good faith also lies on them. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 72=162 Ind. Cas. 495. Where the attachment ceases to exist within the period of one year from the dismissal of the objection it is no longer incumbent upon the claimant to file a suit for a declaration of title to the property in order to avoid the conclusiveness of the order in the claim case. A. I. R. 1934 All. 267 (F. B.)=1934 A. L. J. 19=56 A. 537=148 Ind. Cas. 676. The terms of Order 21, rule 63, are "and in order to prove that the claimant is entitled to the consideration of his title as well as the property in dispute." M. W. N. 581=A. I. R. 1935 M. W. N. 581, has no application to cases where a claim has not been disposed of on the merits or rejected as being too late. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 328=41 L. W. 500=1935 M. W. N. 331=156 Ind. Cas. 905. Where a claim petition is withdrawn and it is dismissed in consequence of such withdrawal, the claimant is not bound to file a suit "against" the claimant within the period of one year from the date of the order, as the claimant is not bound to file a suit under rule 63, as the attachment is not valid. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 857=156 Ind. Cas. 930. A suit filed under rule 58 instead of rule 63 is not valid. A. I. R. 1935 All. 183=153 Ind. Cas. 577.

If a claim under rule 58 is allowed and the judgment-debtor is not a party to such claim suit, the order does not bind the judgment-debtor so as to compel him to bring a suit for a declaration under rule 63. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 604=10 P. L. T. 581=120 Ind. Cas. 762. Order under rule 63 is conclusive as between claimant and decree-holder and does not affect judgment-debtor's right and title to the property. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 74=131 Ind. Cas. 225. The word "conclusive" means final i. e., unappealable. A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 228=124 Ind. Cas. 251. A claimant who has filed a claim petition under rule 58 and has obtained an order of attachment in his favour, is not bound to file a suit under rule 63 to establish his title to the property in dispute. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 857=156 Ind. Cas. 930. A suit filed under rule 58 instead of rule 63 is not valid. A. I. R. 1935 All. 183=153 Ind. Cas. 577.

In defence to a suit under rule 63 an attaching decree-holder can plead that the alienation is a fraudulent one intended to defeat or delay the creditors. 43 M. 760=38 M. L. J. 350=12 L. A judgment-debtor or his Official Receiver when not a party to the claim proceedings is not bound by any order passed on the claim petition, nor can he take advantage of such order to defeat the sale executed by the judgment-debtor on the ground that the suit was not brought within one year from the order. 110 Ind. The daughter objected under Order 21, rule 58, on the ground that she was a mortgagee of the whole property from the mother. Her objection was upheld and the insolvent's share was sold subject to her mortgage. She filed a suit under her mortgage whereupon the creditor firm objected to the mortgage and also brought a suit under Order 21, rule, 63, for a declaration that the mortgage was collusive and without consideration. It was contended that the creditor firm had no locus standi and could not be allowed to challenge the mortgage as being without consideration. Held that the firm by purchasing land at the Court auction succeeded to the rights of insolvent in his mother's property and the insolvent being the representative of his mother, the firm was also a representative of the mother and there had a right to challenge the mortgage and to assert that it was a sham and collusive transaction and without consideration. The ordinary rule of law is that a party who is aggrieved by the attachment and sale of his property has a longer period of limitation within which to sue than that prescribed under Art. 11, Limitation Act, which is an exception to the general law and curtail the plaintiff's rights very considerably; consequently, if an order 21, rule 63, is intended to operate to the prejudice of any person, it should be concluded in clear and unambiguous terms, so that there can be no misapprehension as to exactly what is meant. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 170. Where the order is an ambiguous order, such order is not against the claimant under this rule and as such Art. 11 of the Limitation Act has no application. 19 N. L. J. 308. 82. [S. 304.] Sales of immovable property in execution of decrees may be ordered by any Court other than a Court of Small Causes.

83. [S. 305.] (1) Where an order for the sale of immovable property has been made, if the judgment-debtor can satisfy the Court that there is reason to believe that the amount of the decree may be raised by the mortgage or lease or private sale of such property, or some part thereof, or of any other immovable property of the judgment-debtor, the Court may, on his application, postpone the sale of the property comprised in the order for sale on such terms and for such period as it thinks proper, to enable him to raise the amount.

(2) In such case the Court shall grant a certificate to the judgment-debtor authorizing him within a period to be mentioned therein, and notwithstanding anything contained in section 64, to make the proposed mortgage, lease or sale :

Provided that all monies payable under such mortgage, lease or sale shall be paid, not to the judgment-debtor, but, save in so far as a decree-holder is entitled to set off such money under the provisions of rule 72, into Court :

“ lease or sale under this rule shall become
“ the Court.
“ be deemed to apply to a sale of property
“ if a decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage of, or charge on, such property.

Scope—Alienations under Order 21, rule 83, are the "acts of the judgment-debtor alone" and clearly therefore fall under the terms "private transfer" under s. 64. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 727=67 M. L. Where the permission granted to the judgment-debtor under Order 21, rule 83, was qualified and was known to the prospective purchaser the mere fact that there was an arrangement made between her and the judgment-debtor fixing a certain sum as the sale consideration in case the sale was sanctioned by the Court, did not give her any legal rights which were adversely affected by the order cancelling the permission given under Order 21, rule 83. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 76. Where immovable property under attachment was sold by the judgment-debtor after obtaining permission of the executing Court under rule 83 and the executing Court had given permission to judgment-debtor to satisfy the decree-holder out of the sale proceeds and out of sale proceeds of the property re-attached, the judgment-debtor kept the balance with him after satisfying some decree-holders and the purchaser filed a suit to set aside the attachment and the sale was upheld by the trial Court on certain conditions and the lower appellate Court held the sale void on second appeal: Held that the trial Court's order to uphold the sale on the payment by the purchaser of the balance left with himself is legal and equitable. Appeal—No appeal lies from a decision under Order 21, rule 83, C. P. Code, refusing to postpone the sale of the property. A. I. R. 1937 Pesh. 64. An order refusing the judgment-debtor's application to postpone the sale of his property under this rule does not amount to the decision of the case but the order is essentially of an interlocutory nature. Hence an appeal from such an order cannot be treated as revision application. Ibid.

84. [S. 306] (1) On every sale of immovable property the person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of twenty five per cent. on the amount of his purchase money to the officer or other person conducting the sale, and in default of such deposit, the property shall forthwith be re-sold.

(2) Where the decree-holder is the purchaser and is entitled to set-off the purchase money under rule 72, the Court may dispense with the requirements of this rule.

N. B.—For local amendment in Oudh.—Vide infra.

Scope—Failure to deposit 25 p. c. of purchase money immediately is only irregularity which does not affect validity of sale unless substantial injury is caused to judgment-debtor. 144 Ind. Cas. 314=10 O. W. N. 440=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 345. It is essential for the auction purchaser to deposit 25 per cent. whether he was the decree-holder or not. If the decree-holder's application for set-off, is pending and the decree-holder is not called upon to deposit, the sale is not a nullity because 25 per cent. of the purchase money has not been deposited by the decree-holder at the time of the sale. Where an auction purchaser purchases immovable property at an auction sale by a Court, there is no guarantee by the Court corresponding to the guarantee under s 55 T. P. Act. The auction-purchaser must be aware of the fact that he is purchasing property conclusively that there is no defect in the sale either under rule 90 or under rule 91; and so there exists no basis for a suit on the ground of want of saleable interest in the judgment-debtor. If there is no warranty of title there is no cause of action in favour of the auction purchaser and no question of equity and justice arises. A. I. R. 1937 Nag. 140. A sale of immovable property in which the judgment-debtor has no interest at the date of the sale is not a nullity in the sense of being beyond the jurisdiction of the executing Court or void as between the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder or auction purchaser. The decree-holder, if he purchases the property, cannot successfully maintain an application for the revival of the execution proceedings on the ground that the sale has not in fact satisfied his decree to the extent of the sale price, unless he has the sale set aside by applying under this rule. 95. [S. 318] Where the immovable property sold is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor or of some person on his behalf or of some person claiming under title created by the judgment-debtor subsequently to the attachment of such property and a certificate in respect thereof has been granted under rule 94, the Court shall, on application of the purchaser, order delivery to be made by putting such purchaser or any person whom he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf in possession of the property, and, if need be, by removing any person who refuses to vacate the same.

Scope.—Possession in rule 95 means legal possession. A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 251 = 3 Luck. 306 = 5 O.W.N. 372. In execution delivery of possession must be according to either rule 95 or 96. 55 Ind. Where a mortgage decree has been obtained against executors in their representative capacity and there has been a decree for sale and a sale is held, the purchaser cannot by proceeding under Order 21, rr 95 and 96, Civil Procedure Code, obtain possession as against the beneficiaries under the will, that is to say the beneficiaries entitled to the estate which is represented by the executors. The reason for this is that the beneficiaries are not affected by rr. 97, 95 or 35. They are not "judgment-debtors" or some persons on their behalf under rule 95 or any person bound by a decree under rule 35. Beneficiaries do not claim under executors and they are excluded under the definition in s. 2, C. P. Code. A. I. R. 1937 Cal. 301. Where delivery that is originally attempted is under Order 21, rule 95, i. e., actual vacant possession, and the result of the objection raised is the outstanding dispute that remains is only the rights of the tenants, the common sense and reasonable view is that delivery, so far as landlords' right is concerned under Order 21, rule 95, is effected, and what is completed is the right to actual possession asserted by tenants. A. I. R. 1935 Mad 733. An application by decree-holder auction purchaser under rules 95 and 97 is an application in execution of a decree and the removal of obstruction to the decree-holder auction purchaser is in execution of the decree even though the decree be only for sale. Withdrawal and Adjustment of Suits.

1. [S. 373.] (1) At any time after the institution of a suit the plaintiff may, as against all or any of the defendants, withdraw his suit or abandon part of his claim.

it may, on such terms as it thinks fit, grant the plaintiff permission to withdraw from such suit or abandon such part of a claim with liberty to institute a fresh suit in respect of the subject-matter of such suit or such part of a claim.

(3) Where the plaintiff withdraws from a suit or abandons part of a claim, without the permission referred to in sub-rule (2), he shall be liable for such costs as the Court may award and shall be precluded from instituting any fresh suit in respect of such subject-matter or such part of the claim.

Effect of order.—Where a suit is allowed to be withdrawn with leave to bring a fresh suit it should be regarded as never brought. Partial compromise.—Where the compromise is only in respect of some of the defendants and pra for want of prosecution. T. 471=62 Ind. Cas. 933. Where not the whole but only part of a compromise is recorded in the order of the Court, the compromise cannot be enforced. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 291=30 P. L. R. 112=11 Lah. L. J. 50=117 Ind. Cas. 240. Compromise with some is lawful. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 306=12 Pat. 359=14 P. L. T. (Sup) 1.

Record of compromise.—Court must record compromise so far as it relates to suit. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 295=33 Bom. L. R. 463=132 Ind. Cas. 434. Policy of law is not to discourage compromises. Ibid. Court in its inherent powers can confirm any reasonable agreement between the parties appearing before it. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 58=9 Rang. 39=131 Ind. Cas. 57. A joint petition by both the parties to a suit requesting the Court to adjourn the case for enabling the parties to arrive at the terms of a contemplated settlement does not by itself amount to a compromise when nothing further has been done by the parties in furtherance of their original intention. A decree based on the original petition itself as if it were a compromise is without jurisdiction. 34 C. W. N. 1068=131 Ind. Cas. 257=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 205. Under rule 3 a decree can be passed only after an order that the compromise be recorded. 43 C. 85=33 Ind. Cas. 767. But when the parties enter into a compromise and the suit is decreed in the terms of the compromise, the omission to record the compromise is not fatal to the validity of the decree. The omission to record the compromise does not affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, and the defect is therefore cured by s 97. A. I. R. 1935 All. 738=1935 A. L. J. 952. Where a compromise collateral to suit offered by one party in the course of the appeal was accepted by Karpardaz of the other party but the document of compromise was not recorded and a decree was merely drawn up and it was the only document brought into existence: Held that the provisions of Order 23 were not complied with and that the Court should not in pursuance of rule 3 make a decree. 62 I. A. 196=14 Pat. 545=A. I. R. 1935 P. C. 119=37 Bom. L. R. 845=39 C. W. N. 1185=1935 A. L. J. 865=1935 M. W. N. 778=16 Pat. L. T. 479. Under this rule, the Court is under a duty to record a compromise and pass a decree in terms thereof. Omission on the part of the Court to prepare a decree is not however, fatal, and is a purely formal matter not affecting the merits of the case as between the parties. 15 Pat. L. T. 457=A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 380. A compromise cannot be recorded under rule 3 on the basis of a draft compromise petition filed in Court, when it is found that the suit was not really completely adjusted. 61 C. 910=59 C. L. J. 421=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 846. A compromise though not recorded as required by rule 3 can still be looked upon as an agreement between the parties and a party taking advantage of such an agreement and getting the suit of another party thrown out is estopped from pleading in a subsequent suit that he was not bound by that agreement. 35 P. L. R. 150=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 218. Where a case is still pending for want of a delivered judgment, the Court can receive a petition for compromise and pass necessary orders on it. 41 M. L. J. 385=65 Ind. Cas. 82. In a case where some only of the parties to the suit join in a petition of compromise the other parties can object to the compromise being recorded, and if they show good cause the Court can refuse to grant a decree in terms of the compromise. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 193=85 Ind. Cas. 678. Wrong order of Court passed through mistake can be amended under ss. 151 and 152. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 135. Party receiving benefit under compromise cannot be allowed to retain the advantage on compromise being not recorded, but cannot be prevented from resisting recording of compromise. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 306=12 Pat. 359=14 P. L. T. (Sup) 1. Although under rule 3 Court has to pass a decree in terms of compromise after it has been recorded, the passing of the decree need not be simultaneous with the recording of the compromise and Court may postpone the passing of a decree in a proper case. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 395=125 Ind. Cas. 521. For a compromise two things are required: (1) that the Court shall order such compromise to be recorded; and (2) that it shall pass a decree in accordance therewith, so far as it relates to the suit. There should be an enquiry as to the terms being lawful or not and the Court should direct formally a compromise to be recorded after its satisfaction that it was a lawful compromise. The omission to comply with the requirements of the rule goes to the root of the jurisdiction of the Court to pass a decree in accordance with the compromise. A. I. R. 1917 Pat. 354=6 Pat. 108=105 Ind. Cas. 271; see also A. I. R. 1929 Sind. 12; 75 Ind. Cas. 461. Refusing to record a lawful compromise is acting illegally or with material irregularity. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 885. Even in declaratory suits a compromise directing one party to pay a certain sum of money to the other party can be allowed by the Court and such a provision can be included in an operative part of the decree. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 73=24 N. L. R. 55.

Who can compromise.—A guardian of a minor cannot enter into a compromise on behalf of the minor without the leave of the Court. 62 Ind. Cas. 683; see also A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 350=31 Bom. L. R. 621. A compromise entered into with a minor is entirely incompetent to compromise of law. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 271=8 P. L. T. 38. A compromise applies to be made by a party and objects should be rejected. 1932 A. L. J. 509=A. I. R. 1932 All. 470. Where a suit has been instituted in the name of a firm, one partner alone has no power to compromise. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 618=144 Ind. Cas. 1.

Binding on parties—A consent decree binds the parties thereto as a decree after a contentious trial. It cannot have a greater validity than the compromise itself. A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 356=33 C. L. J. 244=60 Ind. Cas. 864; see also 29 C. W. N. 597=88 Ind. Cas. 369; 87 Ind. Cas. 174=47 A. 456; 47 A. 921=88 Ind. Cas. 611; 60 Ind. Cas. 22. If the compromise decree is not tainted with fraud, no suit lies to set it aside. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 602. If a right compromise is doubtful, an agreement not to carry on any dispute about it is valid. A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 43=32 Bom. L. R. 389=54 B. 695. A compromise in probate case is binding only upon the parties to it. 23 C. L. J. 22=33 Ind. Cas. 273. A consent decree wrongly passed owing to some legal or technical defect is not a nullity. 51 Ind. Cas. 439. The Court can set aside an order made by consent not in the nature of final order or judgment but merely an interlocutory order in the suit, provided proper grounds are made out. 32 Bom. L. R. 657=A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 352.

Compromise in partition suit—A compromise of a partition suit is not ineffectual only because every party to the action does not join in it. Each case must depend upon its own facts. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 591=108 Ind. Cas. 221.

Mortgage decree—Rule 3 applies to proceedings after preliminary decree in mortgage suit. 43 Ind. Cas. 399, see also 58 Ind. Cas. 299=2 Pat. L. T. 38; 16 Pat. L. T. 311=14 Pat. 488=A. I. Public trust—No compromise can be said to be lawful which sacrifices its interest in the case of public trust. A. I. R. 1930 Mal. 629=58 M. L. J. 410=53 M. 398; see also 60 Ind. Cas. 22=12 L. W. 562.

Preliminary decree—Order XXIII, rule 3, does not necessitate two decrees; i. e., a preliminary and a final; but only one decree. 29 O. C. 26=94 Ind. Cas. 317.

Pleader's authority to compromise.—Express authority is not needed for a counsel to enter into a compromise within the scope of the suit. Where there is limitation of authority and that limitation is communicated to the other side, consent by counsel outside the limits of his authority would be of no effect. 3 Pat. L. T. 371=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 232=67 Ind. Cas. 95; see also 29 C. W. N. 565=52 C. 386=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 696=88 Ind. Cas. 413; A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 714=55 C. 113=31 C. W. N. 953; A. I. R. 1919 Oudh 211; 19 A. L. J. 63=65 Ind. Cas. 912; 60 Ind. Cas. 22. An agreement to compromise a suit must be established by general principles governing formation of contracts, though there are special rules governing intrinsic nature. If the agreement is on behalf of one or both of the parties by their counsel, the first two questions that arise are (1) had the agent, the actual pleader, to conclude the contract (2) if no authority so as to bind the party. A. I. R. 1930 A. L. J. 489=58 M. L. J. 551=32 B.

Appeal—Appeal lies from order recording compromise. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 472; see also A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 275=12 N. L. J. 124; A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 318=8 Pat. 528=10 P. L. T. 293; A. I. Where Court holds that the compromise is invalid and not binding on the parties and refuses to record the same, an appeal lies under Order 43, rule (1) (m), assailing the grounds for refusal to record. ORDER XXIV.

Payment into Court.

1. [S. 376.] The defendant in any suit to recover a debt or damages may, at any stage of the suit, deposit in Court such sum of money as he considers a satisfaction in full of the claim.
Deposit by defendant of amount in satisfaction of claim.

Scope—Deposit under Order XXIV must be unconditional so as to be the disposal of the decree-holder desiring to withdraw it. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 72 ; see also A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 278=5 Rang. 753. Rules 1 and 3 do not apply to execution proceedings and save defendant from costs of original suit. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 72=97 Ind. Cas. 479. On analogy of these rules judgment-debtor can be relieved from the payment of interest on amount deposited by him and immediately payable to judgment-debtor. 40 A. 125=16 A. L. J. 15=43 Ind. Cas. 520. The word "debt" in this rule applies to secured debt as well as to unsecured debt. 10 Luck. 350=11 O. W. N. 1550=A. I. R. 1935 Oudh. 93.

2. [S. 377.] Notice of the deposit shall be given through the Court by the defendant to the plaintiff, and the amount of the deposit shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be paid to the plaintiff on his application.
Notice of deposit.

Notes—Vide 45 Ind. Cas. 638=35 M. L. J. 459 ; A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 342 (when notice is not required).

3. [S. 378.] No interest shall be allowed to the plaintiff on any sum deposited by the defendant from the date of the receipt of such notice, whether the sum deposited is in full of the claim or falls short thereof.
Interest on deposit not allowed to plaintiff after notice.

admitted amount is deposited in Court. Ind. Cas. 687 ; 10 Luck. 350=11 O. W. N. 1550. If the defendant deposits the amount in Court and the plaintiff is unable to get payment and is thus himself responsible for non-payment to plaintiff, he cannot escape payment of interest from date of such deposit. This rule has no application to such a case. A. I. R. 1936 Lah. 76. This rule does not apply to execution proceedings. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 72.

4. [S. 379.] (1) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in part only of his claim, he may prosecute his suit for the balance, and, if the Court decides that the deposit by the defendant was a full satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, the plaintiff shall pay the costs of the suit incurred after the deposit and the costs incurred previous thereto, so far as they were caused by excess in the plaintiff's claim.
Procedure where plaintiff accepts deposit as satisfaction in part.

(2) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in full of his claim, he shall present to the Court a statement to that effect, and such statement shall be filed and the Court shall pronounce judgment accordingly ; and, in directing by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, the Court shall consider which of the parties is most to blame for the litigation.
Procedure where he accepts it as satisfaction in full.

Illustration.

(a) A sues B for Rs. 100. B pays A for the amount having made no demand for payment. B would not be liable to pay costs. The Court should also give B his costs of suit, A's conduct having shown that the litigation was necessary.

(b) B sues A under the circumstances mentioned in illustration (a). On the plaint being filed, A disputes the claim. Afterwards A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should also give B his costs of suit, A's conduct having shown that the litigation was necessary.

(c) A owes B Rs. 100, and is willing to pay him that sum without suit. B claims Rs. 150 and sues A for that amount. On the plaint being filed A pays Rs. 100 into Court and disputes only his liability to pay the remaining Rs. 50. B accepts the Rs. 100 in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should order him to pay A's costs.

ORDER XXV.Security for Costs.

1. [Ss. 380, 382.] (1) Where, at any stage of a suit, it appears to the Court that a sole plaintiff is, or (when there are more plaintiffs than one) that all the plaintiffs are residing out of British India, and that no one of such plaintiffs does, possess British India other than the property in dispute, the Court may, on the motion or on the application of any defendant, order the plaintiff or plaintiffs, within a time fixed by it, to give security for the payment of all costs incurred and likely to be incurred by any defendant.

(2) Whoever leaves British India under such circumstances as to afford reasonable probability that he will not be forthcoming whenever he may be called upon to pay costs shall be deemed to be residing out of British India within the meaning of sub-rule (1).

(3) On the application of any defendant in a suit for the payment of money, in which the plaintiff is a woman, the Court may at any stage of the suit make a like order if it is satisfied that such plaintiff does not possess any sufficient ground for ordering him to give security or costs for proceeding with suit.

(2) Where a suit is dismissed under this rule, the plaintiff may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside, and, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from furnishing the security within the time allowed, the Court shall set aside the dismissal upon such terms as to security, costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

(3) The dismissal shall not be set aside unless notice of such application has been served on the defendant.

ORDER XXVI.

Commissions.

Commissions to Examine Witnesses

1. [S. 383.] Any Court may in any suit issue a commission for the examination on interrogatories or otherwise of any person resident within the local limits of its jurisdiction who is exempted under this Code from attending the Court or who is from sickness or infirmity unable to attend it.

Scope.—Witnesses should not be allowed to be examined on commission without adequate reason. The grounds for the issue of commission are ordinarily those specified in rule 1. 43 Ind. Cas. 729=42 B. 136=20 Bom. L. R. 1. Commission cannot be issued simply because witnesses are old, unless Court is satisfied of their inability to attend from sickness or infirmity. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 524=1927 M. W. N. 218. Evidence of plaintiff unless very strong reasons. Mere the plaintiff's residence is not sufficient. 955. Evidence on commission should be taken in Court or is absent or for other sufficient reason, and it is improper to allow principal defendant charged with fraud to be examined on commission before opening of plaintiff's case so as to conceal his demeanour from Court and himself from confronting accusers. 45 M. L. J. 363=28 C. W. N. 327=39 C. L. J. 165=73 Ind. Cas. 391 (P. C.). When an application for the examination on commission of a material witness residing within the jurisdiction of the Court is made, before a commission is issued, the Court is under the obligation of considering and coming to a definite conclusion whether the witness is suffering from any illness or if he is so suffering, whether the nature of the illness would prevent the witness from attending Court or would make it risky to his life to do so especially when the issue of the commission is for the examination of the plaintiff or a defendant in a suit. 39 C. W. N. 595. Issue of commission is a question of exercise of jurisdiction, and not of mere discretion. Grounds alleged and objection raised by parties or witnesses as also advantages and risk of issue or non-issue of commission should be carefully examined. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 971=39 C. L. J. 593=84 Ind. Cas. 9. But the Court has no power to take away pardanashin lady's privilege under s. 132 to be examined on commission. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 814=114 Ind. Cas. 95; see also 1933 A. L. J. 1384=A. I. R. 1933 All. 551. Where a pardanashin lady while being examined on commission tutored by some body, Court may exclude evidence but cannot insist on personal attendance of the lady. A. I. R. 1933 All. 551=1933 A. L. J. 1384. Parties even if women should be examined by Court. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 48=63 M. L. J. 707=141 Ind. Cas. 456. A pardanashin lady has no right to dictate place of her examination by Commissioner at her own choice. 64 Ind. Cas. 228=48 C. 448=A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 229. Plaintiff who is a ghota lady within s. 132, should be allowed to examine herself on commission. 86 Ind. Cas. 513=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 905. It is not for Court to decide whether party will be benefited or not by issue of commission as it is a matter entirely for the party. Word "may" in rules 1 and 4 means "is given authority to". 46 M. 574=44 M. L. J. 202=71 Ind. Cas. 530. Facts of commission being ordered for witness's sickness or infirmity is useless, unless witness is on that account prevented from giving evidence normally. 55 C. 748=32 C. W. N. 128=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 421. Order issuing commission by Judge exercising discretion as to its issue or non-issue after being satisfied that witness was ill, unable to attend, is not, although incomplete, open to revision. 55 C. 748=32 C. W. N. 128=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 421. Witness living at a distance specified in Order XVI, r. 19 (b) and not under party's control should be allowed to be examined on commission as it is an abuse of process of Court, and Court's wrongful refusal to open to correction on revision. 46 M. 574=44 M. The defendant can insist on opportunity to cross-examine the witness only. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 60=150 Ind. Cas. 788.

2. [S. 384.] An order for the issue of a commission for the examination of a witness may be made by the Court either of its own motion or on the application, supported by affidavit or otherwise, of any party to the suit or of the witness to be examined.

Scope.—Rule 2 only says that application for the issue of commission is to be supported by affidavit or otherwise and not that it must be accompanied. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 175=5 Bur. L. 4. [S. 386.] (1) Any Court may in any suit issue a commission for the examination of—

(a) any person resident beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction ;
 (b) any person who is about to leave such limits before the date on which he is required to be examined in Court ; and

Court may issue a commission.—The issue of commission to examine a witness or witnesses in a suit is a matter of judicial discretion. An application for the examination of a witness by commission will not be granted unless the Court is satisfied, first that the application is made bona fide ; secondly, that the issue in respect of which the evidence is required is one which the Court ought to try ; thirdly, that the witness to be examined would give evidence material to the issue, and fourthly, there are some good reasons why the witness cannot be examined in Court. 23 Ind. Court to examine witness pursuant to commission.

G. [S. 388.] Every Court receiving a commission for the examination of any person shall examine him or cause him to be examined pursuant thereto.

7. [S. 389.] Where a commission has been duly executed, it shall be returned, together with the evidence taken under it, to the Court from which it was issued, unless the order for issuing the commission has otherwise directed, in which case the commission shall be returned in terms of such order, and the commission and the return thereto and the evidence taken under it, shall (subject to the provisions of the next following rule) form part of the record of the suit.

Notes.—Vide 35 C. 28.

8. [S. 390.] Evidence taken under a commission shall not be read as evidence in the suit without the consent of the party against whom the same is offered, unless—

(a) the person who gave the evidence is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, or dead or unable from sickness or infirmity to attend to be personally examined, or exempted from personal appearance in Court, or is "a person in the service of the Crown"* who cannot, in the opinion of the Court, attend without detriment to the public service, or

(b) the Court in its discretion dispenses with the proof of any of the circumstances mentioned in clause (a), and authorizes the evidence of any person being read as evidence in the suit, notwithstanding proof that the cause for taking such evidence by commission has ceased at the time of reading the same.

Commissioner for Local Investigation.

9. [S. 392.] In any suit in which the Court deems a local investigation to be requisite or proper for the purpose of elucidating any matter in dispute, or of ascertaining the market-value of any property, or the amount of any net profits or damages or annual net profits, the Court may issue a commission to such person as it thinks fit directing him to make such investigation and to report thereon to the Court :

Scope.—This rule merely entitles the Court to appoint a Commissioner to examine the accounts when it is necessary to examine the accounts, but it had first to be shown that it is necessary to examine them. In a suit for dissolution of partnership it is the duty of the trial Court to record the evidence on question of possession of account books itself and not to appoint a Commissioner for that purpose. This is a matter which cannot be left to the Commissioner and does not fall within the ordinary duties of the Commissioner, whose business is merely to examine the accounts produced before him and to report to the Court the result of the examination of the accounts and also to suggest a proper scheme for the winding up of the scheme. Proceedings and report to be evidence.
Court may direct further inquiry.

(2) The proceedings and report (if any) of the Commissioner shall be evidence in the suit, but where the Court has reason to be dissatisfied with them, it may direct such further inquiry as it shall think fit.

Scope.—If it is found that the Commissioner's report is unsatisfactory, the proper procedure is to appoint another Commissioner who would carry out the work more satisfactorily. A. I. [S. 396, second and third paras.] (1) The Commissioner shall, after such inquiry as may be necessary, divide the property into as many shares as may be directed by the order under which the commission was issued, and shall allot such shares to the parties, and may, if authorized thereto by the said order, award sums to be paid for the purpose of equalizing the value of the shares.

(2) The Commissioner shall then prepare and sign a report or the Commissioners (where the commission was issued to more than one person and they cannot agree) shall prepare and sign separate reports appointing the share of each party and distinguishing each share (if so directed by the said order) by metes and bounds. Such report or reports shall be annexed to the commission and transmitted to the Court; and the Court, after hearing any objections which the parties may make to the report or reports, shall confirm, vary or set aside the same.

(3) Where the Court confirms or varies the report or reports it shall pass a decree in accordance with the same as confirmed or varied; but where the Court sets aside the reports or reports it shall either issue a new commission or make such other order as it shall think fit.

Scope—The duty of the Commissioner is to allot properties according to shares and not to decide shares. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 32. (2) Notice of the application shall be served on the next friend, on any co-plaintiff and on the defendant.

(3) The costs of all parties of such application, and of all or any proceedings theretofore had in the suit, shall be paid by such persons as the Court directs.

(4) Where the applicant is a necessary party to the suit, the Court may direct him to be made a defendant.

14. [S. 455.] (1) A minor on attaining majority may, if a sole plaintiff, apply that a suit instituted in his name by his next friend be dismissed on the ground that it was unreasonable or improper.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on all the parties concerned; and the Court, upon being satisfied of such unreasonableness or impropriety, may grant the application and order the next friend to pay the costs of all parties in respect of the application and of anything done in the suit, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

This rule has been enacted to prevent payment of Court-fee being evaded and it matters little with what purpose the agreement has been entered into, whether it is an honest or bona fide one or of an improper character is an irrelevant factor quite outside the scope of the enquiry. The principle underlying the provision is that a person ought not to be allowed to sue in forma pauperis after transferring his interest to a third party, no matter for what reason the transfer has been made. The question is whether at the date of institution of the suit there was a subsisting agreement falling within the provision. For a plaintiff to be dispaupered all that need be shown is, that he has entered into an agreement of the character described in respect of the subject-matter of the suit and there was no warrant for assuming that the agreement should be one made with reference to or in view of the intended suit or appeal. A. I. R. 1937 Mad. 161. In case of advance of money out of piety and without agreement securing repayment, mere hope of repayment does not make the understanding illegal. A. I. 7. [S. 409.] (1) On the day so fixed or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Court shall examine the witnesses (if any) produced by either party, and may examine the applicant or his agent, and shall make a memorandum of the substance of their evidence.

(2) The Court shall also hear any argument which the parties may desire to offer on the question whether, on the face of the application and of the evidence (if any) taken by the Court as herein provided, the applicant is or is not subject to any of the prohibitions specified in rule 5.

(3) The Court shall then either allow or refuse to allow the applicant to sue as a pauper.

Notes.—Defendant must be allowed to disprove pauperism in spite of Government Pleader's report to the contrary. 48 M. 700=47 M. L. J. 932=85 Ind. Cas. 20. Only such defects of form as unfavourably reflect on the merits of the application must be regarded as justifying an order refusing to allow the applicant to sue as pauper. 31 N. L. R. 386=157 Ind. Cas. 294=A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 168.

8. [S. 410.] Where the application is granted, it shall be numbered and registered, and shall be deemed the plaint in the suit, and the suit, shall proceed in all other respects as a suit instituted in the ordinary manner, except that the plaintiff shall not be liable to pay any Court-fee (other than fees payable for service of process) in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader or other proceeding connected with the suit.

Scope.—Plaintiff or appellant whose application to sue in forma pauperis has been granted has not to pay the Court fees at all. A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 342. Until the application to sue as a pauper is granted, there is no suit as such. 21 C. W. N. 870=38 Ind. Cas. 600; see also 52 Ind. Cas. 688; 65 Ind. Cas. 506=18 N. L. R. 44. Suit in case of pauper application should be regarded as instituted on the date on which the pauper application is made and the Court-fee is payable from that date. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 159=49 M. L. J. 538; see also A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 296; A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 828=53 M. 43. The application to sue in forma pauperis is a potential plaint. If it is rejected under rule 5 or rule 7 it never ripens into a plaint. If the application ripens into a plaint, then the date of institution of the suit shall relate back to the date of filing of the application to sue in forma pauperis. If, on the other hand, such an application is rejected, it cannot be deemed to be a plaint, and the payment of the Court-fee after the application to sue in forma pauperis has been rejected cannot revive a potential plaint which ceased to exist when the application for leave to sue in forma pauperis was rejected. So where an application for permission to sue in forma pauperis is rejected and a full Court-fee is paid for a suit for the same relief, the suit must be considered for the purpose of limitation to have been instituted only after the payment of the Court-fee and not at the date of the presentation of the petition to sue as pauper. A. I. R. 1937 Lab. 151. An application for review of judgment passed in a suit or appeal in forma pauperis must, under the law, be considered to be one in continuation of the suit or appeal as the case may be, which is forma pauperis. 40 C. W. N. 1407=A. I. R. 1936 Cal. 752.

9. [S. 411.] The Court may, on the application of the defendant, or of the Government pleader, of which seven days' clear notice in writing has been given to the plaintiff, order of the plaintiff to be dispaupered—

(a) if he is guilty of vexatious or improper conduct in the course of the suit;

(b) if it appears that his means are such that he ought not to continue to sue as a pauper; or

(c) if he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the suit under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter.

Scope—Heirs of pauper plaintiff, brought on record can be dispaupered. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 324=1931 M. W. N. 199 Executor can sue as pauper. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 735. Pauper application can be dismissed for the laches of the applicant in not bringing the representatives of the opposite party on record within reasonable time. A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 136=116 Ind. Cas. 111. Legal representatives cannot be dispaupered for possessing sufficient means. 48 M. L. J. 391=87 Ind. Cas. 372. Dispaupering has no retrospective effect. 48 M. L. J. 390=87 Ind. Cas. 372. Omission to state in the list of assets an insurance policy of small value is only an improper conduct. 24 Bom. L. R. 734=45 B. 1017=70 Ind. Cas. 954. Engaging an eminent pleader is no cause of dispaupering. 77 Ind. Cas. 611=4 Pat. L. T. 538. When a plaintiff has been declared a pauper, res judicata does not prevent the question from being reopened. The question can be reopened on any one of three grounds mentioned in rule 9. 149 Ind. Cas. 1004=A. I. R. 1934 All. 323. The case falls under clause (c) where there was an agreement by pauper to advance to his advocate sum of Rs. 3,500 in case of success. A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 283=6 Bur. L. J. 152. Order declaring plaintiff or pauper is not res judicata. A. I. R. 1934 All. 323. Clause (c) contemplates an agreement in and by which an interest is transferred or created in the subject-matter of the suit in favour of a person who is not entitled to it, and would not cover a case where by virtue of a family settlement between the parties there is recognition of an antecedent title in one of the parties to the suit. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 576. Rule 9 (c) must be construed as meaning that a person cannot sue as a pauper if at the time of the petition some other person has under an agreement an interest in the subject-matter of the suit. 59 M. 901=1936 M. W. N. 785=71 M. L. J. 355. For an added defendant there is nothing in Order 33, which contemplates a fresh inquiry into pauperism merely from the fact that other defendants are subsequently added to the suit. But an added defendant can apply under rule 9, for dispaupering the plaintiffs for one of the reasons given in Order 9. A. I. R. 1936 Pesh. 51=161 Ind. Cas. 51. The mere fact that the issue will be decided agreed in the suit is no reason why it should not be decided in proceeding for dispaupering. A. I. R. 1934 All. 323.

10. [S. 411.] Where the plaintiff succeeds in the suit, the Court shall Costs where pauper succeeds calculate the amount of Court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper; such amount shall be recoverable by the "Provincial Government"* from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same, and shall be a first charge on the subject-matter of the suit.

Scope and object—Object of rule 10 is clearly to facilitate the recovery by Government of Court-fee, where a pauper plaintiff has realised something from his litigation and to make Government as the first creditor of a successful pauper plaintiff. 42 M. L. J. 191=14 L. W. 529=69 Ind. Cas. 743. Under this rule two distinct rights in Crown are created, one right against the property recovered in the suit, other right against the pauper ordered to pay the decree. 50 Ind. Cas. 315=4 Pat. L. ORDER XXXIV.

Suits relating to Mortgages of Immovable Property.

1. [T. P. Act, S. 85.] Subject to the provisions of this Code, all persons having an interest either in the mortgage security or in the right of redemption shall be joined as parties to any suit relating to the mortgage.

Mortgaged security does not mean the mere lands which the mortgagor professes to mortgage. The mortgaged security means not the physical object but the interest therein which the mortgagor is competent to transfer by way of mortgage at the date of the transaction. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 198. The holder of a money-decree against the mortgagor who has obtained an order for a Receiver in execution of his decree is not a person having interest in the mortgaged property or in the right of redemption so as to make him a necessary party to a suit on mortgage under this rule. 40 C. Non-compliance with the provisions of rule 1 is not necessarily fatal to the suit to enforce a mortgage. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 1046. In a suit for redemption of a mortgage, the court may order that some of the persons interested in the property be made parties after expiry of the period of limitation, the suit being brought by the mortgagee. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 38; see also 61 C. L. J. 1935 Sind 131. Order 34, rule 1, is a rule of procedure only and is subject to the provisions of Order 1, r. 9, and there is nothing in the rule which either does or can deprive a first mortgagee of his inherent right to sue the mortgagor or the second mortgagee. 156 Ind. All the mortgagees are necessary parties and must be impleaded in a suit to enforce the mortgage. Puiusne mortgagee.—If a subsequent mortgagee is not made a party to the prior mortgagee's suit, the subsequent mortgagee gets the right to redeem the prior mortgagee, and the amount of money to which the prior mortgagee is entitled is the amount of the mortgage loan with interest at the stipulated rate of interest and not the amount of decree passed on the prior mortgagee's suit. Preliminary decree in foreclosure suit.

"2. (1) In a suit for foreclosure, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a preliminary decree—

(a) ordering that an account be taken of what was due to the plaintiff at the date of such decree for—

(i) principal and interest on the mortgage,

(ii) the costs of suit, if any, awarded to him, and

(iii) other costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by him up to that date in respect of his mortgage security, together with interest thereon ; or

(b) declaring the amount so due at that date, and

(c) directing—

(i) that, if the defendant pays into Court the amounts so found or declared due on or before such date as the Court may fix within six months from the date on which the Court confirms and countersigns the account taken under clause (a), or from the date on which such amount is declared in Court under clause (b), as the case may be, and thereafter pays such amount as may be adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges and expenses as provided in rule 10, together with subsequent interest on such sums respectively as provided in rule 11, the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant, or to such person as the defendant appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property to the defendant at his cost free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall also, if necessary, put the defendant in possession of the property; and

(ii) that, if payment of the amount found or declared due under or by the preliminary decree is not made on or before the date so fixed, or the defendant fails to pay, within such time as the Court may fix, the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest, the plaintiff shall be entitled to apply for a final decree debarring the defendant from all right to redeem the property.

(2) The Court may, on good cause shown and upon terms to be fixed by the Court, from time to time, at any time before a final decree is passed, extend the time fixed for the payment of the amount found or declared due under sub-rule (1) or of the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest.

(3) Where, in a suit for foreclosure, subsequent mortgagees or persons deriving title from, or subrogated to the rights of, any such mortgagees are joined as parties, the preliminary decree shall provide for the adjudication of the respective rights and liabilities of the parties to the suit in the manner and form set forth in Form No. 9 or Form No. 10, as the case may be, of Appendix D with such variations as the circumstances of the case may require.

N. B.—For local amendments in Bombay and Rangoon—Vide infra.

Notes.—Rules 2 to 8 have been added by Act 21 of 1929. The reason of the amendment has been thus stated by the Special Committee :—

This order relates to mortgage suits and its provisions were originally in the Transfer of Property Act (section 85 to 99), but were transferred to the Code of Civil Procedure in 1908. The amendment of the Transfer of Property Act particularly the provisions relating to mortgages, necessitates the amendment of rules 2 to 8, 10, 11 and 15 of the Order.

We propose to make the following amendments in this rule, viz :—

(1) It should be expressly stated that the decree passed under this rule is "preliminary."

(2) In clause (a) of the present rule, the Court is merely directed to take an account of what would be due to the plaintiff on account of (a) principal and interest on the mortgage and (b) the costs of the suit. Under sections 72 and 76 of principal money. Clause (a) is therefore, amended to make it clear that in taking an account sums spent by a mortgagee for necessary costs, charges and expenses in respect of the mortgage-security, together with interest thereon, must be taken into account.

(3) Clause (a) of the present rule 2 provides that the account of the sum due to the plaintiff will be taken up to the date fixed for payment in the preliminary decree. The date so fixed is to be within six months from the date of the decree. Clause (b) however, which relates to the declaration by a Court of the amount due to a mortgagee, provides that the amount due at the date of the decree is to be ascertained. The Court has to fix a date for the months, no provision is made for a mortgagee in respect of the mortgage-security subsequent to the date of the declaration or the decree. This seems anomalous. There is no reason why a mortgagee should lose subsequent costs, charges and expenses where the Court declares the amount. The scheme of Order XXXIV of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is to draw a clear distinction between a preliminary and a final decree; rule 2 is amended to make it clear that the amount to be declared or found due on taking accounts should be up to the date of the preliminary decree. The defendant will then be in a position to know what sum he has to pay in order to claim redemption. Care is taken to provide in clause (c) of sub-rule (1) of the amended rule that after tendering the amount so declared or found to be due, the defendant has to pay the amount which the Court may adjudge for subsequent interest and subsequent costs, charges and expenses. Rules 10 and 11 have been amended to empower a Court to adjudge the amount due in respect of such interest and costs.

(4) Although clause (a) of this rule refers to the date fixed for payment of the amount found to be due on taking accounts, clause (c) refers the date within six months from the date of the declaration of the amount due by the Court under clause (b). This appears to be an error. The date fixed for payment must be within six months from the date when the Court declares the amount due or, where it directs an account is to be taken from the date when such account is confirmed by the Court. Our amendment makes this clear.

(5) As the mortgagor or any other person seeking redemption has to bear all costs and expenses of the redemption, in clause (c) of sub-rule (1) it is made clear that the costs of re-conveyance or re transfer by the mortgagee on payment of the amount due by the mortgagor shall be borne by the mortgagor or such other person.

(6) The proviso to sub rule 2 to rule 3 provides for the extension of the time fixed for payment in the final decree. The power of the Court to extend the time fixed for payment is well recognised and is exercised at any time before a final decree for foreclosure is passed. The proper place for this provision is in the rule relating to the preliminary decree. The proviso is, therefore, placed in rule 2 as sub-rule (2). The expression "postpone the day" in this proviso has been replaced by the words "extend the time" to make it clear that the time can be extended even after the expiry of the period once fixed. Sub-rule (2) also makes it clear that the extension of the time fixed for payment must be subject to such terms as the Court may fix. It is not fair that after the plaintiff has obtained a decree for payment of the amount due on the mortgage and when the payment has been already postponed for six months, the plaintiff should be made to wait for payment for a further period without getting compensation. A defendant who applies for an extension of time must be put on terms before his application is granted.

(7) As clauses (a) and (b) of sub-rule (1) will provide for the extension of the amount due to a mortgagee till the date of actual payment, which may be on or before date fixed in the preliminary decree or such other date to which the time for payment may have been extended under sub-rule (2). It has been well established that the mortgagee can add to mortgage-money the amount spent by him between the passing of the preliminary decree and the final decree. (I. L. R. 41 Cal. 448).

(8) It has been held that the right of a mortgagor to redeem the mortgaged property subsists till a final decree for foreclosure is passed (I. L. R. 27 Cal. 705). Default in payment on the day originally fixed in the preliminary decree for payment or on the day to which the time for payment may have been extended by the Court does not ipso facto extinguish the mortgagor's right of redemption. It is open to a mortgagor to apply for extension of time till a final decree for foreclosure has been passed, and he can do so even after the expiry of the period once fixed (I. L. R. 39 Mad. 882 ; 28 Bom 102). In accordance with the above rulings, made, the defendant will be bound to pay the amount due, the plaintiff will have only a right to apply for a decree for foreclosure. We propose to make it clear that the right of the plaintiff to file an application arises not only when the amount adjudged due in the preliminary decree is not paid in full, but also if any portion of the sums for subsequent costs and subsequent interest remains to be paid.

(9) Rules 2-8 of Order XXXIV do not specifically provide for decrees in suits for foreclosure or sale in which, besides the mortgagor other persons who are entitled to redeem, such as subsequent mortgagees or persons subrogated to their rights, are joined as parties. This omission was sought to be remedied by providing forms for decrees in such suits—Forms Nos. 9 to 11 in Appendix D to the Code. Under Order XLVIII, rule 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, forms are not binding and can be varied by the Courts. An express provision in Order XXXIV itself is necessary to give full statutory force to the forms. As such cases will be of varied type and cannot all be anticipated, it will suffice to enact in Order XXXIV that in such cases the rights of the parties will be regulated in accordance with the forms given in the Appendix, with such variations as the circumstances of the case may require. Provisions to that effect are embodied in sub-rule (3) of rule 2 and sub-rule 3 of rule 4. In a redemption suit by a mortgagor such difficulties will not arise. Consequential amendments have been made in rules 7 and 8.

We propose to amend this rule in accordance with the alterations made in rule 2. It is expressly stated that the decree made under this rule is final. For the reasons stated in paragraph (5) above, it is made clear in this rule that the payment by the mortgagor can be made at any time till the final decree for foreclosure is actually passed. It is also made clear that on payment of the amount declared or found to be due in the preliminary decree, together with the amount due for the subsequent costs and subsequent interest, the mortgagee can on the application of the mortgagor re-transfer the mortgaged property. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, R. 50 Bom. 730. Owing to the absence of words in the original Code, the Court found it difficult to hold what article of the Code applied to the foreclosure by the mortgagor. In sub-rule (3) of rule 2, it is provided that on foreclosure the liability of the defendant, together with the costs of the suit also is discharged. The effect of this rule for foreclosure is to vest the mortgaged property absolutely in the mortgagee, and to extinguish not only the debt due on the mortgage but all liability arising in respect of the suit brought to enforce it. It is desirable that foreclosure, which is an exceptional remedy, should extinguish in toto the whole of the liability of the mortgagor.

We propose to amend this rule, which relates to a preliminary decree for sale, on the lines of rule 2. As by the amendment in the Transfer of Property Act it is proposed to allow the remedy of foreclosure only in the case of a mortgage by conditional sale and an anomalous mortgage providing the remedy of foreclosure, the power of the Court to grant the alternative relief of sale can only be exercised in the case of such an anomalous mortgage. By the very nature of the mortgage by conditional sale the Court cannot order a sale of the property. We propose to amend clause (2) by stating clearly that it applies only to an anomalous mortgage which provides for foreclosure. Sub rule (3) is added to rule 4 on the same lines as rule 2 (3). It provides for a case where, besides the mortgagor, there are other parties in a suit for sale.

It should, however, be noted that in the case of a decree for sale there is no reason why the Court should extend the time for payment. Even after the sale is held, there is an opportunity to a mortgagor to redeem before the confirmation of the sale. No necessity, therefore exists for empowering Courts to enlarge the time before passing a final decree for sale (I. L. R. 20 All 354).

Section 89 of the Transfer of Property Act, which was replaced by rule 5 of Order XXXIV, Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, contained at the end the words "and thereupon the defendant's right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished". These words gave rise to the view that an order absolute under the section had the effect of extinguishing the rights arising out of the mortgage and the mortgagor could not redeem. M. 45 I. A. 130; Matru the words quoted above corresponding rule 5 of right of a mortgagor to redeem is not extinguished by the mere passing of a final decree (42 All. 517, see also Sukhu v. Gulam Safdar, 48 I. A. 465 at p. 472). We propose to lay it down definitely that the right of a mortgagor to redeem subsists till the confirmation of the sale held in execution of the decree passed against him under rule 4 or rule 7. We have, however, made a provision for compensating the purchaser when a mortgagor seeks to redeem after the sale has taken place but before it is confirmed.

and, if necessary,—

(b) ordering him to re-transfer at the cost of the defendant the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree,

and, also, if necessary,—

(c) ordering him to put the defendant in possession of the property.

(2) Where payment in accordance with sub-rule (1) has not been made, the Court shall, on application made by the plaintiff in this behalf, pass a final decree declaring that the defendant and all persons claiming through or under him are debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property and also, if necessary, ordering the defendant to put the plaintiff in possession of the property.

(3) On the passing of a final decree under sub-rule (2), all liabilities to which the defendant is subject in respect of the mortgage or on account of the suit shall be deemed to have been discharged.

(4) Where, in a suit for sale or a suit for foreclosure in which sale is ordered, subsequent mortgagees or persons deriving title from, or subrogated to the rights of, any such mortgagees are joined as parties, the preliminary decree referred to in sub-rule (1) shall provide for the adjudication of the respective rights and liabilities of the parties to the suit in the manner and form set forth in Form No. 9, Form No. 10 or Form No. 11, as the case may be, of Appendix D with such variations as the circumstances of the case may require.

Preliminary decree in redemption suit. 7. (1) In a suit for redemption, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a preliminary decree—

(a) ordering that an account be taken of what was due to the defendant at the date of such decree for—

(i) principal and interest on the mortgage,
(ii) the cost of suit, if any, awarded to him, and
(iii) other costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by him up to that date, in respect of his mortgage security, together with interest thereon; or

(b) declaring the amount so due at that date; and

(c) directing—

(i) that, if the plaintiff pays into Court the amount so found or declared due on or before such date as the Court may fix within six months from the date on which the Court confirms and countersigns the account taken under clause (a), or from the date on which such amount is declared in Court under clause (b), as the case may be, and thereafter pays such amount as may be adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges and expenses as provided in rule 10, together with subsequent interest on such sums respectively as provided in rule 11, the defendant shall deliver up to the plaintiff, or to such person as the plaintiff appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property to the plaintiff at his cost free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the defendant or any person claiming under him, or, where, the defendant claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall also if necessary, put the plaintiff in possession of the property; and

(ii) that, if payment of the amount found or declared due under or by the preliminary decree is not made on or before the date so fixed, or the plaintiff fails to pay, within such time as the Court may fix, the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest, the defendant shall be entitled to apply for a final decree—

(a) in the case of a mortgage other than a usufructuary mortgage, a mortgage by conditional sale, or an anomalous mortgage the terms of which provide for foreclosure only and not for sale, that the mortgaged property be sold, or

(b) in the case of a mortgage by conditional sale or such an anomalous mortgage as aforesaid, that the plaintiff be debarred from all right to redeem the property.

(2) The Court may, on good cause shown and upon terms to be fixed by the Court from time to time, at any time before the passing of a final decree for foreclosure or sale, as the case may be, extend the time fixed for the payment of the amount found or declared due under sub-rule (1) or of the amount adjudged due in respect of subsequent costs, charges, expenses and interest.

In a suit on a mortgage executed by an agriculturist, accounts can be taken only upto the date of the suit. From the date of the suit an account should be taken in terms of Order 34, rule 7, C. P. Code. 154 Ind. Cas. 770=37 Bom. L. R. 76=A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 122; see also 36 Bom. L. R. 1242. 8. (1) Where, before a final decree debarring the plaintiff from all right to redeem the mortgaged property has been passed or before the confirmation of a sale held in pursuance of a final decree passed under sub-rule (3) of this rule, the plaintiff makes payment into Court of all amounts due from him under sub-rule (1) of rule 7, the Court shall, on application made by the plaintiff in this behalf, pass a final decree or, if such decree has been passed, an order—

(a) ordering the defendant to deliver up the documents referred to in the preliminary decree, and if necessary,—

(b) ordering him to re transfer at the cost of the plaintiff the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree, and, also, if necessary,—

(c) ordering him to put the plaintiff in possession of the property.

(2) Where the mortgaged property or a part thereof has been sold in pursuance of a decree passed under sub-rule (3) of this rule, the Court shall not pass an order under sub-rule (1) of this rule, unless the plaintiff, in addition to the amount mentioned in sub-rule (1), deposits in Court for payment to the purchaser a sum equal to five per cent. of the amount of the purchase-money paid into Court by the purchaser.

Where such deposit has been made, the purchaser shall be entitled to an order for repayment of the amount of the purchase-money paid into Court by him, together with a sum equal to five per cent. thereof.

(3) Where payment in accordance with sub-rule (1) has not been made, the Court shall, on application made by the defendant in this behalf,—

(a) in the case of a mortgage by conditional sale or of such an anomalous mortgage as is hereinbefore referred to in rule 7, pass a final decree declaring that the plaintiff and all persons claiming under him are debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property and, also, if necessary, ordering the plaintiff to put the defendant in possession of the mortgaged property; or

(d) in the case of any other mortgage, not being a usufructuary mortgage, pass a final decree that the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold, and the proceeds of the sale (after deduction therefrom of the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what is found due to the defendant, and the balance, if any, be paid to the plaintiff or other persons entitled to receive the same.

A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 353=58 M. L. J. 207.

8A. Where the net proceeds of any sale held under the last preceding rule are found insufficient, to pay the amount due to the defendant, the Court, on application by him, may, if the balance is legally recoverable from the plaintiff otherwise than out of the property sold, pass a decree for such balance.

Notes.—Order 34, rule 8A, does not apply to usufructuary mortgages. A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 40=9 O. W. N. 1059.

9. [A. I. R.] Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained if it appears, upon taking the account referred to in rule 7, that nothing is due to the defendant or that he has been overpaid, the Court shall pass a decree directing the defendant, if so required, to re-transfer the property and to pay to the plaintiff the amount which may be found due to him; and the plaintiff shall, if necessary, be put in possession of the mortgaged property.

Notes.—Suit for redemption is also suit for surplus profit due to mortgagor. 60 M. L. J. 698=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 479; see also A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 337=31 Bom. L. R. 476.

10. In finally adjusting the amount to be paid to a mortgagee in case of a foreclosure, sale or redemption, the Court shall, unless in the case of costs of the suit, the conduct of the mortgagee has been such as to disentitle him thereto, and to the mortgage money such costs of the suit and other costs, charges and expenses as have been properly incurred by him since the date of the preliminary decree for foreclosure, sale or redemption up to the time of actual payment.

Scope.—Rule 10 in effect makes a mortgaged property liable for amount of costs in the first instance. 93 Ind. Cas. 224=A. I. R. 1925 All. 343. Rule 10 relates to costs that have been incurred by mortgagee since the passing of the preliminary decree. A. I. R. 1926 All. 722=48 A. W. N. 398. Where mortgagee to redeem it, it is subject to A. I. Costs including costs of appeal, form part of the decretal amount and are realisable in the first instance by the sale of mortgaged property. 48 Ind. Cas. 329.

11. In any decree passed in a suit for foreclosure, sale or redemption, where interest is legally recoverable, the Court may order payment of interest to the mortgagee as follows, namely:—

Payment of interest.

(a) interest upto the date on or before which payment of the amount found or declared due is under the preliminary decree to be made by the mortgagor or other person redeeming the mortgage—

(i) on the principal amount found or declared due on the mortgage,—at the rate payable on the principal, or where no such rate is fixed, at such rate as the Court deems reasonable,

(ii) on the amount of the costs of the suit awarded to the mortgagee,—at such rate as the Court deems reasonable from the date of preliminary decree, and

(iii) on the amount adjudged due to the mortgagee for costs, charges and expenses properly incurred by the mortgagee in respect of the mortgage-security upto the date of the preliminary decree and added to the mortgage-money— at the rate agreed between the parties, or, failing such rate, at the same rate as is payable on the principal, or failing both such rates, at nine per cent. per annum ; and

(d) subsequent interest upto the date of realization or actual payment at such rate as the Court deems reasonable—

(i) on the aggregate of the principal sums specified in clause (a) and of the interest thereon as calculated in accordance with that clause ; and

(ii) on the amount adjudged due to the mortgagee in respect of such further costs, charges and expenses as may be payable under rule 10.

Scope—Bond rate of interest till date of realization or actual payment. A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 232=13 declared due on the mortgage" was interest. Mortgagee is entitled to 1933 Oudh 128=10 O. W. N. Civil Procedure, the lower Court w tract rate on the principal amount for the payment. Ibid. Interest ceases from the date of deposition money in Court and not from the date of its removal by the decree-holder. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 126. The presumption is that where a mortgage-deed is executed the parties contemplate the possibility that payment may not be made at the time when the parties becomes due. If the deed contains the date, the presumption arises that fixed after that date. R. 349 As regards the period subsequent to the date fixed for payment the award of interest even at the Court rate is not obligatory. Though ordinarily the Court will award interest for that period at the Court rate, it has in proper cases, a discretion to refuse interest altogether i. e., even at the Court rate. 59 C. 72=A. I. R. 1932 Cal 689. The words "on the principal amount found or declared due" in clause (a) sub-clause (i) of rule 11 refer not only to the principal sum secured by the mortgage deed but also to the amount due on account of interest which has become a part of principal in accordance with the terms of the deed on the date when the preliminary decree was prepared. The mortgagee is therefore entitled to interest on the principal sum and on the interest due, which has become part of the principal at the contract rate, from the date of the suit till the date fixed for payment, if the mortgage-deed provides it. A. I. R. 1937 All. 442. Order 34, rule 11, embodies the principle that interest after it becomes due shall be added to the principal money and the aggregate amount so found due shall be decreed to the mortgagee. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 473=11 O. W. N. 1141=151 Ind. Cas 856 The words "principal amount" as used in sub-clause means the principal money secured by the deed of mortgage and interest which has accrued due before the suit cannot be regarded as part of the principal money. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 263=154 Ind. Cas. 45 ; see also A. I. R. 1933 Oudh 128=8 Luck. 315. Interest on the amount of costs of the suit can be awarded only from the date of the preliminary decree, and not during the pendency of the suit. Ibid. The usual rate of future interest after date fixed for payment is 6 per cent. per annum. Ibid. Order 34, rules 2 and 4, deals respectively with a decree in a mortgage suit for foreclosure and for sale, and the words used in the rules seem to infer that the question of interest upto the date of the decree is one which is not within the discretion of the Court. But Order 34, rule 11, dealing with interest after the decree is clearly a matter within the discretion of the Court, as the word used there is "may." A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 98=14 Pat. 400=156 Ind. Cas. 290=16 Pat. L. T. 579. Words "on the principal amount found or declared due" in Order 34, rule 11 (a) (i), refer not only to principal sum but also the amount due on interest which has become part of principal. A. I. R. 1937 All. 442.

12. [T. P. Act, S. 96.] Where any property, the sale of which is directed under this Order is subject to a prior mortgage, the Court may, with the consent of the prior mortgagee, direct that the property be sold free from the same, giving to such prior mortgagee the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold.

Scope.—Without the consent of the prior mortgagee the property cannot be sold free from the prior encumbrance. 47 C. 662 (P. C.)=25 C. W. N. 417; see also A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 1063=130 Ind. Cas. 49; A. I. R. 1934 All. 73. Where subsequent mortgagee impleads prior mortgagee but does not challenge prior mortgage prior mortgagee's failure to plead his own mortgage as defence does not bar suit to enforce his mortgage against subsequent mortgagee. 55 Ind. Cas. 956. This rule does not regulate the power of the Court in a merely incidental inquiry. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 100. The Court the power of directing a sale on conditions prescribed in that rule viz., directed under Order 34, and there must be the consent of the prior mortgagee. When these conditions are fulfilled, the Court has full power in its discretion to direct the sale free from the prior mortgage. This does not require that the consent of the plaintiff is necessary or of any other person besides the prior mortgagee. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 453=1935 M. W. N. 389. But a prior mortgagee can himself make an application under this rule. It is only the decree-holder in the suit who alone can make an application. If the prior mortgagee agrees, a provision is to be made for the prior mortgagee's interest to be paid off first from the sale proceeds. But the plaintiff in the suit or entitle him to execute the decree or to have the mortgaged property sold. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 660=68 M. L. J. 738=1935 M. W. N. 306=41 L. W. 565.

13. [T. P. Act, S. 97.] (1) Such proceeds shall be brought into Court and applied as follows:—

first, in payment of all expenses incident to the sale or properly incurred in any attempted sale;

secondly, in payment of whatever is due to the prior mortgagee on account of the prior mortgage, and of costs, properly incurred in connection therewith;

thirdly, in payment of all interest due on account of the mortgage in consequence whereof the sale was directed, and of the costs of the suit in which the decree directing the sale was made;

fourthly, in payment of the principal money due on account of that mortgage; and lastly, the residue (if any) shall be paid to the person proving himself to be interested in the property sold, or if there are more such persons than one, then to such persons according to their respective interests therein or upon their joint receipt.

(2) Nothing in this rule or in rule 12 shall be deemed to affect the powers conferred by section 57 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.*

Scope.—Surplus assets after an auction sale should not be paid out to a subsequent incumbrancer otherwise than with mortgagor's consent. A. I. R. 1927 All. 467=25 A. L. J. 390=49 A. 636. Mortgagee is not entitled to share in surplus sale proceeds if his final decree of sale is barred by time. 22 A. L. J. 825=83 Ind. Cas. 1033. This rule does not apply to the case of a surety who is made liable for interest under the mortgage decree. This rule is meant to regulate the position, as between the mortgagor and mortgagee and to protect the position of the mortgagee. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 334.

14. [T. P. Act, S. 99.] (1) Where a mortgagee has obtained a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage, he shall not be entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale otherwise than by instituting a suit for sale in enforcement of the mortgage, and he may institute such suit notwithstanding anything contained in Order II, rule 2.

(2), Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall apply to any territories to which the Transfer of Property Act, 1882,* has not been extended.

Scope.—Rule 14 does not apply where charge is created by decree itself. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 147; see also A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 327. The opening words of rule 14 only mean that the decree should relate to the payment of the money in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage, i. e., a mortgage independent of the decree. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 147=30 N. L. R. 325=150 Ind. Cas. 492. Where a money decree is ordered to be paid in instalments on the judgment-debtor executing a security bond, the satisfaction of the decree and instalments, the hypothecated property can suit is not necessary. A. I. R. 1936

Where a usufructuary mortgagee, who has leased the property to the mortgagor obtains a decree against the mortgagor for arrears of rent, the arrears of rent in respect of which the decree is passed present in substance the usufruct of the mortgaged property and the decree is a decree which the mortgagee has obtained for payment of money in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage. That being so, he cannot by reason of provisions of Order 34, rule 14, attach the property and put the same up for sale. A. I. R. 1936 All. 708=1936 A. L. J. 708=162 Ind. Cas. 402. This rule does not apply to consent decrees, because the mortgagor can waive the benefit of the rule. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 129=157 Ind. Cas. 292. This rule is really intended to create a prohibition to the mortgagee securing the sale of the mortgaged property without first bringing a suit for the sale thereof. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 672 (F. B.)=37 P. L. R. 816=16 Lah. 640. But when a suit is brought on a mortgage on joint-family property executed by the mortgagor, the mortgagee can bring to sale the equity of redemption of the mortgaged property in execution of a simple money decree obtained by him on account of land revenue which he has had to pay to save the property. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 438. A mere averment in the plaint that the mortgagee has surrendered the mortgage security does not extinguish the mortgagee's rights, and as such he is debarred from executing a money-decree against the mortgaged property. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 132=13 Rang. 292. Where a charge is created in the decree on specified properties for payment of decretal amount, the decree can be executed and the property charged sold and so separate suit is necessary. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 129=157 Ind. Cas. 292. Money decree-holder may bring to sale property comprised in security bond without bringing suit on basis of security bond. A. I. R. 1934 All. 524. Maintenance decree creating charge does not come within rule 14. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 83. Award by Registrar Co-operative Societies, directing sale of mortgaged property does not militate against rule 14. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 211. Where compromise is silent as to how hypothecated property is to be sold, rule 14 applies. 54 A. 763=1932 A. L.

ORDER XXXV.

Interpleader.

1. [S. 471.] In every suit of interpleader the plaintiff shall, in addition to the other statements necessary for plaints, state—

(a) that the plaintiff claims no interest in the subject-matter in dispute other than for charges or costs ;

(b) the claims made by the defendants severally,

(c) that there is no collusion between the plaintiff and any of the defendants.

Notes—Where the preliminary decree is passed in an interpleader suit it becomes to all intents and purposes a partition suit. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 988=60 M. L. J. 79.

2. [S. 472.] Where the thing claimed is capable of being paid into Court or placed in the custody of the Court, the plaintiff may be required to so pay or place it before he can be entitled to any order in the suit.

3. [S. 476.] Where any of the defendants in an interpleader suit is actually suing, the plaintiff in respect of the subject-matter of such suit, the Court in which the suit against the plaintiff is pending shall, on being informed, by the Court in which the interpleader suit has been instituted, stay the proceedings as against him ; and his costs in the suit so stayed may be provided for in such suit ; but if, and in so far as, they are not provided for in that suit, they may be added to his costs incurred in the interpleader suit.

4. [S. 473, R. S. C. O. 57, r. 7.] (1) At the first hearing the Court may—

(a) declare that the plaintiff is discharged from all liability to the defendants in respect of the thing claimed, award him his costs, and dismiss him from the suit ; or

(b) if it thinks that justice or convenience so require, retain all parties until the final disposal of the suit.

(2) Where the Court finds that the admissions of the parties or other evidence enable it to do so, it may adjudicate the title to the thing claimed.

(3) Where the admissions of the parties do not enable the Court so to adjudicate, it may direct—

7. [S. 537.] Save as provided by this Order, the procedure in suits hereunder shall be the same as the procedure in suits instituted in the ordinary manner.

ORDER XXXVIII.

Arrest and Attachment before Judgment.

Arrest before Judgment.

1. [Ss. 477, 478.] Where at any stage of a suit, other than a suit of the nature referred to in section 16, clauses (a) to (d), the Court is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise,—

Where defendant may be called upon to furnish security for appearance.

(a) that the defendant, with intent to delay the plaintiff, or to avoid any process of the Court or to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him,—

(i) has absconded or left the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court; or

(ii) is about to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court; or

(iii) has disposed of or removed from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof, or

(b) that the defendant is about to leave British India under circumstances affording reasonable probability that the plaintiff will or may thereby be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against the defendant in the suit, the Court may issue a warrant to arrest the defendant and bring him before the Court to show cause why he should not furnish security for his appearance:

Provided that the defendant shall not be arrested if he pays to the officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant any sum specified in the warrant as sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's claim; and such sum shall be held in deposit by the Court until the suit is disposed of or until the further order of the Court.

Scope.—Where warrant has been taken under rule 1, amount of security to be furnished is the amount mentioned in the warrant. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 732=56 C. 700. Court should exercise powers under Order 38, after satisfying that plaintiff's case is prima facie an unimpeachable subject to his proving plain allegations and there must be reason to believe that unless the jurisdiction is exercised there is a real danger that the defendant will remove himself from the ambit of the powers of the Court. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 884=50 Mad. 27; see also 4 Lah. L. J. 423. Sale must be in fraud of creditors. 35 C. W. N. 46=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 730. Provincial Small Cause Court has no power to attach immovable property before judgment. 28 C. W. N. 16. The power of Court to issue simultaneous execution for arrest and attachment is entirely discretionary. 84 Ind. Cas. 270. Attachment before judgment does not rank in the same position as an attachment after judgment. 3 Pat. 250=83 Ind. Cas. 413.

2. [S. 479.] (1) Where the defendant fails to show such cause the Court shall order him either to deposit in Court money or other property sufficient to answer the claim against him, or to furnish security for his appearance at any time when called upon while the suit is pending and until satisfaction of any decree that may be passed against him in the suit, or make such order as it thinks fit in regard to the sum which may have been paid by the defendant under the proviso to the last preceding rule.

(2) Every surety for the appearance of a defendant shall bind himself, in default of such appearance, to pay any sum of money which the defendant may be ordered to pay in the suit.

Scope.—Security under rule 2 is for defendant's appearance at any time when called upon while the suit is pending and until satisfaction of any decree that may be passed against him in the suit. If decree has been passed, defendant would be bound to satisfy the decree and satisfaction thereof. 70 Ind. Cas. 127; A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 818; 355=49 Ind. Cas. 20. Claimant whose deposited money is subject to the lien of objection has been disallowed is at liberty to bring a suit under Order 21, rule 63 within period prescribed by Art. 11 of the Limitation Act. 47 Ind. Cas. 1000=35 M. L. J. 231.

3. [S. 480.] (1) A surety for the appearance of a defendant may at any time apply to the Court in which he became such surety to be discharged from his obligation.

(2) On such application being made, the Court shall summon the defendant to appear or, if it thinks fit, may issue a warrant for his arrest in the first instance.

(3) On the appearance of the defendant in pursuance of the summons or warrant, or on his voluntary surrender, the Court shall direct the surety to be discharged from his obligation, and shall call upon the defendant to find fresh security.

Scope.—A surety in case of arrest before judgment can get a discharge under rule 3. But surety for due performance cannot be granted discharge. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 435=30 P. L. R. 130; see also A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 190=31 Bom. L. R. 225. A surety is not discharged even the judgment-debtor is adjudged insolvent. A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 184=6 Rang. 241. Obligation of surety continues even though the parties to the suit entered into a compromise on the strength of which a decree is passed. 43 M. 272=53 Ind. Cas. 367; see also A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 184=6 Rang. 241. Order of arrest under rule 3 is illegal. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 153=30 P. L. R. 147.

4. [S. 481.] Where the defendant fails to comply with any order under rule 2 or rule 3, the Court may commit him to the civil prison until the decision of the suit or where a decree is passed against the defendant, until the decree has been satisfied :

Procedure where defendant fails to furnish security or find fresh security.

Provided that no person shall be detained in prison under this rule in any case for a longer period than six months, nor for a longer period than six weeks when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit does not exceed fifty rupees :

Provided also that no person shall be detained in prison under this rule after he has complied with such order.

Attachment before Judgement.

5. [Ss. 483, 484.] Where, at any stage of the suit, the Court is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise, that the defendant, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him,—

(a) is about to dispose of the whole or any part of his property, or

(b) is about to remove the whole or any part of his property from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, the Court may direct the defendant, within a time to be fixed by it, either to furnish security, in such sum as may be specified in the order, to produce and place at the disposal of the Court, when required, the said property or the value of the same, or such portion thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree, or to appear and show cause why he should not furnish security.

(2) The plaintiff shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, specify the property required to be attached and the estimated value thereof.

(3) The Court may also in the order direct the conditional attachment of the whole or any portion of the property so specified.

Scope.—Under rule 5 attachment before judgment can be of property within or without the jurisdiction of the Court. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 330=27 P. L. R. 144 ; A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 376 ; A. I. R. 1926 B. 278 ; A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 279 This rule does not contemplate attachment of property already disposed of. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 772. The provision of rule 5 can only be invoked if the Court is satisfied that the property is about to be disposed of wholly or partly A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 808 ; see also A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 172 ; 73 Ind. Cas. 721=5 Pat. L. T. 124. It is essential that the plaintiff must make out a prima facie case before any attachment before judgment or an injunction can be granted. The Court must be satisfied that interference is necessary to prevent injury which is irreparable, and that the mischief or inconvenience likely to arise in consequence of refusal will be greater than that from granting it. Neither an attachment nor an injunction should be lightly granted. It would be serious if persons in possession were restrained from making use of their property—merely because a suit has been instituted against them. It is only where it is essential that the property should be kept in its existing condition pending the suit that the Court should interfere under Order 38, rule 5 (1) or under Order 39 rule 1. 38 C. 8. [S. 487.] Where any claim is preferred to property attached before judgment, such claim shall be investigated in the manner hereinbefore provided for the investigation of claims to property attached in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

Scope.—Attachment before judgment of debt is not injunction nor objection to such attachment that debt did not exist is one under O. 38, rule 8. A. I. R. 1933 All. 481. Release of property from attachment under rule 8 does not determine ownership. 41 M. 23=39 Ind. Cas. 863. Although claims to property attached before judgment should be investigated, if made, according to the procedure laid down by Order 21, rule 58, it does not follow that a person who has a claim to such property is bound to make an objection before the decree; and a claim preferred within a reasonable time after the decree and application for execution is not "designedly or unnecessarily delayed" within the meaning of proviso to Order 21, rule 58, Civil Procedure Code. It is not therefore necessary for any person who has a claim to property attached before judgment to prefer a claim, though he may do so if he wishes to do so under the provisions of Order 38, rule 8. 31 N. L. R. 426=158 Ind. Cas. 353=A. I. R. 1935 Nag 222.

Possession of Receiver.—Receiver is not agent of judgment-creditor. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 4. The object of appointing a receiver is the safeguarding of property for the benefit of those entitled to it. Stay of Proceedings and of Execution.

5. [S. 545.] (1) An appeal shall not operate as a stay of proceedings under a decree or order appealed from except so far as the appellate Court may order, nor shall execution of a decree be stayed by reason only of an appeal having been preferred from the decree; but the appellate Court may for sufficient cause order stay of execution of such decree.

(2) Where an application is made for stay of execution of an appealable decree before the expiration of the time allowed for appealing therefrom, the Court which passed the decree may on sufficient cause being shown order the execution to be stayed.

(3) No order for stay of execution shall be made under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) unless the Court making it is satisfied—

(a) that substantial loss may result to the party applying for stay of execution unless the order is made ;

(b) that the application has been made without unreasonable delay ; and

(c) that security has been given by the applicant for the due performance of such decree or order as may ultimately be binding upon him.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (3), the Court may make an ex parte order for stay of execution pending the hearing of the application.

A case decided on a wrong view of s. 107 and s. 108 of the Evidence Act should be remanded to the Court, as a case of wrong disposal on preliminary point. 22 Bom. L. R. 771=57 Ind. Cas. 525. No remand is justifiable where plaintiff fails to prove documents. A. I. R. 1937 Lah. 454. Where a trial Court disposes of a suit completely on merits the Appellate Court is not justified under rule 23 to direct remand upon grounds which do not arise from the pleadings. 119 Ind. Cas. 2. A preliminary point when determined in favour of the plaintiff, permits the progress of the suit, but when determined against him concludes it. A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 295=128 Ind. Cas. 407. A preliminary point must be decided as a preliminary point at the earliest stage of the

Where Court appears to have decided every issue, the fact that its decision on a preliminary point covers the decision on the remaining points does not justify its being held that the decision was only on a preliminary point. A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 97=74 Ind. Cas. 582. A preliminary point within the meaning of Order 41, rule 23, is any point the decision of which avoids the necessity for the full hearing of the suit. 151 Ind. Where a case has been decided by the lower Court wholly on merits and not on any preliminary point, the case must be remanded by the Appellate Court under rule 25 and not under rule 23. 151 Ind. Cas. 493=36 P. L. R. 269=A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 576. R. 1936 Nag. 8. Where the Judge of an Appellate Court allows an appeal on a preliminary point of law which necessitates the remand of the suit for further trial or retrial of the suit he should refrain from making any remarks in his judgment. Concerning the merits of the claim, as by so doing, he must necessarily prejudice the further trial or new trial on remand. A. I. R. 1936 Rang. 251=163 Ind. Cas. 397. This rule is applicable where a Court decides a case on a preliminary point. A. I. R. 1935 Rang. 123.

While Order 41, rule 33, C. P. Scope of the rule.—We suggest that there should be appeals from orders pronouncing judgment against a party under Order VIII, r. 10; Order X, r. 4 and Or. XVI, r. 20. These orders are under the present law appealable as orders of judgment. they would not them appealable de under rule 21 of Order XLI. Report of the Select Committee. There can be no doubt that the right of appeal is a creature of statute, and when such right is expressly conferred by the statute, there is no right of appeal. A. I. R. 1935 Cal. 485=63 C. L. J. 277=40 C. W. N. 992. Section 104 of the C. P. Code conferred a right of appeal only in respect of orders specified in that section or in Order 43, rule 1. 58 M. 814=157 Ind. Cas. 1012=1935 M. W. N. 582=41 L. W. 811=A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 609=69 M. Clause (a).—An order under rule 10 of Order VII by a Court of first instance returning a plaint to be presented to the proper Court is appealable under this order. 2 A. 357 ; 4 A. 478, 53 Ind. Clause (c).—Where on dismissal of a suit for default of appearance, the plaintiff applied for restoration of the suit, and his application for restoration was dismissed for non-prosecution, the order of dismissal of the application is one under Order 9, rule 9 and an appeal therefore lies against that order to the District Judge under this sub-rule. 1936 A. ORDER XLV.

Appeals to the King in Council.

1. [S. 594.] In this Order, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context, the expression "decree" shall include a final order.

Notes.—Where review application to the High Court against its own judgment was successful and application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council in forma pauperis was made, no order on the latter application is necessary. But where the order of review was set aside the Privy Council's original application for leave to appeal was still alive A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 225=77 Ind. Cas. 869.

Application to Court whose decree complained of. 2. [S. 598.] Whoever desires to appeal to His Majesty in Council shall apply by petition to the Court whose decree is complained of.

(2) Upon receipt of such petition, the Court shall direct notice to be served on the opposite party to show cause why the said certificate should not be granted.

(2) On receiving the record and statement, the High Court may order the Court either to proceed with the suit or to return the plaint for presentation to such other Court as it may in its order declare to be competent to take cognizance of the suit.

Notes.—Where a plaint was returned by Munsiff to the Small Cause Court which was again returned to the Munsiff's Court as being cognizable by it, Subordinate Court ought to have referred the matter to the High Court under Order XLVI or if he had no doubt he should have sent the record to the District Judge for necessary action under r. 7. 21 C. 7. [S. 646B] (1) Where it appears to a District Court that a Court subordinate thereto has, by reason of erroneously holding a suit to be cognizable by a Court of Small Causes or not to be so cognizable, failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law, or exercised a jurisdiction not so vested, the Power to District Court to submit for revision proceedings had under mistake as to jurisdiction in small causes.

District Court may, and if required by a party shall, submit the record to the High Court with a statement of its reasons for considering the opinion of the Subordinate Court with respect to the nature of the suit to be erroneous.

(2) On receiving the record and statement the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

(3) With respect to any proceedings subsequent to decree in any case submitted to the High Court under this rule, the High Court may make such order as in the circumstances appears to it to be just and proper.

(4) A Court subordinate to a District Court shall comply with any requisition which the District Court may make for any record or information for the purposes of this rule.

N. B.—For local amendments in Allahabad, Bombay and Oudh.—Vide infra.

Notes.—Where plaint is returned by two Courts the remedy of the applicant is to make an application to the District Judge under the provisions of this rule. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 221=145 Ind. Cas. 261; see also 17 N. L. J. 169=A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 257.

ORDER XLVII.

Review.

1. [S. 623.] (1) Any person considering himself aggrieved—
Application for review of judgment.

(a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed, but from which no appeal has been preferred,

(b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed, or

(c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, and who, from the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed or order made, or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record, or for any other sufficient reason, desires to obtain a review of the decree passed or order made against him, may apply for a review of judgment to the Court which passed the decree or made the order.

(2) A party who is not appealing from a decree or order may apply for a review of judgment notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by some other party except where the ground of such appeal is common to the applicant and the appellant or when, being respondent, he can present to the Appellate Court the case on which he applies for the review.

Scope.—Review can only be granted on grounds set out in order 47. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 229. Consent decree cannot be set aside on ground of fraud under order 47. 144 Ind. Cas. 82. Nor is the fact of the Courts adopting a different view of the law after an order has been made in general, a good ground for allowing a review of such an order after the time for a review has elapsed. A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 385=72 Ind. Cas. 588. Dismissal for default under Order IX, rule 8, is good ground for review. 9 L. W. 311=50 Ind. Cas. 327=37 M. L. J. 59. That if second opportunity be given applicant would satisfy Court that its first order was wrong is no good reason for review. 57 Ind. Cas. 145. The Commissioner has no power to "review" under s. 151, or Order XLVII, r. 1. He may on proper grounds re-open the inquiry into any of the items. Until his report is made he decides nothing final and conclusive. But he must have proper grounds for re-opening enquiry into any item, grounds similar to the provisions of rule 1, that rule being the best grounds in a matter of this kind. If he re-opens the enquiry on the grounds which are not proper the party aggrieved can object only by means of exceptions to this report. A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 231=25 Bom. L. R. 280=47 B. 593=82 Ind. 4. [S. 509.] (1) Where the reference is to two or more arbitrators, provision shall be made in the order for a difference of opinion among the arbitrators—

- (a) by the appointment of an umpire; or
- (b) by declaring that, if the majority of the arbitrators agree, the decision of the majority shall prevail; or

- (d) otherwise as may be agreed between the parties or, if they cannot agree, as the Court may determine.

(2) Where an umpire is appointed, the Court shall fix such time as it thinks reasonable for the making of his award in case he is required to act.

Order of reference on agreements to refer.

17. [S. 523.] (1) Where any persons agree in writing that any difference between them shall be referred to arbitration, the parties to the agreement, or any of them, may apply to any Court having jurisdiction in the matter to which the agreement relates, that the agreement be filed in Court.

(2) The application shall be in writing and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between one or more of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiff or plaintiffs and the others or other of them as defendants or defendant, if the application has been presented by all the parties, or, if otherwise, between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants.

(3) On such application being made the Court shall direct notice thereof to be given to all the parties to the agreement, other than the applicants, requiring such parties to show cause, within the time specified in the notice, why the agreement should not be filed.

(4) Where no sufficient cause is shown, the Court shall order the agreement to be filed, and shall make an order of reference to the arbitrator appointed in accordance with the provisions of the agreement or, if there is no such provision and the parties cannot agree, the Court may appoint an arbitrator.

Scope.—The scope of this para is no more than this : that where an agreement of reference to arbitration has been entered into by the parties but the arbitrators have not so far functioned, the Court has power to enforce to agreement against the parties where the arbitrators are ready and willing to act in terms of the reference. Para 17, far from implying an ouster of jurisdiction, predicates that the arbitrators have the jurisdiction to act on the reference and the Court should step in and ask them to exercise their powers as arbitrators if they are agreeable to do so. 1932 A. L. J. 331=137 Ind. Cas. 193=A. I. R. 1932 All 348=A. L. R. 1932 A 727. This para and the subsequent paras refer to cases where the parties agree in writing to refer to arbitration any difference between them independently of the Court. A proceeding under this para does not commence with a plaint. Sub-para (2) of para 17, however, provides that an application to file in Court an agreement to refer to arbitration shall be numbered and registered as a suit between one or more of the parties interested or claiming to be interested as plaintiff or plaintiffs, and others or other of them as defendant or defendants. This provision does not convert the application into a suit for all purposes. When the law says that the application shall be numbered and registered as a suit it implies that it is not in fact a suit. If it were really a suit, it must proprio vigore have all the attributes of a suit; and it would be wholly redundant to enact that it shall be numbered and

20. [S. 525.] (1) Where any matter has been referred to arbitration without the intervention of a Court, and an award has been made thereon, any person interested in the award may apply to any Court having jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the award that the award be filed in Court.

(2) The application shall be in writing and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as a plaintiff and the other parties as defendants.

(3) The Court shall direct notice to be given to the parties to the arbitration, other than the applicant requiring them to show cause, within a time specified, why the award should not be filed

Scope.—This para enables parties who have agreed to refer their differences to arbitration and have obtained an award to have that award filed in Court. 27 A. 53 = 1 A. L. J. 398. Upon an application made to Court under this para, the Court has jurisdiction to and is bound to, enquire into the question whether the parties had or had not referred the matter in question to arbitration. This para does not lay down that no award shall be binding upon the parties unless filed in Court, nor is there anything in them to bar a regular suit on the basis of an award which has never been filed in Court. This para is purely optional and is intended to allow parties to arbitration awards to avail themselves of a summary procedure for obtaining the sanction of a decree of a Court for such under a private agreement without the intervention of a Court, to order the award to be filed and to a mere denial of the difference. 29 C. 278 = an award notice must R. 1934 Bom. 6 = 35
